Introduction to San Bernardino County

Social

San Bernardino County (the “County” or “SBC” is one of the largest counties in the United States, with a population of over two million people. The County's social services system provides its residents with a wide range of services, including assistance with food, housing, healthcare, employment, and child welfare.

In recent years, San Bernardino County has faced several social service challenges, including high poverty and homelessness rates. In response to these challenges, the County has taken several steps to improve its social services system, including increasing funding for programs that address poverty and homelessness and expanding mental health services.

The social services landscape in San Bernardino County has undergone significant changes over the last decade, as the County has worked to address the complex social and economic challenges facing its residents. The County has increased its use of data analytics and technology to improve service delivery and streamline operations.

Geographical

San Bernardino County is in the southern part of California, in the United States. It is the largest county in the United States, with an area of approximately 20,105 square miles (52,071 square kilometers). The County is bordered by several other counties in California, including Los Angeles County and Orange County to the west, Kern County to the west, Inyo County to the north, and Riverside County to the south and west. The County also shares a border with the state of Nevada to the northeast and Arizona to the east.

The size of the County cannot be understated when considering the vast area, the County must cover to serve its clients. If San Bernardino County were a state, it would be the 42nd largest state and larger than the nine smallest states plus the District of Columbia combined!

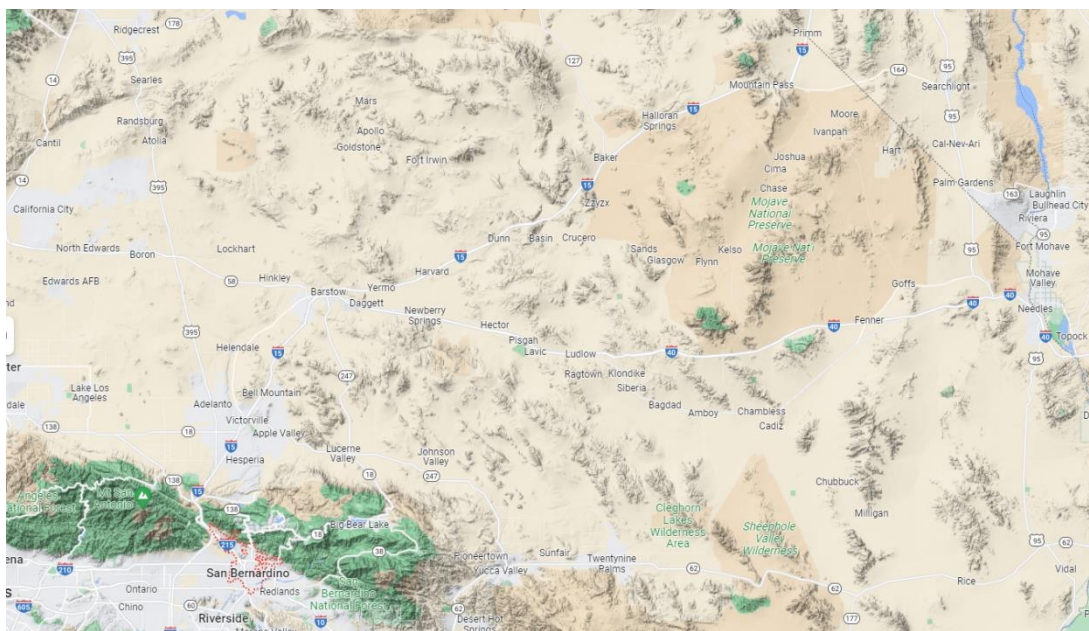

San Bernardino County has a diverse topography that presents various challenges. Some of the topographical challenges of San Bernardino County include:

1. Mountains: San Bernardino County has several mountain ranges, including the San Bernardino Mountains and the San Gabriel Mountains. These mountainous areas can present challenges for transportation and infrastructure development.
2. Deserts: A sizable portion of San Bernardino County is covered by the Mojave Desert, known for its extreme temperatures and arid climate. This presents challenges for water management and agricultural development.
3. Fault lines: San Bernardino County is in a seismically active region and is home to several major fault lines, including the San Andreas Fault. This presents challenges for infrastructure development and emergency management.

4. Wildfires: San Bernardino County is at risk for wildfires due to its dry climate and mountainous terrain. This presents challenges for firefighting and emergency management.
5. Floods: San Bernardino County is also at risk for flash floods, particularly in areas near mountain ranges or desert washes. This presents challenges for emergency management and infrastructure development.

These topographical challenges require careful planning and management to ensure the safety and well-being of residents in San Bernardino County.

As can be seen, these challenges can make traversing the County a very time-consuming process.

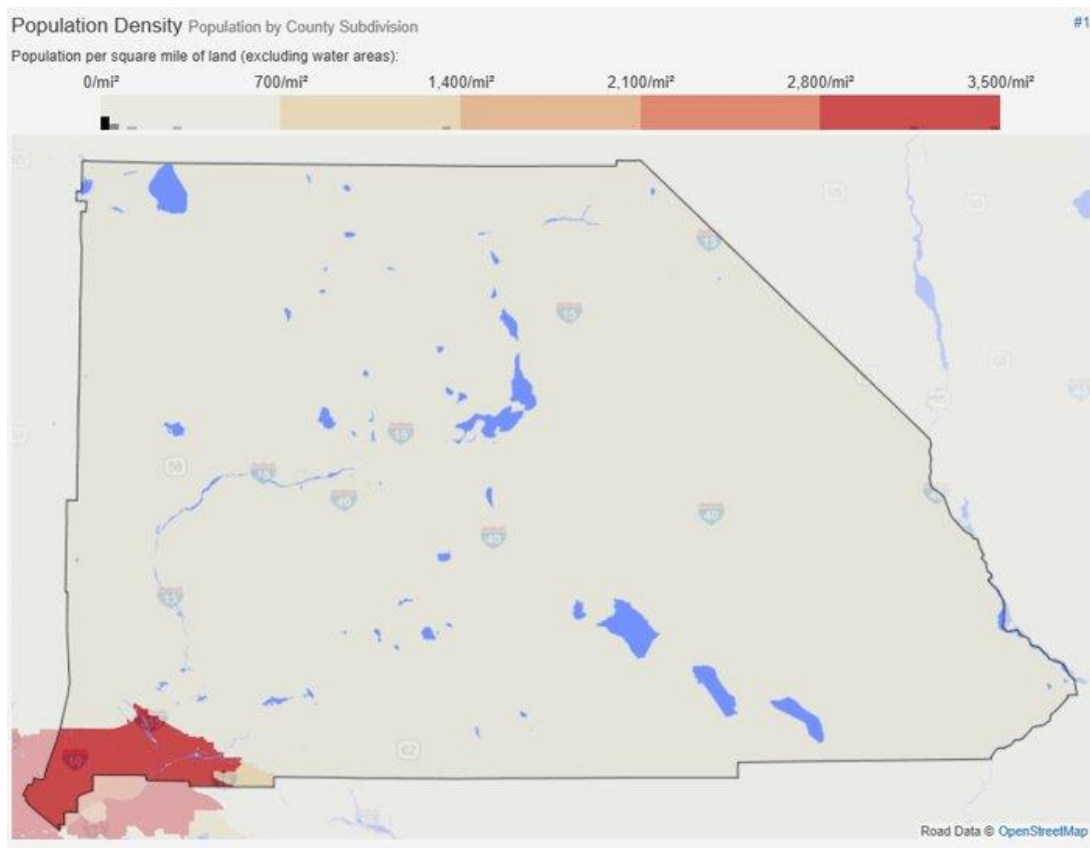

This topography and unbelievable size can lead to the following commute times to work within the County.

- San Bernardino to Fontana: ten miles, 15-20 minutes
- San Bernardino to Rancho Cucamonga: thirteen miles, 20-25 minutes
- San Bernardino to Ontario: twenty miles, 25-30 minutes
- San Bernardino to Redlands: ten miles, 15-20 minutes
- San Bernardino to Needles: 212 miles, 3 hours - 3 hours 45 minutes (depending on traffic and route)
- Fontana to Rancho Cucamonga: seven miles, 10-15 minutes
- Fontana to Ontario: nine miles, 15-20 minutes
- Fontana to Redlands: sixteen miles, 20-25 minutes
- Fontana to Needles: 211 miles, 3 hours 15 minutes - 3 hours 45 minutes (depending on traffic and route)

- Rancho Cucamonga to Ontario: seven miles, 10-15 minutes
- Rancho Cucamonga to Redlands: twenty-five miles, 30-35 minutes
- Rancho Cucamonga to Needles: 216 miles, 3 hours 15 minutes - 3 hours 45 minutes (depending on traffic and route)
- Ontario to Redlands: twenty-five miles, 30-35 minutes
- Ontario to Needles: 221 miles, 3 hours 45 minutes (depending on traffic and route)
- Redlands to Needles: 212 miles, 3 hours 20 minutes (depending on traffic and route)
- Yucca Valley to San Bernardino: 40 Miles, 45 minutes – 1 Hour 30 Minutes
- Yucca Valley to Victorville: 70 miles, 1 Hour 15 Minutes to 2 Hours

Please note that these distances and times are approximate and can vary depending on traffic and other factors.

Demographics

The demographics of San Bernardino County are diverse and varied, with a population of approximately 2.18 million people. Some key demographics of the County include:

The Sovereign Nations of San Bernardino County

There are currently four Federally Recognized tribes in San Bernardino County, including.

- Chemehuevi Indian Tribe
- Colorado River Indian Tribe
- Fort Mojave Indian Tribe
- San Manuel Band of Mission Indians

Chemehuevi Indian Tribe

The Chemehuevi Indian Tribe is a federally recognized Native American tribe located in California. It's important to note that as a sovereign nation, the Chemehuevi Indian Tribe has its own government and sets its own policies.

- Location: The Chemehuevi Indian Tribe is primarily located in the southern California desert region. Their ancestral lands extend across parts of present-day California, Arizona, Nevada, and Utah. The tribe's reservation, the Chemehuevi Indian Reservation, is situated along the western shore of Lake Havasu in San Bernardino County, California.
- Language and Culture: The Chemehuevi people have their own language, which is part of the Uto-Aztecan language family. The language is endangered, but efforts are being made to revitalize and preserve it. The tribe has a strong cultural heritage, with traditions, ceremonies, and art forms that are integral to their identity.
- History: The Chemehuevi have inhabited the desert regions of the Southwest for thousands of years. Their traditional way of life revolved around hunting, gathering, and seasonal migrations. In the 19th century, the Chemehuevi people faced significant challenges due to colonization, the influx of settlers, and changes in their traditional lands. They experienced displacement and disruptions to their way of life.

- Tribal Government: The Chemehuevi Indian Tribe operates under a tribal government structure. The tribal council is responsible for making decisions and governing the affairs of the tribe. The council consists of elected tribal officials who represent the interests of the tribal community.
- Economic Development: The Chemehuevi Indian Tribe has engaged in various economic development initiatives to create opportunities and sustain the tribal community. This includes ventures such as tourism, hospitality, gaming, and natural resource management.

Colorado River Indian Tribe

The Colorado River Indian Tribe is a federally recognized Native American tribe located in California. It's important to note that as a sovereign nation, the Colorado River Indian Tribe has its own government and sets its own policies.

- Location: The Colorado River Indian Tribe's reservation is in western Arizona and southeastern California. The reservation spans approximately 225,995 acres along the Colorado River, encompassing portions of both states.
- Tribal History: The Colorado River Indian Tribe has a rich history that includes the four constituent tribes. The Mohave and Chemehuevi people have ancestral ties to the region, while Hopi and Navajo individuals joined the tribe through marriage and residency.
- Tribal Governance: The Colorado River Indian Tribe operates under a tribal council system. The tribal council consists of representatives from each of the four tribes, and they govern various aspects of tribal affairs, including law and order, economic development, and cultural preservation.
- Economy: The Colorado River Indian Tribe has diverse economic interests. The tribe engages in agriculture, including farming and ranching operations, and operates the BlueWater Resort and Casino, which is a significant revenue source for the tribe.
- Cultural Preservation: The Colorado River Indian Tribe is dedicated to preserving and promoting its cultural heritage. The tribe celebrates traditional events, such as the CRIT Powwow, and engages in cultural education programs to pass on traditional knowledge and practices to future generations.
- Natural Resources and Environment: The tribe has a strong connection to the Colorado River and actively participates in water and environmental management initiatives. They work to protect the river's resources and advocate for sustainable practices.

Fort Mojave Indian Tribe

The Fort Mojave Indian Tribe is a federally recognized Native American tribe located in California. It's important to note that as a sovereign nation, the Fort Mojave Indian Tribe has its own government and sets its own policies.

- The Fort Mojave Indian Tribe is a federally recognized Native American tribe with historical ties to the Mojave Desert region. As a sovereign nation, the Fort Mojave Tribe maintains its own government and sets its own policies.
- Location: The Fort Mojave Indian Tribe's reservation is located along the Colorado River in the states of Arizona, California, and Nevada. The reservation lands span approximately 42,000 acres, with the majority located in Arizona and California.
- Tribal History: The Fort Mojave Tribe has inhabited the Colorado River region for centuries, with historical and cultural ties to the Mojave people. The tribe's ancestral lands extend beyond the reservation boundaries and encompass areas in California, Arizona, and Nevada.
- Tribal Governance: The Fort Mojave Indian Tribe operates under a tribal council system. The tribal council is comprised of elected representatives who govern various tribal affairs, including economic development, education, healthcare, and cultural preservation.
- Economy: The tribe engages in various economic activities to support its community. These include operating the Avi Resort and Casino, a major source of revenue for the tribe. Additionally, the tribe is involved in agriculture, retail businesses, and other commercial ventures.
- Cultural Preservation: The Fort Mojave Tribe places great importance on preserving and promoting its cultural heritage. The tribe actively participates in cultural events, such as powwows, dances, and cultural education programs, to ensure the transmission of traditional knowledge and practices to future generations.
- Natural Resources and Environment: As a tribe located along the Colorado River, the Fort Mojave Tribe is invested in environmental stewardship and the protection of natural resources. They actively participate in water and land management initiatives to ensure the region's sustainability.

San Manuel Band of Mission Indians

The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians is a federally recognized Native American tribe located in California. It's important to note that as a sovereign nation, the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians has its own government and sets its own policies.

- Location: The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians reservation is situated in the San Bernardino Mountains near the city of Highland, California. The reservation spans approximately 800 acres.
- Tribal History: The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians is of Serrano and Cahuilla ancestry. The tribe has a rich history in the region, with ancestral ties to the San Bernardino Valley and surrounding areas.
- Tribal Governance: The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians operates under a tribal government structure. The tribe is governed by a democratically elected tribal council, which oversees the tribe's affairs, including economic development, healthcare, education, and cultural preservation.
- Economy: The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians has developed a robust economic base through various enterprises. The tribe operates the San Manuel Casino, which is one of the largest tribal gaming facilities in California. Revenue generated from the casino and other ventures supports tribal programs, services, and community development initiatives.
- Community and Philanthropy: The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians actively supports its community and philanthropic efforts. The tribe invests in education, healthcare, cultural preservation, and social services for its tribal members and the broader community. The tribe has established the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians Foundation, which provides charitable contributions and grants to nonprofit organizations in the region.

- Cultural Preservation: The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians places significant emphasis on cultural preservation and revitalization. The tribe engages in cultural activities, language revitalization programs, and educational initiatives to ensure the preservation and transmission of traditional knowledge, practices, and languages to future generations.

Additionally, tribal partners with the San Bernardino National Forest would include:

- Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians of the Agua Caliente Indian Reservation
- Augustine Band of Cahuilla Indians
- Barona Band of Mission Indians
- Cabazon Band of Mission Indians
- Cahuilla Band of Indians
- Morongo Band of Mission Indians
- Pechanga Band of Luiseno Mission Indians of the Pechanga Reservation

Finally, The Inland Empire region of California encompasses a diverse area that includes portions of San Bernardino and Riverside Counties. Several Native American tribes have historical connections to the Inland Empire. Here are some tribes associated with the region:

- Serrano: The Serrano people traditionally inhabited the San Bernardino Mountains and surrounding areas of the Inland Empire. The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians, a federally recognized tribe, is of Serrano and Cahuilla ancestry and is located near Highland, California.
- Cahuilla: The Cahuilla people have historical ties to the Inland Empire region, particularly in the Coachella Valley area. The Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians and the Cabazon Band of Mission Indians are federally recognized tribes associated with the Cahuilla.
- Luiseño: The Luiseño people, part of the larger Pechanga Band of Luiseño Indians, have ancestral connections to the Inland Empire. The Pechanga Band of Luiseño Indians is in Riverside County and operates the Pechanga Resort & Casino.
- Cupeño: The Cupeño people historically inhabited the Warner Springs area in northeastern San Diego County but are culturally related to the Luiseño. The Los Coyotes Band of Cahuilla and Cupeño Indians is a federally recognized tribe associated with the Cupeño.
- Chemehuevi: Although the Chemehuevi primarily resides along the Colorado River Indian Reservation, their traditional territories extend into parts of the Inland Empire. They have historical ties to the desert regions of the Inland Empire, including areas near Lake Havasu and the Colorado River.

San Bernardino County Children and Family Services Overview

Children and Family Services (CFS) is a department within San Bernardino County dedicated to protecting and promoting the well-being of abused, neglected, or exploited children in San Bernardino County. CFS values collaboration with community agencies and private citizens to accomplish its mission.

The mission of CFS is to protect endangered children, preserve and strengthen their families, and develop alternative family settings. As mandated by law and regulations, services will be provided to the family in the least intrusive manner. This mission is accomplished in collaboration with the family, a wide variety of public and private agencies, and community members. Below is guiding CFS data that informs this Comprehensive Prevention Plan:

- African American/Black and Native American/Alaskan Native children have the highest child welfare involvement rates at all levels (referrals, investigated referrals, substantiated allegations, foster care entry, and in care).
  - An African American/Black child is three times more likely to enter a foster care placement than a White child.
  - A Native American/Alaskan Native child is twice as likely to enter a foster care placement than a White child.
- General Neglect was the most common substantiated allegation (63.2% average from 2017 to 2021), followed by Physical Abuse (12% 5-year average) then Sexual Abuse (8.6% 5-year average).
- On average from 2017 to 2021, the most common types of Mandated Reporters vary across child welfare decision points. For example, Law Enforcement accounts for 14.6% of all referrals received, and 17.5% of those investigated then increases to 36.4% of the referrals substantiated. Categories of less than 6% were excluded. There was also a notable decline in professional and school referrals in 2020 and 2021 due to the pandemic.

5 Year Average of all Referrals with a Mandated Reporter Indicator (Excludes categories with less than 6%)
	All Referrals	Investigated Referrals	Substantiated Referrals
Mental Health	19.9%	15.6%	7.3%
Law Enforcement/Probation/Parole	14.6%	17.5%	36.4%
School Staff/Teachers	23.1%	23.1%	8.4%
CWS Staff	6.9%	8.6%	9.3%
Medical Professional	7.9%	8.3%	11.3%
Other Professional	24.0%	23.5%	23.9%

- Infants have the highest rate of child welfare involvement (allegations, investigated allegations, substantiated allegations, and foster care entry).

- African American/Black infants have the highest rates followed by Native American/Alaskan Native infants.
- Approximately 400 children a year have a second substantiated allegation within 12 months of the first substantiated allegation (approximately 8.3% of children with substantiated allegations).
  - Native American/Alaskan Native children followed by African American/Black children have the highest maltreatment recurrence in 12 months.
- On average 7.96% of children re-enter foster care within 12 months of reunification or guardianship, approximately 60 children a year.
  - Native American/Alaskan Native children then Asian/Pacific Islander children have the highest re-entry rate (but with very low numbers of children <5 re-entering care per year).

San Bernardino County Probation Department Overview

The San Bernardino County Probation Department (Probation) has always represented the very best of law and justice agencies throughout the state. The Department supervises and provides case management services for approximately 16,800 adult offenders, and 2,184 youth offenders, wards, and non-wards.

It serves youth in its detention and assessment center and additional youth in its ARISE Secure Youth Treatment Facility. ARISE stands for A Restorative Integration for Successful Engagement. It oversees the placement and monitoring of juveniles in private facilities throughout the state.

Its officers act as the investigative arm of the San Bernardino Superior Court, providing sentencing reports and legal recommendations, evaluations, supervision, and victim services.

The mission of Probation is to build stronger families and safer communities by improving the lives of those it serves through assessment, treatment, rehabilitative services, and enforcement.

Please see Appendix 1 for California Child Welfare Indicators Project (CCWIP) data for San Bernardino County.

San Bernardino County Theory of Change

San Bernardino County remains committed to:

- Creatively blending and braiding funding and resources from San Bernardino County and other stakeholders, especially through the Family First Prevention Services (FFPS) State Block Grant.
- Continuing to partner and collaborate with community-based organizations focused on mental health, child welfare, homelessness, substance use disorders, and education.
- Improving collaborative infrastructure to ensure program sustainability and establish feedback avenues to create a dynamic continuous quality improvement process.
- Achieving optimal workforce conditions for staff with expertise in child welfare, mental health, and other related fields.
- Facilitating culturally responsive and trauma-informed Child and Family Team Meetings (CFTM) for families that most need them, including those disproportionately represented in the child welfare and juvenile justice systems.

These County commitments lead to:

- Stronger family support services, including parenting education, counseling, and mental health services, to prevent child abuse and neglect and promote family stability.
- Expanded access to evidence-based, trauma-informed practices and services to support children and families who have experienced trauma and promote resiliency.
- Providing comprehensive mental health services and support to individuals and families with mental health needs, including early intervention services and case management.
- Creating Community Pathways to family support services and evidence-based, trauma-informed practices without formal involvement with the child welfare or juvenile justice systems, with an intentional focus on communities impacted by disparities in the child welfare and juvenile justice systems.
- Supporting educational programs and resources to improve academic outcomes for justice-involved youth.
- Building partnerships and collaborations with community and faith-based organizations to increase awareness of available services and supports, reduce stigma, and provide culturally responsive services.

So that we have:

- Increased access to family support services, mental health services, and evidence-based practices for children and families.
- Increased awareness of available services and supports and reduced stigma associated with mental health, probation, and CFS services.

- Improved academic outcomes for justice-involved youth.
- Reduced disparities for Black and Native American children and families disproportionately represented in the child welfare and juvenile justice systems.

Therefore:

- Reducing child abuse and neglect rates, including those that are disproportionately represented in the child welfare and juvenile justice systems.
- Increasing family stability and reducing the need for out-of-home placement.
- Decreasing rates of children entering the system at any level.
- Reducing recidivism/preventing entry into the juvenile justice system
- Improving workload stabilization.

That lead to:

- Improved well-being and outcomes for children and families.
- Improved and sustained community capacity to reduce child maltreatment.
- Increased community engagement, participation, and collaboration to promote a comprehensive and integrated system of care for children and families.

Governance Structure

Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) Governing Committee

The primary focus of the FFPSA Governing Committee is to reduce the incidence of child maltreatment and foster care entry in San Bernardino County. This purpose will be realized through the following:

- Developing a comprehensive and effective Comprehensive Prevention Plan (CPP) in accordance with State and Federal regulations.
- Improving understanding regarding the underlying causes of child maltreatment.
- Engaging partner agencies to leverage resources and support mutually beneficial programs in accordance with the Missions of these agencies.
- Identifying available evidence-based, trauma-informed programs that address the needs of at-risk families, while also supporting new models and promising practices.
- Identifying and addressing the needs of underserved communities likely to benefit from child abuse prevention programs.
- Establishing the means to optimize Federal Financial Participation (FFP), grants, allocations, and other available resources.
- Producing a joint, written protocol between the agencies to determine responsibility for prevention service payment, in part or whole, following guidance by California Department of Social Services (CDSS) and the Department of Health Care Services (DHCS).
- Accessing and reviewing program guidance from CDSS and DHCS.
- Building a team of committed professionals and those with lived experience to guide planning and decision-making.
- Making sure team members feel valued, respected, heard, and know that their work is important and contributing to the well-being of children and families.
- Establishing standards of success and overseeing the implementation of a Comprehensive Child Abuse Prevention program, with systems of accountability and clear expected outcomes.

The FFPSA Governing Committee is made up of the following partners:

- Children and Family Services (CFS)
- Probation Department
- Department of Behavioral Health (DBH)
- Child Abuse Prevention Council (CAPC)/Children's Network (CN)
- San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools (SBCSS)
- Department of Public Health (DPH)
- Inland Regional Centers
- First 5 San Bernardino
- Family Resource Centers
- Those with Lived Experience

- Indian Tribes
- Community-Based Service Providers
- Research, Outcomes, and Quality Support (ROQS)
- Program Development Division (PDD)
- Justice Benefits, Inc. (JBI), Contracted Consultant
- Casey Family Programs
- Universities
- Courts

How the CPP was developed:

- The Governing Committee developed the CPP mainly through workgroups and cross-sector collaboration as described below.
- Governing Committee members reviewed the content and identified revisions.
- Consultation for CPP development included county agencies, local community representatives, caseworkers, and those with lived experience.
- After final revisions, the completed CPP was submitted to executive staff for review and approval.

The FFPSA Governing Committee is guided by the FFPSA Governing Committee Charter (see Appendix 2).

Cross-Sector Collaboration and Partner Engagement

FFPSA Workgroups

In addition to the FFPSA Governing Committee, workgroups were established to engage the cross-sector collaborative to share information and develop, review, and approve the CPP.

Practice and Policy Workgroup

The main purposes of the Practice and Policy Workgroup include:

- Design and implement the FFPSA Charter with FFPSA Governing Committee approval.
- Ensure stakeholder collaboration by creating opportunities for CPP feedback before and during the creation of the CPP. Provide stakeholders with updated drafts and the final version of the CPP.
- Develop Integrated Core Practice Model (ICPM) prevention strategies.
- Define changes that will need to be made to assessments, service plans, and case management methodology.
- Begin FFPS implementation planning.
- Create a shared FFPSA knowledge base site.

Candidacy and Service Array Workgroup

The main purposes of the Candidacy and Service Array Workgroup include:

- Define the target population for FFPS and the candidate population for FFPSA.
- Design service array for Primary, Secondary, and Tertiary Prevention Strategies.
- Define Agency and Community Pathways to prevention services.
- Develop a theory of change.

Fiscal and Contracts Workgroup

The main purposes of the Fiscal and Contracts Workgroup include:

- Review state and federal funding for FFPSA to determine how prevention services will be funded or supported.
- Provide a framework for fiscal impact.
- Complete the Block Grant Spending Plan.
- Assure payer of last resort.

Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI)/Training Workgroup

The main purposes of the CQI/Training Workgroup include:

- Use data to determine the quality of services.
- Identify, describe, and analyze the strengths and problems in the CPP.
- Test, implement learn from and revise solutions.
- Test for Evidence Based Practice (EBP) model fidelity.
- Share findings with the Training Workgroup to address potential issues with implementation.

- Training will ensure the Workforce Training and Safety/Monitoring/Periodic Risk Assessment Assurances outlined in the Additional Assurances on pages 74 – 76 are adhered to.

The workgroups have taken community feedback which has validated internal workgroup plans to guide CPP implementation decisions, which will be approved by the FFPSA Governing Committee. Once the FFPSA Governing Committee approves the CPP, it will go through legal review, receive the required signatures, and then be submitted to CDSS. The CQI workgroup will monitor the outcomes data from FFPSA, and if modifications to the CPP need to be made they will flow through the FFPSA Governing Committee. San Bernardino County is ensuring the CPP aligns with System Improvement Plan (SIP)/ICPM, County Self-Assessment (CSA), Peer Reviews, and other internal efforts to ensure the best, most consistent outcomes over time for families.

Each collaborative partner has an ambassador on the FFPSA Governing Committee to raise issues and further disseminate information to their staff. The CPP will be reviewed with each partner for feedback and to explain why some recommendations were incorporated and others were not.

Tribal Consultation and Collaboration

It is important to have tribal feedback on child welfare reform because American Indian/Alaskan Native (AI/AN) communities have a unique cultural and historical context that shapes their beliefs and practices related to child welfare.

Therefore, any child welfare reform that affects AI/AN communities should involve meaningful consultation with and input from tribal leaders, elders, and community members. By incorporating tribal feedback, child welfare policies, and practices are aligned with AI/AN cultural values and practices and help ensure that AI/AN children remain connected to their families, communities, and cultures.

Through consultation and collaboration, child welfare policies and practices can continue to be reformed in a way that respects AI/AN sovereignty, culture, and self-determination, and can help promote healing and well-being for AI/AN children and families.

San Bernadino County has made efforts to involve all the sovereign nations in the planning process for the CPP.

San Manuel Band of Mission Indians

The largest San Bernardino County Indian Tribe, the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians, has collaborated with the FFPSA Governing Committee since October 2022 on the creation of the CPP. In addition to collaborating on the FFPSA Governing Committee, several consultation meetings with the San Manuel Tribe have taken place to ensure it has a voice in the CPP. SBC has an open line of communication with the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians through David Camplin, Director of Tribal Family Services, who will review and provide feedback on any changes and ensure the tribes are accurately represented in the CPP.

San Bernardino County will disseminate information about programs and practices that are available to children, youth parents, and families to Tribal Family Services. The Tribe will communicate these messages to the families it serves and utilize Indian Health Services to spread the message. Additionally, San Bernardino County will implement Community/Tribal Pathways to Prevention Services to assist with situations where CFS and Probation will not be formally involved and the Tribe/CBO that is working with the family will be responsible for case management and service delivery. The San Manuel Tribe will attempt to coordinate with Indian Health Services to ensure the prevention services outlined in the CPP are culturally appropriate for AI/AN children and families.

Chemehuevi Indian Tribe

Initial contact was made in October 2022, and an initial virtual meeting occurred on November 9, 2022. Additional meeting invitations to the workgroups and FFPSA Governing Committee were extended on November 9. Follow-up was attempted in January 2023. The County will continue to follow up to receive feedback on the CPP.

Colorado River Indian Tribe

Initial contact was attempted in October 2022. Follow-up was attempted in November 2022 and January 2023. The County will continue to follow up to receive feedback on the CPP.

Fort Mojave Indian Tribe

Initial contact was attempted in October 2022. Follow-up was attempted in November 2022 and January 2023. The County will continue to follow up to receive feedback on the CPP.

Integrated Core Practice Model (ICPM)

The ICPM is a state-mandated approach meant to transform how families are engaged in child welfare. It is designed to promote collaboration among child welfare agencies, courts, probation departments, and other required AB 2083 partner agencies to ensure that children and families receive timely, effective, and coordinated services.

The following are excerpts from All County Information Notice I-21-18:

The California Integrated Core Practice Model for Children, Youth, and Families (ICPM) provides practical guidance and direction to support county child welfare, juvenile probation, behavioral health agencies, and their partners in delivery of timely, effective, and collaborative services to children, youth, NMDs, and families. (Page 3)

The ICPM is a framework that sets the child and family team as the primary vehicle for a team-based process built on ten principles of family engagement. (Chapter 1, Page 3)

The ICPM is informed by nationally recognized core values and principles, derived largely from research about how collaborative and integrated family services work best. (Chapter 2, Page 10)

The ICPM is more than implementing a program; it is about fundamentally changing the way staff engage with, view, and related to every child and family and move from working in an individual system or agency with responsibilities and mandates to working within a team environment that commits to build a culturally relevant and trauma-informed system of supports and services that are responsive to the strengths and underlying needs of families. (Chapter 4, Page 43)

The ICPM is a collaborative approach to service delivery that aims to improve outcomes for children and families involved in the child welfare system. It was developed by the Children and Family Services (CFS) division of San Bernardino County in partnership with community stakeholders.

The ICPM involves a team-based approach that brings together social workers, probation officers, mental health professionals, and other community partners to work together in a coordinated and integrated manner. The goal is to provide more efficient and effective services to families, reduce duplication of efforts, and improve stakeholder communication.

Three pillars of the ICPM include:

- Family-centered approach: The ICPM places the needs of the family at the center of the service delivery process. This means that families engage in decision-making and are encouraged to take an active role in developing their service plans.
- Multi-disciplinary teams: The ICPM uses teams made up of professionals from different disciplines, including social workers, probation officers, mental health professionals, and community partners. These teams work together to develop and implement service plans for families.

- Data-driven decision-making: The ICPM uses data to guide decision-making and measure outcomes. This helps to ensure that services are targeted to meet the specific needs of families and effectively achieve positive outcomes.

The ICPM in San Bernardino County consists of six core components, which will be carried over to prevention services when applicable:

1. Family engagement and partnership
2. Child safety and well-being
3. Permanency and continuity of relationships
4. Timely access to services and resources
5. Effective cross-system collaboration and communication
6. Data-informed decision-making and continuous quality improvement

Data-driven decision-making in SBC includes:

- Case reviews: The ICPM uses data to inform case reviews, which are meetings held regularly to assess progress and make decisions about the ongoing provision of services to families. The data used includes information on the family's history, current needs, and progress toward achieving their service goals. This data helps the team to identify any gaps in service provision and make decisions about how best to address the gaps.
- Outcomes measurement: The ICPM uses data to measure outcomes and assess the effectiveness of services provided to families. This includes data on child safety, permanency, and well-being. By measuring these outcomes, the ICPM can identify areas where services are effective and improvements that are needed.
- Service planning: The ICPM uses data to inform service planning for families. This includes information on the family's strengths, needs, and preferences, and data on the availability and effectiveness of different services. By using this data, the ICPM can develop service plans tailored to each family's specific needs and that are most likely to achieve positive outcomes.
- Performance monitoring: The ICPM uses data to monitor the performance of the system. This includes data on factors such as the timeliness of service provision, the number of cases closed successfully, and the satisfaction of families with the services they receive. By monitoring performance in this way, the ICPM can identify areas where improvements need to be made and take steps to address these.

Child and Family Team Meetings

Child and Family Team Meetings (CFTM) align with ICPM core components. The CFTM is a group of people who come together to create a plan to address the needs of the child and their family. This team comprises of the child (if age appropriate), the child's parents or caregivers, social workers, and other individuals who may be important to the child's well-being, such as teachers, therapists, or extended family members.

The purpose of the CFTM is to engage everyone involved in the child's life to collaboratively develop a plan that meets the child's needs and helps the family overcome any challenges they may face. The team works together to identify strengths, needs, and resources, and to develop a plan that is tailored to the specific needs of the child and family.

The CFTM process is guided by California law and used in various settings, including child welfare, mental health, and education. The goal of the CFTM process is to create a plan that will help the child thrive in a safe and stable environment while promoting the well-being of the entire family.

While CFTMs are mostly done for youth in out-of-home placement, initial CFS data on Preventive CFTMs for families not formally involved with CFS has shown to be promising, especially for populations disproportionately represented in the Child Welfare System.

In the context of the ICPM, CFTMs are a crucial tool for promoting family engagement and empowerment. By involving families in the decision-making process, the ICPM seeks to empower them to take an active role in developing and implementing their service plans.

CFTMs are facilitated by a team that includes the family's social worker, other professionals involved in the family's case, and the family themselves. The team works together to identify the family's strengths and needs, develop goals and objectives, and identify services and supports that can help the family achieve these goals.

Some key features of CFTs in the ICPM include:

1. Family-centered approach: CFTMs in the ICPM are based on a family-centered approach, which means that families are involved in every step of the decision-making process. This helps to ensure that services are tailored to meet the specific needs of the family and are more likely to be effective.
2. Multi-disciplinary teams: CFTMs in the ICPM involve teams made up of professionals from different disciplines, including social workers, probation officers, mental health professionals, and community partners. This allows for a more comprehensive and coordinated approach to service delivery.
3. Use of data: CFTMs in the ICPM use data to inform decision-making and service planning. This includes information on the family's history, current needs, and progress toward achieving their service goals.

4. Empowerment: CFTMs in the ICPM seek to empower families by involving them in the decision-making process and helping them to develop the skills and resources they need to achieve their goals.

Data Supporting San Bernardino County Preventive Child and Family Team Meeting

A Preventive CFTM in SBC is defined as a CFTM held during a referral investigation when the child does not have an open child welfare court case. (Excludes children with cases opened on the same day as the CFTM or children in Family Maintenance (FM) cases when the CFTM is held.)

Findings:

- From 2018 to 2021, on average 9.1% of children had a Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of the preventive CFTM and 90.9% of children with a preventive CFTM did not have a Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of the preventive referral.
- Asian/Pacific Islander, African American/Black, and white children had the largest percentage of children with an open case within 12 months of the preventive CFTM, respectively, 15.8%, 13.2%, and 11.1%
- Preventive CFTMs were most successful with Native American/Alaskan Native children and Unknown ethnicity with preventing a child welfare case from being opened after the CFTM.

By ethnicity, children with no Child Welfare court case opened for them within 12 months of preventive CFTM (2018-2021):

- 84.2% of Asian/Pacific Islander Children (32 out of 38 children)
- 86.8% of African American/Black Children (256 out of 295 children)
- 92.6% of Hispanic/Latino Children (855 out of 923 children)
- 100% of Native American/Alaskan Native Children (12 children)
- 88.9% of White Children (343 out of 386 children)
- 98.5% of Unknown Ethnicity Children (67 out of 68 children)

See Appendix 3 for additional supporting data regarding the use of Preventive CFTMs in San Bernardino County.

San Bernardino County has a current contract with Victor Community Support Services (VCSS) for the facilitation of CFTMs. The County plans to amend this contract for the inclusion of Preventive CFTMs. A third-party facilitator will enable the various workers to concentrate on the needs of the family and the work they need to do to best participate in the CFTM rather than focus on the administrative aspects of bringing the CFTM to fruition.

With further investment in Preventive CFTMs, San Bernardino County believes it can continue building on these results and reap the following key advantages:

1. Early intervention: An increase in Preventive CFTMs will help to identify issues early on before they become more serious and require placement. By addressing issues earlier, families can receive the support they need to prevent the need for placement, which can be traumatic for both the child and the family.
2. Family engagement: An increase in Preventive CFTMs provides an opportunity for families to be engaged in the process of identifying their strengths and needs, developing service plans, and making decisions about the provision of services. This can help to increase trust and rapport between the family and the child welfare system and improve the family's engagement in the process.
3. Collaborative approach: An increase in Preventive CFTMs involves a collaborative approach, which means that professionals from different disciplines work together to develop a comprehensive and coordinated service plan for the family. This can help ensure the family receives the right support and services at the right time.
4. Cost-effective: Holding Preventive CFTMs is more cost-effective than waiting until placement is necessary. By addressing issues early, families can receive the support they need to prevent the need for placement, which can be costly.
5. Positive outcomes: By identifying issues early and providing the proper support and services, families are more likely to achieve positive outcomes, such as improved child safety, stability, and well-being. This can lead to better long-term outcomes for both the child and the family.

Reimagining Preventive Child and Family Team Meetings

Typically, CFTMs originate with either CFS or Probation, and one of those agencies is involved in the CFTM. Due to the promising data Preventive CFTMs have demonstrated, San Bernardino County is reimagining CFTMs to where community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, schools, healthcare providers, or other local organizations/service providers can request Preventive CFTMs for the families that really need them through Community Pathways to Prevention Services (discussed in detail later in the CPP). Under these reimagined Preventive CFTMs, CFS may leverage its CFTM facilitation contract for the referring community partner to engage families with preventive CFTMs without CFS or Probation formal involvement. This will make CFTMs primary (through Community Pathways) and secondary (through informal CFS and Probation involvement) intervention strategies in San Bernardino County, with an emphasis on populations that are disparately represented in the child welfare system.

Target Candidacy Populations

For many years California participated in federal Title IV-E waiver. Under the waiver, target populations were broad. For Child Welfare Services, the target population was any family at risk of removal from the home. For Probation, the target population was a child with contact or risk of contact with law enforcement. These are extremely broad populations, and FFPS and FFPSA have helped to narrow these target populations.

The San Bernardino County target population for FFPS is a family connected with CFS/Probation or identified by the community as having risk factors that could potentially lead to connection with CFS/Probation. These families will have needs that if met could potentially prevent formal involvement with CFS/Probation.

Risk factors that are often present before abuse, neglect, and other forms of maltreatment, that typically define a target population include:

- Poverty and financial stress
- Unemployment or low income
- Lack of social support
- Lack of access to healthcare
- Mental health or substance abuse problems
- Domestic violence or other forms of family conflict
- Lack of parenting skills or knowledge

The San Bernardino County target population for FFPSA is children at serious risk of removal to foster care but can remain safely at home as long as allowable mental health, substance use, and/or in-home parent skill-based program service are provided that are outlined in California's Five-Year State Prevention Plan.

FFPSA Candidate Populations

For its FFPSA candidate population, San Bernardino County will adopt the State's candidate population as outlined in California's Five-Year State Prevention Plan. San Bernardino County will start with the traditional candidate population that is supervised by CFS or Probation:

- Children in voluntary or court-ordered Family Maintenance services cases
- Probation minors subject to a petition under section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code (WIC), and for whom the probation department determined to be at imminent risk for foster care.

In addition to the traditional candidate population, which in most cases is formally supervised, San Bernardino County will include the following categories of circumstances which may fall under formal or informal supervision:

- Children whose guardianship or adoption arrangement is at-risk of disruption.
- Children with a substantiated or inconclusive disposition of a child abuse or neglect allegation, without a case being opened.
- Children who have siblings in foster care
- Homeless or runaway youth
- Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer/questioning (LGBTQ) children
- Substance-exposed newborns

- Trafficked children and youth
- Children exposed to domestic violence.
- Children whose caretakers experience a substance use disorder.
- Children or youth experiencing other serious risk factor triggers that when combined with family instability or safety threats would be assessed to be at imminent risk of foster care.

San Bernardino County will continue to conduct case-by-case, individualized assessments to determine if each child meets the criteria of being at serious risk of entering foster care.

San Bernardino County intends to continue claiming on traditional candidates that are not receiving the EBPs outlined in California's Five-Year State Prevention Plan under 472(i) of the Social Security Act, Section 8.1D of the Child Welfare Policy Manual, and ACYF-CB-PI-18-09.

FFPS Target Populations

The San Bernardino County target population for FFPS is a family connected with CFS/Probation or identified by the community as having risk factors that could potentially lead to connection with CFS/Probation. These families have needs that if met could potentially prevent formal involvement with CFS/Probation.

CFS Pathways to Title IV-E Prevention Services

The key pathways to Children and Family Services include:

1. Referrals from mandated reporters: Certain professionals, such as teachers, doctors, and law enforcement personnel, are mandated reporters who are required by law to report suspected child abuse or neglect to CFS. These referrals are typically made through the county's Child and Adult Abuse Hotline (CAAHL).
2. Self-referrals: Families can also self-refer to CFS if they need support and services. They can do this by contacting their local CFS office or the county's CAAHL.
3. Referrals from the community: CFS may receive referrals from Community-Based Organizations or other members of the community like neighbors and other concerned citizens not affiliated with any organization or mandated reporters.

When direct CFS involvement with the family is necessary, court-ordered Family Maintenance and Voluntary Family Maintenance are avenues through which families may access Title IV-E Prevention Services. Title IV-E Prevention Services may also be available to children reunifying with their families to improve the likelihood of successful transition.

Probation Pathways to Title IV-E Prevention Services

Currently, in San Bernardino County, probation officers conduct assessments to determine traditional candidacy for foster care using the "Evaluation of Imminent Risk and Reasonable Candidacy" (EIRRC) tool. The EIRRC tool is a checklist that assists in accurately identifying why and how a child is considered a candidate. If the child is identified as a candidate, then a Case Plan must be developed, and the following elements must be documented:

- Description of circumstances including but not limited to behavioral issues that place the child or youth at imminent risk of removal from the home absent the indicated services. This cannot be solely a list of problems but must include why these issues will result in out-of-home placement if services are not provided. This will include behavioral issues and obstacles related to the parents or guardian.
- Types of services needed for the child or youth to remain safely in his/her home. This must include any services aimed at the parents or guardians.
- Statement that absent the effectiveness of services, foster care is the planned arrangement for the child or youth and identify the type of planned placement setting.
- For FFPSA candidacy, one of the 10 EBPs outlined in California's Five-Year State Prevention Plan will be identified as necessary for a child to safely remain in his/her home.

SBC Probation will use CWS-CARES, a digital case management program developed by the State of California specific to foster care, for all case documentation, including candidacy determinations, ongoing safety and risk assessments, and fiscal reporting for FFPSA candidates.

Community Pathways to Title IV-E Prevention Services

Throughout the CPP process, focus groups were convened and common barriers to prevention services identified included a trust of CFS and Probation and the stigma that can be attached to families that are involved with CFS and Probation. Community pathways are a critical component to breaking down these barriers to prevention services and the overall success of San Bernardino County's CPP in several ways:

1. Collaborative Approach: Community pathways involve a collaborative approach to addressing the needs of children and families. By partnering with community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, schools, and other service providers, San Bernardino County can demonstrate a commitment to working with families and communities to provide support and resources without being formally involved.
2. Access to Resources: Community pathways provide families with access to a range of resources, including mental health services, substance abuse treatment, housing assistance, and educational resources. By providing these services in a community-based setting, San Bernardino County can help families overcome challenges and achieve positive outcomes.
3. Cultural Competence: Community pathways can help child welfare services to further develop cultural competence and understanding of the unique needs and challenges faced by families from diverse communities. By collaborating with community-based organizations and service providers, San Bernardino County can gain insights into cultural practices and beliefs, and tailor their services accordingly. This will be key in addressing the disparities between Black and AI/AN children in the County.

4. Empowerment: Community pathways can empower families by giving them a voice in the decision-making process and providing them with the necessary tools and resources to take control of their lives. By empowering families, San Bernardino County can help to build trust and strengthen relationships.
5. Prevention: Community pathways can help to prevent families from becoming involved in the child welfare system in the first place. By providing early intervention services and support, child welfare services can address the underlying issues that may lead to child abuse or neglect, such as poverty, domestic violence, and substance abuse.

Overall, utilizing community pathways can help to build trust, overcome perceived stigma, and promote positive outcomes for children and families in San Bernardino County. By working collaboratively with community-based organizations and service providers, the County can demonstrate a commitment to supporting families and communities and help to ensure that children grow up in safe and nurturing environments.

Community Pathway Approaches

SBC will utilize two approaches for accessing community pathways:

1. Families can self-refer or be referred by a public or private entity such as a community-based organization, faith-based organization, school, healthcare provider, or other local organization/service provider.

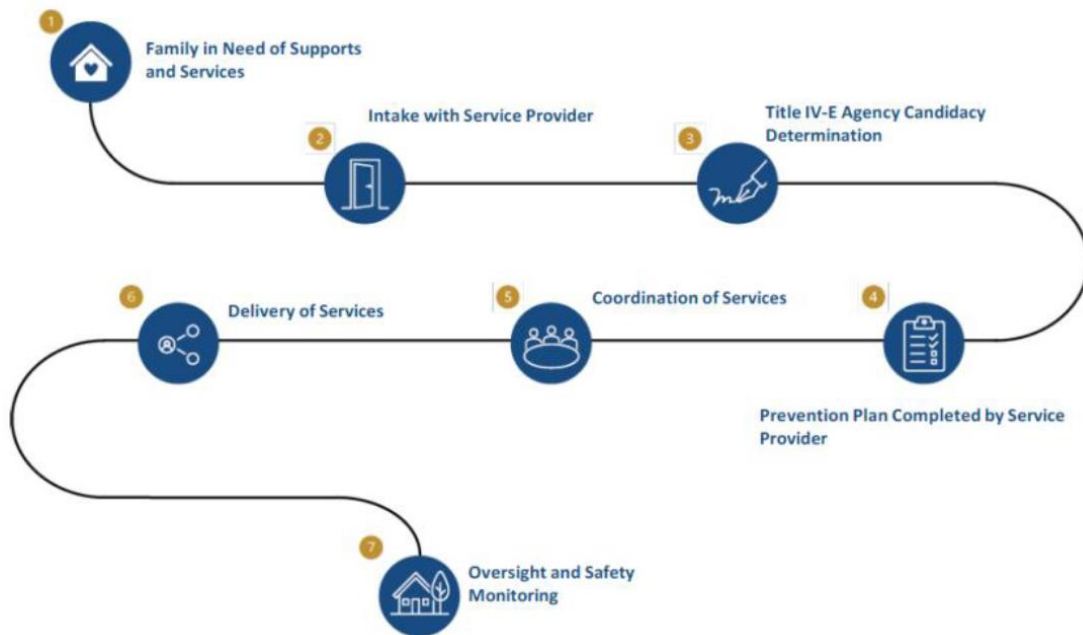

During the intake process, the referring family and/or service provider will complete an assessment of the circumstances of the child/family. If the child/family is assessed as needing mental health, substance abuse, and/or in-home parenting skill-based services for the child to remain safely at home, they will identify the child as potentially eligible for Title IV-E prevention services.

If the local service provider identifies a child they believe may be an eligible candidate and can provide a Title IV-E prevention service to mitigate the family's risk and safety concerns, they can submit their recommendation for candidacy to CFS or Probation for a review to make a candidacy determination, with appropriate consent from the family.

Upon notification of approved candidacy determination, the local service provider will be responsible for completing the prevention plan, coordination of services, delivery of services, oversight, and safety monitoring. The contracted local service provider will be required to deliver EBP services to model fidelity standards and coordinate with other service providers under the monitoring and oversight of Probation or CFS.

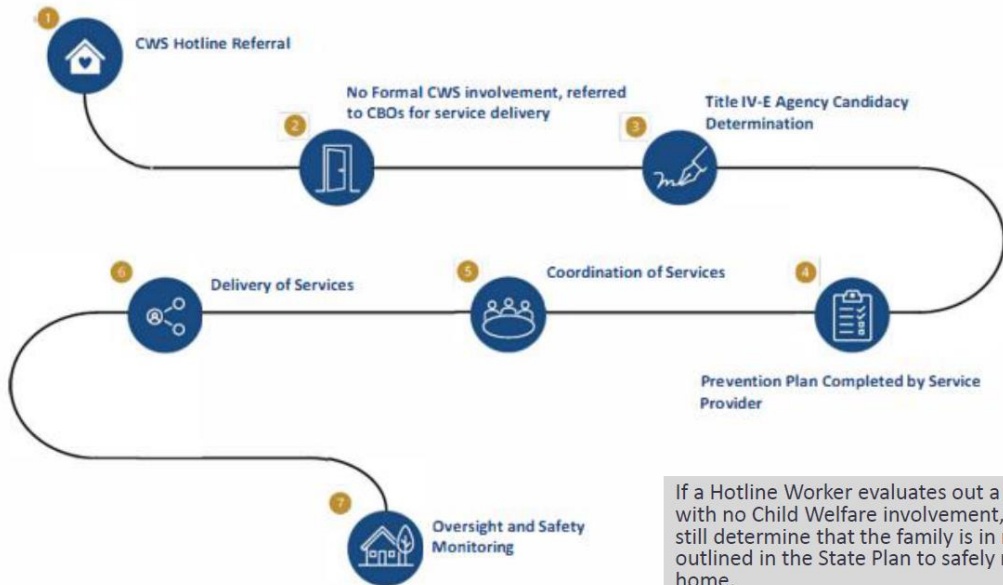

The local service provider will be required to track data for each child that is deemed a candidate for Title IV-E prevention services and share this information with CFS or Probation. CFS or Probation will be responsible for supervising and ensuring that its contractors appropriately perform all contracted Title IV-E administrative activities by federal and state requirements and will receive and review periodic, aggregate reports via CWS-CARES to support their oversight of their contracted service providers.

- The second approach will work similarly to the first with the exception that families begin with a referral to CFS or Probation. In these instances, families can still be referred to community pathways through CFS or Probation when either agency determines a family is eligible for prevention services, but formal involvement will not be required.

CWS Community Pathway

If a Hotline Worker evaluates out a referral to a CBO with no Child Welfare involvement, the worker can still determine that the family is in need of EBPs outlined in the State Plan to safely remain in the home.

Potential Community Pathways Partners

Family Resource Centers

Family Resource Centers (FRCs) in San Bernardino County are community-based organizations that provide a variety of services to families and individuals. The main role of FRCs is to promote healthy family functioning and strengthen family relationships. They aim to prevent and reduce child abuse and neglect, improve access to health care and other essential services, and provide support to families in crisis.

FRCs in San Bernardino County typically offer a wide range of services, including parenting education and support, counseling and mental health services, employment assistance, educational support for children, and referrals to other community resources. They may also provide housing assistance, food assistance, and financial literacy programs.

FRCs are an important resource for families in San Bernardino County, particularly those who are low-income or facing other challenges. They provide a safe and supportive environment where families can access the services, they need to improve their lives and build a brighter future.

Community-Based Organizations/Contracted Service Providers

Community-based organizations (CBOs) and contracted service providers play a vital role in a community pathway to prevention services by contributing to the overall framework and implementation of prevention efforts.

- Identifying Community Needs: CBOs and contracted service providers are often deeply rooted in the community and have firsthand knowledge of the unique challenges and needs of the population they serve. They can actively contribute to identifying community needs related to child welfare and prevention services. Through community engagement and partnerships, they can gather information, conduct assessments, and provide valuable insights to help shape the community pathway.
- Program Development and Implementation: CBOs and contracted service providers can play a key role in developing and implementing prevention programs within the community pathway. They can leverage their expertise and experience to design evidence-based programs that address the identified needs. They may develop programs focused on parenting education, youth mentorship, mental health support, substance abuse prevention, or other relevant interventions. They can also collaborate with other stakeholders to ensure a coordinated and comprehensive approach to prevention.
- Service Delivery: CBOs and contracted service providers are often involved in delivering direct services to individuals and families in the community. They provide support, counseling, education, and resources that contribute to preventing child welfare issues. Through their outreach efforts and community presence, they can engage with at-risk families, provide early intervention, and connect them to appropriate prevention services within the community pathway.

- Referrals and Collaboration: CBOs and contracted service providers can refer families to prevention services available within the community pathway. They can collaborate with other service providers to ensure families receive the necessary support. By establishing partnerships and maintaining strong relationships with these entities, they can facilitate seamless referrals and enhance the accessibility of prevention services.
- Advocacy and Awareness: CBOs and contracted service providers can advocate for the importance of prevention services and raise awareness within the community. They can engage in public education campaigns, participate in community events, and collaborate with local media to highlight the significance of prevention and the available resources. They can also advocate for policy changes, increased funding, and improved coordination of prevention efforts to strengthen the overall community pathway.
- Evaluation and Improvement: CBOs and contracted service providers can contribute to the evaluation and continuous improvement of prevention services within the community pathway. They can collect feedback from program participants, monitor outcomes, and assess the effectiveness of interventions. Based on the data and insights gathered, they can make informed recommendations for program adjustments, enhancements, and resource allocation to optimize prevention services.

By actively participating in various aspects of the community pathway to prevention services, CBOs, and contracted service providers bring their unique community knowledge, expertise, and service delivery capabilities to support the overall goal of safeguarding the well-being of children and families in the community.

Faith-Based Organizations

Faith-based organizations are an important part of the social fabric of San Bernardino County, as they are in many other communities throughout the United States. San Bernardino County is a large and diverse county with many communities and neighborhoods, each with its own unique set of faith-based organizations. It is safe to say that there are hundreds of faith-based organizations in San Bernardino County, representing a wide variety of religious and spiritual traditions. These organizations can range in size from small local congregations to large, multi-campus churches or synagogues, and may offer a range of services and programs to support the needs of their members and the broader community.

Here are a few examples of how faith-based organizations in San Bernardino County support individual well-being:

1. Spiritual support: Faith-based organizations offer spiritual support and guidance to their members, helping individuals to find meaning and purpose in their lives and providing a source of comfort and hope during challenging times.
2. Counseling and support groups: Many faith-based organizations in San Bernardino County offer counseling services and support groups to help individuals navigate personal and interpersonal challenges, such as relationship issues, addiction, and mental health concerns.

3. Education and training: Some faith-based organizations provide educational and training programs to support the personal and professional growth of their members, helping individuals to develop new skills and achieve their goals.
4. Charitable activities: Many faith-based organizations in San Bernardino County engage in charitable activities, such as providing food, clothing, and shelter to those in need, or supporting disaster relief efforts in the local community and around the world.
5. Community building: Faith-based organizations serve as important community hubs, bringing together individuals from diverse backgrounds and fostering a sense of belonging and connection. Through social events, volunteer activities, and other community-building initiatives, faith-based organizations help to build stronger, more resilient communities in San Bernardino County.

Schools

Schools play a crucial role in a community pathway to prevention services by serving as key stakeholders in identifying and addressing the needs of children and families. Here's how schools fit into a community pathway to prevention services:

- Early Identification and Assessment: Schools are often one of the first institutions to observe signs of potential issues or challenges faced by children. Through teachers, counselors, and other staff members, schools can identify students who may be at risk of experiencing child welfare issues or who may benefit from prevention services. By actively observing and assessing students' well-being, academic performance, behavior, and social interactions, schools can contribute to early identification and intervention.
- Referral and Collaboration: Once a student's needs are identified, schools can refer them to appropriate prevention services within the community pathway. Schools can help ensure smooth referrals and facilitate a coordinated response to address students' needs.
- Prevention Education: Schools are an ideal setting for providing prevention education to students. They can integrate prevention messages and skills-building activities into the curriculum to educate students about child abuse, neglect, bullying, substance abuse, mental health, and other related topics. Prevention education equips students with knowledge, skills, and resources to protect themselves and seek help when needed.
- Supportive Services: Schools can offer a range of supportive services to students and families within the community pathway. This can include providing counseling services, mental health support, access to school nurses, after-school programs, and extracurricular activities. These services contribute to creating a supportive and nurturing environment that promotes the overall well-being of students and helps prevent child welfare issues.
- Collaboration with Families: Schools can actively engage with families to support prevention efforts. By establishing partnerships with parents, guardians, and caregivers, schools can provide resources, workshops, and educational opportunities to enhance parenting skills, promote positive family dynamics, and strengthen protective factors within the home environment. Collaboration with families creates a holistic approach to prevention and reinforces the connection between schools, families, and the community.

- Data Sharing and Coordination: Schools can contribute to the overall data collection and coordination efforts within the community pathway. By sharing relevant data, such as attendance records, academic performance, disciplinary incidents, and social-emotional assessments, schools can help identify trends, patterns, and areas of concern. This data can inform prevention strategies, resource allocation, and collaborative decision-making among community stakeholders.
- Awareness and Advocacy: Schools can raise awareness within the community about the importance of prevention services and advocate for the needs of students and families. They can organize events, parent-teacher meetings, and community forums to promote awareness, disseminate information, and engage stakeholders in prevention efforts. Schools can also advocate for policy changes, additional resources, and partnerships to strengthen the community pathway.

By integrating prevention services, early identification, education, supportive services, collaboration, and advocacy, schools contribute significantly to the community pathway to prevention services, ensuring the well-being and safety of children and families.

Healthcare Providers

Healthcare providers play a critical role in a community pathway to prevention services by contributing their expertise, resources, and services to promote health and well-being. Here's how healthcare providers fit into a community pathway to prevention services:

- Preventive Healthcare Services: Healthcare providers, such as doctors, nurses, and clinics, offer preventive healthcare services that play a vital role in preventing and identifying health issues early on. These services include routine check-ups, vaccinations, screenings, and health assessments. By providing preventive care, healthcare providers can identify risk factors and intervene early to prevent or address child welfare issues.
- Screening and Detection: Healthcare providers can conduct screenings and assessments to identify physical, mental, and developmental health concerns in children and families. Through regular check-ups, well-child visits, and mental health screenings, healthcare providers can identify signs of abuse, neglect, mental health disorders, substance abuse, or other risk factors associated with child welfare issues. Early detection allows for timely intervention and appropriate referrals to prevention services.
- Referrals and Coordination: Healthcare providers can refer individuals and families to prevention services within the community pathway when they identify a child or family in need. Healthcare providers ensure a holistic and coordinated approach to prevention and support services.
- Health Education and Promotion: Healthcare providers can educate individuals and families about preventive measures, healthy lifestyles, and the importance of seeking timely care. They can provide information on topics such as nutrition, physical activity, safe parenting practices, and stress management. By promoting health literacy and empowering individuals with knowledge, healthcare providers contribute to prevention efforts.

- Collaboration with Community Partners: Healthcare providers can collaborate with other stakeholders in the community, such as schools, community-based organizations, social services agencies, and government entities. Through partnerships and information sharing, healthcare providers can contribute to a coordinated approach to prevention services. They can participate in multidisciplinary teams, case conferences, and community forums to share expertise, align resources, and address the complex needs of individuals and families.
- Data Sharing and Assessment: Healthcare providers generate and maintain valuable health data, which can contribute to the overall assessment and evaluation of prevention services within the community pathway. By sharing de-identified data related to child health outcomes, risk factors, and utilization of services, healthcare providers can help identify trends, measure impact, and inform evidence-based decision-making for prevention strategies.
- Advocacy and Policy: Healthcare providers can advocate for policies and initiatives that support prevention efforts and improve child welfare outcomes. They can lend their expertise and voice to advocate for increased funding, resources, and access to quality healthcare services. By actively participating in advocacy efforts, healthcare providers contribute to the creation of an enabling environment for prevention services.

Healthcare providers are essential stakeholders in a community pathway to prevention services, leveraging their expertise, resources, and influence to promote the health and well-being of individuals and families and prevent child welfare issues.

Tribes

Tribes play a significant role in a community pathway to prevention services by providing culturally relevant support, resources, and services to their communities.

- Cultural Competence and Awareness: Tribes bring unique cultural knowledge, traditions, and practices that are essential in creating culturally competent prevention services. By incorporating traditional values, language, and customs into prevention programs, tribes ensure that services are respectful and relevant to their communities. They contribute to raising cultural awareness among service providers and help bridge cultural gaps in the delivery of prevention services.
- Community Engagement and Leadership: Tribes actively engage their communities in the development and implementation of prevention initiatives. They provide leadership, guidance, and input in designing programs that address the specific needs and challenges faced by their community members. By involving tribal members in decision-making processes, tribes ensure that prevention services align with their community's values, priorities, and strengths.

- Prevention Program Development: Tribes develop prevention programs that are tailored to their community's needs and cultural context. These programs may focus on promoting healthy parenting practices, strengthening family connections, addressing historical trauma, building resilience, and providing substance abuse prevention. By designing programs that reflect the unique needs and strengths of their community, tribes contribute to a comprehensive and culturally grounded community pathway.
- Service Delivery and Referrals: Tribes often provide direct prevention services to their community members. These services can include parenting classes, youth mentorship programs, counseling, substance abuse treatment, and cultural activities. Additionally, tribes may establish partnerships with external service providers to ensure that their community members have access to a broader range of prevention services. They can refer individuals and families to external resources within the community pathway.
- Healing and Trauma-Informed Care: Tribes recognize the historical trauma and intergenerational challenges that their communities may face. They prioritize healing and trauma-informed care as part of their prevention efforts. Tribes provide safe spaces, culturally sensitive counseling, and traditional healing practices that acknowledge and address historical and contemporary traumas. By integrating healing approaches into prevention services, tribes support the overall well-being and resilience of their community members.
- Advocacy and Policy Development: Tribes actively advocate for policies that support prevention services and address the unique needs of their communities. They collaborate with tribal leadership, government agencies, and community partners to influence policy decisions that strengthen prevention efforts. Tribes play a critical role in advocating for increased resources, funding, and culturally competent approaches within the community pathway.
- Data Collection and Evaluation: Tribes contribute to data collection and evaluation efforts within the community pathway. They collect data on community needs, service utilization, outcomes, and strengths to inform program development, identify areas for improvement, and measure the impact of prevention services. By participating in data sharing and evaluation processes, tribes contribute to evidence-based decision-making and the overall effectiveness of the community pathway.

Tribes bring their cultural knowledge, community engagement, leadership, and healing practices to the community pathway to prevention services. By centering prevention efforts on their unique cultural context, tribes enhance the relevance, effectiveness, and sustainability of prevention services for their communities.

Needs Assessment

Needs assessments were an essential part of the process of prevention planning for San Bernardino County because they provide critical information about the needs and challenges faced by families and communities. By conducting a needs assessment, SBC was able to:

1. Identify Perceived Gaps in Services: Needs assessments can help San Bernardino County identify perceived gaps in services and resources that are currently available to families and communities. By identifying these perceived gaps, the County can develop strategies to address them and ensure that families understand the available resources and have access to the services and resources they need to prevent child abuse and neglect.
2. Prioritize Resources: Needs assessments can help San Bernardino County prioritize its resources and allocate them to areas where they are most needed. By focusing its efforts on the most pressing needs, the County can maximize the impact of its prevention efforts and ensure that resources are used effectively.
3. Engage with Communities: Needs assessments provide an opportunity for San Bernardino County to engage with communities and build partnerships with community-based organizations and service providers. By involving communities in the needs assessment process, the County gained insights into the unique needs and challenges faced by families and developed strategies that are tailored to meet their specific needs.
4. Measure Progress: Needs assessments provide a baseline for measuring progress and evaluating the effectiveness of prevention efforts. By regularly conducting needs assessments, San Bernardino County can track changes over time and adjust its strategies as needed to ensure it is making progress in preventing child abuse and neglect.

Needs assessments were carried out in several different approaches.

1. Initial Needs Assessment - First 5 San Bernardino (F5SB), in collaboration with CFS and Children's Network, sought to conduct a comprehensive needs assessment on the prevention of child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. F5SB contracted with EVALCORP, a professional applied research firm with expertise in child welfare and needs assessment initiatives.

The initial Needs Assessment showed what was working, challenges with existing services, and current community and family needs. See Appendix 4 – FINAL San Bernardino Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Report for the full needs assessment.

2. Community-Based Organization Focus Groups – Focus groups were conducted with CBOs and FRCs invited by DBH, CFS, CN, and the Inland Regional Center. The purpose of the focus groups was to assess the SBC service array at the Primary, Secondary, and Tertiary Prevention Levels, identify service array gaps, discover solutions to filling the service array gaps and address disproportionality in the service array. See Appendix 5 for CBO Focus Group Feedback – dated January 30, 2023 and Appendix 6 for Victorville CBO Focus Group Feedback for the complete results of the focus groups.

3. Lived Experience Focus Groups – Lived Experience Focus Groups were conducted on May 31st 2023 with parents and Non-Minor Dependents. The CPP was mostly written at this point, so the purpose of the focus groups was to obtain feedback from those with lived experience within the CPP. Community Pathways were met with great optimism and enthusiasm. This focus group also opened up a door to potentially work with the San Bernardino Foster Youth Advisory Board, adding voices with lived experience to the implementation phase. See Appendix 7 for the complete results of the Lived Experience Focus Groups.

In addition to these needs assessments, additional data sources to inform the CPP were gathered from:

- Child Welfare Indicators Project
- Casey Family Programs Data
- Healthy Places CA
- Census Bureau
- CA State Plan Definitions
- Focus Group Data
- Workgroup Data
- Internal CFS Data

Service and Asset Mapping

Through the needs assessments and focus groups, several challenges were noted in SBC. Those include:

- Geography
- Transportation
- Limited Funding
- Limited Resources
- Training and Education
- Workforce Stability
- Language and Technology Barriers
- Need to increase community trust

Additionally, capacity issues and limited funding may create bottlenecks for services. When utilized, the services work well, but San Bernardino County should educate the target populations and CBOs on pre-existing services at the primary and secondary prevention levels and provide a greater community pathway infrastructure within the county. The County should work on community engagement with target populations.

Many primary and secondary services can be accessed through the Inland Regional 211, which has over 2,700 services. Due to geographical constraints, most of the services are in the San Bernardino Metro Area and Victorville.

Primary Service Array

Access to basic needs: This includes access to food, water, shelter, and healthcare. These are fundamental needs that must be met for individuals and families to thrive.

Safety and security: Communities need to provide a safe and secure environment for residents, including effective law enforcement, emergency response services, and measures to prevent crime and violence.

Education and training: Providing access to quality education and training is essential for building strong and resilient communities, enabling individuals to develop the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in life and contribute to their communities.

Economic opportunities: Communities need to provide opportunities for individuals and businesses to thrive, including job training, access to capital, and support for entrepreneurship and small businesses.

Building Strong Families

Many organizations and programs in San Bernardino County offer services and resources to support families and promote family well-being.

For example, CFS provides a range of services to support families, including parenting classes, family counseling, and in-home support services. The county's Health and Human Services Agency also provides resources and support for families, including programs to promote healthy child development, prevent child abuse and neglect, and address domestic violence.

In addition, there are many community-based organizations and non-profits in San Bernardino County that work to support families, including organizations that focus on issues such as parenting, family literacy, and early childhood education.

Building stronger families is an important priority for many organizations and programs in San Bernardino County. By supporting families and promoting family well-being, these organizations can help to strengthen communities and improve outcomes for children and families.

There are several community-based organizations (CBOs) in San Bernardino County that provide services and support to families in areas such as marriage strengthening and child-rearing aid. Here are a few examples:

- Family Assistance Program: This CBO provides a range of services to support families in San Bernardino County, including parent education classes, marriage and relationship workshops, and support for survivors of domestic violence.
- Inland Empire Healthy Marriage and Relationship Coalition: This coalition is a partnership between several CBOs and faith-based organizations in the region that work to promote healthy marriages and relationships through education, training, and support.
- Children's Network: provides support for families with children in areas such as child abuse prevention, foster care and adoption, and early childhood education and development.
- Child Care Resource Center: This CBO offers resources and support for families in need of childcare services, including referrals to childcare providers, training and education for childcare providers, and support for families in accessing affordable childcare.
- Inland Empire United Way: This organization provides support for families in a range of areas, including education, financial stability, and health outcomes, through partnerships with local organizations and programs.

These are just a few examples of the CBOs in San Bernardino County that offer services and support for families in areas such as marriage strengthening and child-rearing aid.

San Bernardino County offers a range of resources and support for fathers who are absent from the home but want to stay involved in their children's lives. Here are a few examples:

1. The San Bernardino County Department of Child Support Services offers programs and services to help fathers establish paternity, establish child support orders, and modify child support orders as needed. They also offer resources and support for fathers who want to stay involved in their children's lives.
2. The San Bernardino County Department of Children and Family Services provides a range of services to support fathers and families, including parenting classes, in-home support services, and resources for fathers who are struggling with substance abuse or mental health issues.

3. San Bernardino Fatherhood is a community-based, grass-roots organization working to serve fathers, children, and their families in San Bernardino County. Its mission is to enhance the engagement of fathers by promoting a culture of father inclusion and responsible fatherhood. San Bernardino Fatherhood offers several father and parent classes including Boot Camp for New Dads, 24/7 Dad Key Behaviors Workshop, Fathering in 15, Domestic Violence Education and Prevention Workshop, Life Skills Education Series for (Non-Custodial) Fathers, and Understanding Dad (for Moms).
4. The San Bernardino County Fatherhood Collaborative is a partnership between several organizations and agencies in the county that work to promote positive fatherhood and support fathers in their role as parents. The collaborative offers workshops, support groups, and other resources for fathers.
5. The Inland Empire Father Involvement Coalition is another organization that works to promote positive fatherhood and support fathers in the Inland Empire region, which includes San Bernardino County. They offer a range of resources and support for fathers, including workshops, training, and advocacy.
6. The National Fatherhood Initiative offers resources and support for fathers across the country, including a range of programs and tools to help fathers stay involved in their children's lives.

Overall, while there may be challenges for fathers who are absent from the home but want to stay involved in their children's lives, there are also many resources and support available in San Bernardino County to help fathers succeed in their role as parents.

There is a large body of research that highlights the importance of fathers in children's lives. Here are a few examples:

1. According to a study by the National Fatherhood Initiative, children who grow up with involved fathers are more likely to do well in school, have higher self-esteem, and exhibit fewer behavioral problems.
2. A study published in the Journal of Marriage and Family found that children who had a close relationship with their fathers during adolescence were more likely to have higher educational attainment and higher earnings as adults.
3. A review of research on father involvement by the National Institutes of Health concluded that positive father-child relationships are associated with better mental health outcomes for children, including lower rates of depression and anxiety.
4. According to a study by the National Bureau of Economic Research, children who grow up without a father in the home are more likely to experience a range of negative outcomes, including lower educational attainment, higher rates of teen pregnancy, and lower earnings as adults.

There is a significant amount of research that supports the importance of fathers in children's lives. While every family is unique and many factors can influence a child's development, promoting positive father-child relationships and supporting fathers in their role as parents can help to improve outcomes for children and families.

Other Basic Needs of Families in San Bernardino County

Access to affordable childcare: For many families, access to safe and affordable childcare is essential to work or attend school. Childcare can be a significant expense for families, particularly those with low incomes, and may be difficult to access in some areas.

Transportation: Reliable transportation is important for families to access basic needs such as groceries, healthcare, and education. In areas with limited public transportation, families may face additional challenges in accessing these resources.

Affordable housing: Access to safe and affordable housing is a basic need for all families. In areas with high housing costs, families may struggle to find affordable housing that meets their needs.

Access to healthcare: Families need access to affordable and high-quality healthcare to maintain their physical and mental health. This includes access to preventive care, medical treatment, and mental health services.

Social support: Social support is important for families to maintain their well-being and navigate the challenges of daily life. This includes support from friends, family, and community-based organizations.

Language Barriers

Language barriers can be a significant challenge for families in San Bernardino County who speak a language other than English. Families who are not fluent in English may face difficulty accessing information and services, communicating with service providers, and advocating for their needs.

This can result in families experiencing a lack of access to necessary services, misunderstandings or miscommunications with service providers, and a sense of disempowerment and isolation. It can also lead to difficulties in navigating complex systems, such as healthcare systems.

Language barriers can also impact the quality of care that families receive. For example, families who are not able to communicate effectively with healthcare providers may not receive appropriate medical treatment or have difficulty managing chronic conditions.

To address these challenges, service providers and community organizations in San Bernardino County will offer more services and resources in languages other than English. This may include providing interpretation and translation services, hiring staff who are fluent in multiple languages, and developing culturally and linguistically appropriate resources and services. By addressing language barriers, service providers and community organizations can better support families in accessing the services and resources they need to thrive.

Some services and organizations in San Bernardino County that work to eliminate language barriers:

1. San Bernardino County Language Access Services: This county department provides interpretation and translation services to county departments, agencies, and community-based organizations.
2. Inland Empire Health Plan: This healthcare provider offers interpretation services in multiple languages for members who have limited English proficiency.
3. Inland Counties Legal Services: This legal aid organization provides free legal services to low-income residents, including interpretation and translation services.
4. San Bernardino County Public Health: This department offers health education materials and resources in multiple languages to promote health and wellness for all residents.
5. Community-based organizations: Several community-based organizations in San Bernardino County offer services and resources in multiple languages, including immigrant rights organizations, community centers, and cultural centers.
6. San Bernardino County Library: This library system offers books, materials, and resources in multiple languages, as well as online language learning resources.

Basic Services for Other Disadvantaged Individuals

American Sign Language (ASL)

ASL interpretation services can be a pressing need in San Bernardino County for individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing. Access to ASL interpretation is necessary to ensure effective communication and equal access to services, resources, and opportunities.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires that public entities, including government agencies and organizations that receive federal funding, provide effective communication to people who are deaf or hard of hearing, and this can include ASL interpretation services.

Some services and organizations in San Bernardino County that provide American Sign Language (ASL) interpretation services:

1. San Bernardino County Department of Aging and Adult Services: This department provides ASL interpretation services for seniors and adults with disabilities who need assistance with daily living.
2. San Bernardino County Department of Behavioral Health: This department provides ASL interpretation services for individuals receiving mental health services.
3. Inland Empire Health Plan: This healthcare provider offers ASL interpretation services for members who are deaf or hard of hearing.
4. Inland Regional Center: This organization provides support and services for individuals with developmental disabilities, including ASL interpretation services.
5. Community-based organizations: Several community-based organizations in San Bernardino County offer ASL interpretation services for events, meetings, and other activities, including the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Service Center and the Inland Empire Association of the Deaf.

Individuals and Families Experiencing Homelessness

San Bernardino County has a homeless population. According to the 2020 Point-in-Time count, there were an estimated 2,607 people experiencing homelessness in the county on any given day, including individuals, families with children, and unaccompanied youth. This represents an increase of 6.2% from the previous year's count. In 2023, individuals experiencing homelessness increased by 26% from last year (4,195 compared to 3,333). However, the number of sheltered individuals increased by 29.1 percent – 275 people – showing that the County continues to make progress in providing housing options for the homeless.

San Bernardino County has implemented several initiatives to address homelessness, including the Homeless Partnership Continuum of Care and the Bringing Our Community Home Strategic Plan. These initiatives aim to increase access to housing, supportive services, and employment opportunities for homeless individuals and families, and to promote collaboration and coordination among service providers.

Project Room Key was an initiative launched in California to address the homelessness crisis during the COVID-19 pandemic. It aimed to provide temporary housing for individuals experiencing homelessness who were at high risk of contracting or spreading the virus.

Under Project Room Key, hotels and motels were leased by local governments to serve as temporary shelters for homeless individuals. The initiative provided a safe and stable environment for individuals to practice social distancing, receive necessary services, and reduce the risk of COVID-19 transmission. Project Room Key served 2,210 families in 2022. 704 of those families have moved into permanent housing.

There are a variety of services available in San Bernardino County to support individuals experiencing homelessness. Here are some examples:

1. Emergency shelters: There are several emergency shelters throughout San Bernardino County that provide temporary housing and support services to individuals and families experiencing homelessness.
2. Transitional housing: Some organizations in San Bernardino County provide transitional housing, which is longer-term housing for individuals and families who are working to overcome homelessness and become self-sufficient.
3. Supportive services: Many organizations in San Bernardino County offer supportive services such as case management, mental health services, and substance abuse treatment to help individuals experiencing homelessness address the root causes of their situation.
4. Food and nutrition services: Several organizations in San Bernardino County provide food and nutrition services to individuals experiencing homelessness, including food banks, meal programs, and food delivery services.
5. Health services: Some organizations in San Bernardino County provide healthcare services to homeless individuals, including medical care, mental health services, and substance abuse treatment.
6. Employment and job training services: Several organizations in San Bernardino County offer job training and employment services to help individuals experiencing homelessness find and maintain stable employment.

Tertiary Service Array

San Bernardino County offers a range of tertiary services to support families in crisis and prevent the need for foster care placement whenever possible. If foster care placement is necessary, tertiary services can be used to help reunify families and/or find suitable adoptive homes/guardianships if parental rights are terminated. Here are some examples of tertiary services available in San Bernardino County:

1. In-home family preservation services: In-home family preservation services are available in San Bernardino County to provide intensive support to families in crisis to prevent the need for foster care placement whenever possible. These services may include counseling, parenting education, and assistance with basic needs. Here are some examples of in-home preservation services available in San Bernardino County:
  - Intensive in-home services: Intensive in-home services are available in San Bernardino County to provide families with intensive support in their own homes. These services may include counseling, parenting education, and assistance with basic needs.
  - Family coaching: Family coaching services are available in San Bernardino County to help families develop strategies for managing challenging behaviors and improving family communication. These services may be provided in the home or a community setting.
  - Respite care: Respite care services are available in San Bernardino County to provide temporary relief to caregivers who are experiencing stress or burnout. These services may be provided in the home or a community setting.
  - Home visitation: Home visitation services are available in San Bernardino County to provide families with regular visits from trained professionals who can provide support and guidance on a range of parenting and child development topics.

- Crisis intervention: Crisis intervention services are available in San Bernardino County to provide immediate support to families in crisis. These services may be provided in the home or a community setting.
2. Kinship care services: Kinship care services are available in San Bernardino County to support relatives who are caring for children whose parents are unable to care for them. These services may include financial assistance, counseling, and parenting education. Here are some examples of kinship care services available in San Bernardino County:
- Financial assistance: Kinship caregivers in San Bernardino County may be eligible for financial assistance to help cover the costs of caring for a child. This assistance may include cash aid, childcare subsidies, and other supports.
  - Counseling and support groups: Counseling and support groups are available in San Bernardino County to provide kinship caregivers with emotional support and guidance on navigating the challenges of caring for a child.
  - Legal assistance: Legal assistance is available in San Bernardino County to help kinship caregivers navigate the legal system and ensure that the child in their care is receiving the support and services they need.
  - Parenting education: Parenting education services are available in San Bernardino County to help kinship caregivers develop the skills and knowledge they need to provide effective care for the child in their care.
  - Respite care: Respite care services are available in San Bernardino County to provide temporary relief to kinship caregivers who are experiencing stress or burnout.
3. Adoption services: Adoption services are available in San Bernardino County to support families who are interested in adopting children. These services may include adoption counseling, home studies, and assistance with the adoption process. Here are some examples of adoption services available in San Bernardino County:
- Adoption counseling: Adoption counseling services are available in San Bernardino County to help families navigate the adoption process and prepare for the challenges and joys of adopting a child.
  - Home studies: Home studies are required as part of the adoption process, and San Bernardino County offers home study services to help families prepare for adoption and ensure that they are providing a safe and stable home environment.
  - Placement services: Placement services are available in San Bernardino County to help families identify and connect with children who are available for adoption. These services may include matching services, adoption fairs, and other resources.

- Post-adoption support: post-adoption support services are available in San Bernardino County to help families adjust to the challenges and joys of parenting an adopted child. These services may include counseling, support groups, and assistance with accessing community resources.
  - Adoption subsidies: Adoption subsidies may be available in San Bernardino County to help families cover the costs associated with adopting a child, such as medical expenses and legal fees.
4. Permanency planning: Permanency planning services are available in San Bernardino County to help families develop plans for achieving long-term stability and permanency for their children. These plans may include reunification with birth parents, adoption, or placement with a relative or another caregiver. Here are some examples of permanency planning services available in San Bernardino County:
- Reunification services: Reunification services are available in San Bernardino County to help families overcome the challenges that led to a child's placement in foster care and work toward reunification.
  - Guardianship services: Guardianship services are available in San Bernardino County to help families establish legal guardianship of a child who is unable to return to their birth parents.
  - Adoption services: Adoption services are available in San Bernardino County to help families who are interested in adopting a child who is unable to return to their birth parents.
  - Permanency mediation: Permanency mediation services are available in San Bernardino County to help families develop and implement plans for achieving long-term stability and permanency for their children.
  - Independent living services: Independent living services are available in San Bernardino County to help youth who are aging out of the foster care system develop the skills and resources they need to live independently.
5. Behavioral health services: Behavioral health services are available in San Bernardino County to support families who are struggling with mental health or substance use issues. These services may include counseling, medication management, and support groups. Here are some examples of behavioral health services available in San Bernardino County:
- Department of Behavioral Health offers a full array of specialty mental health services (SMHS) for Medi-Cal-eligible children and substance use disorder treatment. All these services are available to foster children. These services are provided through the following programs:

- Screening Assessment, Referral and Treatment (SART): SART serves children aged 0-5 who may be under the care of CFS. SART is responsible for assessing newly detained children by providing early intervention services to some and facilitating access to more intensive specialty mental health services to others.
- Juvenile Court Behavioral Health Services (JCBHS): JCBHS is responsible for assessing newly detained children aged 6-21 who are under the care of CFS and provides early intervention services to some and facilitate access to more intensive specialty mental health services to other. Early Identification and Intervention Services (EIIS): EIIS provides services to those youth under age nine (9) who are not displaying age-appropriate interactions and attachment. Many of the referrals come from the SART Centers.
- Outpatient and Community Clinics: Outpatient and Community Clinic services are available in San Bernardino County to provide individual and family therapy, medication management, and other services to individuals with mental health challenges.
- Foster Family Agency Mental Health Services (FFA-MHS): FFA-MHS Program provides SMHS and is intended to increase the integration of and ease access for Mental Health Services to children who are placed in one of the ten (10) FFA's that are contracted with DBH to provide MHS to youth residing within one of their FFA homes. In addition to MHS, they also are trained to provide Therapeutic Foster Care (TFC) services via the Resource Parents.
- Centralized Childrens Intensive Case Management Services (CCICMS): CCICMS provides SMHS in three areas: direct care services, out-of-county youth service coordination, and assessments of youth admitted to a residential treatment facility. Many of the children referred are experiencing severe difficulties and are not able to be served solely through another SMHS program.
- Therapeutic Behavioral Services (TBS): TBS is an intensive one-on-one, short-term outpatient treatment intervention for children and youth with serious emotional problems of mental illness who are experiencing a stressful transition or life crisis and need additional support in conjunction with their current SMHS provider.
- Success First/Early Wrap (SF/EW): SF/EW serves children and youth who struggle with emotional disturbances, eating disorders, frequent hospitalizations, and CFS youth who are in a CFS office pending placement. This program is community-based, family-centered, strength-based, and services are available 24/7, to keep children in their community at the lowest level of care possible.
- Wraparound (SB 163): Wraparound agencies work collaboratively with CFS, DBH, and Probation to reduce the risk of out-of-home placement and recidivism by bringing individuals, agencies, and the community together as the decision-making team with the center focus of meeting the needs of the child and family.

- Children Residential Intensive Services (ChRIS): The ChRIS program is comprised of mental health clinics that are part of a Short-Term Residential Treatment Program (STRTP) and is utilized by CFS and/or Probation to meet the needs of both Dependents and Wards.
- Crisis intervention services: Crisis intervention services are available in San Bernardino County to provide immediate support to individuals who are experiencing a mental health or substance use crisis. This includes Crisis Walk-In Centers (CWIC), Community Crisis Response Teams (CCRT), Crisis Stabilization Units (CSUs), and a Crisis Residential Treatment (CRT) exclusively for 18 to 26-year-old youth.
- Substance use treatment services: Substance use treatment services are available in San Bernardino County to provide individual and group counseling, medication-assisted treatment, and other supports to individuals who are struggling with substance use challenges.
- In addition to the programs listed above, DBH, CFS and Probation have several collaborate processes that they work closely together on. This includes:
  - Family Urgent Response System (FURS): FURS is a mobile response and stabilization team to provide stabilization services to caregivers and current or former CFS and Probation foster youth who are experiencing a crisis. In the County of San Bernardino, the Success First/Early Wrap providers are the providers who are contracted to provide the FURS mobile response.
  - Family First Prevention Services Act Part IV Qualified Individual (QI): A Qualified Individual from DBH will assess all CFS and Probation youth prior to placement into an STRTP or within 30 days of placement into an STRTP. This assessment will determine the child's behavioral health needs, goals, and will make recommendations regarding the child's placement needs. This will include determining if the needs can best be met within a family-based setting or not. If not, the most appropriate level of care, interventions, and treatment for the child are provided as a recommendation. CFS, DBH, and Probation collaborate weekly to ensure the referrals are processed swiftly and those completing the QI assessments have the necessary information and documents to complete a timely and thorough assessment.
  - The Referral, Screening, Assessment and Treatment (RSAT) process is a collaborative between CFS, DBH, and the SART providers to ensure there is a streamlined process for referring foster youth for an assessment and re-screening when applicable. There is an RSAT bi-monthly meeting that is facilitated by CFS and DBH.

- AB 2083: In response to AB2083, San Bernardino County created an Interagency Leadership Team (ILT) Committee that meets monthly and the Joint Interagency Leadership for Services to Children, Adolescents and Families (JILS-CAF) that works under the leadership of the ILT.
- Interagency Placement Committee (IPC): IPC is a collaborative between CFS, DBH, Probation, County Schools, IRC, and Children’s Network that meets weekly to provide collaborative review and placement recommendations for children and youth referred for a higher level of Care.
- Administrative Sub-Committee (ASC): ASC is a collaborative between CFS, DBH, and Probation to oversee referrals and management of Wraparound Services.
- Youth in Office (YIO): This is a collaborative between CFS, DBH, SF/EW, and Wraparound providers to ensure youth receive SMHS while waiting placement and are successfully linked to appropriate services for ongoing care.
- In the calendar year 2022, 3,791 foster children received Specialty Mental Health Services from DBH, and/or a community-based organization that is contracted with DBH to provide SMHS. Over 3,000 foster children were screened and assessed for Mental Health Service needs.
- DBH was recently awarded $51,410,844.00 in the Behavioral Health Continuum Infrastructure Program (BHCIP) funding for the Comprehensive Treatment Campus project in the High Desert expected to be operational in June 2026. For children and youth this includes:
  - A 16-bed adolescent Substance Abuse Residential Treatment Program.
  - A 14-bed Psychiatric Residential Treatment Facility
  - A Family Resource Center
- Peer support services: Peer support services are available in San Bernardino County to provide individuals with lived experience of mental health or substance use challenges with support and guidance from others who have gone through similar experiences.
- Prevention and early intervention services: Prevention and early intervention services are available in San Bernardino County to help individuals and families access support and resources before mental health or substance use challenges become more serious.
- In addition to SMHS provided through DBH, foster children may access mental health services through the following programs:
  - The Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Services (CAPTS) programs: Administered by CFS, CAPTS are the primary means for providing counseling services to reunifying families. These Behavioral Health and Evidence-Based/Trauma-Informed Mental Health Services include:

- Individual Therapy
  - Family/Couple/Group Therapy
  - Psychological Evaluation
  - Anger Management Classes
  - Parenting Classes (1,163 families served)
  - The number of families receiving these services:
- Medi-Cal Managed Care Programs (MCPs): Administered by Inland Empire Health Plan (IEHP), foster children may access non-specialty mental health services through the fee-for-service provider network.

FFPSA Services Offered in Collaboration with CFS and Probation

Current FFPSA services include Functional Family Therapy, Parent and Child Interaction Therapy, and Motivational Interviewing.

Functional Family Therapy (FFT) is a family-based intervention that is offered in San Bernardino County. FFT is designed to help families overcome a range of behavioral and emotional issues that can disrupt family dynamics and negatively impact family functioning.

FFT is typically delivered in 8 to 30 sessions and involves a highly structured and intensive intervention that is delivered in the home or the community. The approach is designed to address the specific needs of each family and involves a comprehensive assessment, the development of an individualized treatment plan, and ongoing monitoring and evaluation.

FFT is delivered by highly trained clinicians who are specifically trained in the FFT model. The goal of the intervention is to help families build stronger relationships, improve communication, and develop new coping skills to better manage challenges and stressors.

In San Bernardino County, FFT is available through the Integrated New Families Opportunities, a DBH program for justice-involved youth. This is an MHSA-funded program that was implemented in collaboration with Probation. The goal of offering FFT is to provide families with access to effective and evidence-based interventions that can help them address a range of issues and improve overall family functioning.

Parent and Child Interaction Therapy (PCIT) is an evidence-based intervention for children aged 2-7 designed to promote positive parent-child relationships and improve child behavior. PCIT is available in San Bernardino County through the Screening, Assessment, Referral, and Treatment (SART) and Early Identification and Intervention Services (EIS) programs through DBH contracted agencies.

PCIT focuses on improving the quality of parent-child interactions and strengthening parenting skills. The program is delivered by trained professionals who work with parents to develop strategies for improving communication, setting appropriate limits and boundaries, and promoting positive behaviors in their children.

PCIT is typically delivered in a series of sessions that are customized to meet the specific needs of each family. The program is designed to be flexible and can be adapted to the unique needs and challenges of each family.

The goal of PCIT is to help parents develop more positive and effective ways of interacting with their children, which can lead to improved child behavior and overall family functioning. The program is available to families in San Bernardino County through a variety of providers, including community-based organizations.

Motivational Interviewing (MI) is a counseling technique that is commonly used in San Bernardino County to help clients explore and resolve ambivalence about behavior change. MI is an evidence-based approach that helps individuals identify their reasons for change, build self-efficacy, and develop an action plan.

In San Bernardino County, MI is often used in a variety of settings, including substance abuse treatment, mental health counseling, and health education. The approach is typically delivered in a one-on-one setting, but it can also be used in group settings.

The core principles of MI involve creating a non-judgmental and supportive environment, actively listening to the client, and using open-ended questions to encourage exploration of their feelings and motivations for change. The goal is to help the client identify and articulate their reasons for change, rather than trying to impose change from the outside.

MI is effective in helping individuals make positive behavior changes, such as reducing substance use, increasing physical activity, and improving mental health. In San Bernardino County, MI is often used as a component of a larger treatment plan and can be delivered by a variety of providers, including mental health clinicians, substance abuse counselors, and health educators. This is known as cross-cutting case management.

Finally, San Bernardino has a history of investing in Wraparound services. Wraparound services are a collaborative, team-based approach to providing individualized and comprehensive care to children, youth, and families who are involved in the child welfare or juvenile probation systems. In San Bernardino County, these services are provided through the Family and Youth Integrated Services (FYIS) program and DBH contract agencies, which is a partnership between DBH, CFS, and Probation.

The FYIS program aims to provide a range of services to support families in achieving safety, permanency, and well-being for their children. This includes services such as counseling, case management, mental health treatment, substance abuse treatment, education, employment support, and more.

The Wraparound model is built on the premise that families and youth have unique strengths, values, and preferences that should guide the development of services and supports. The program uses a strengths-based, family-centered approach to empower families to make informed decisions and achieve their goals.

The FYIS program has demonstrated success in reducing recidivism and improving outcomes for children and families involved in the child welfare and juvenile probation systems.

However, further investment in Wraparound must be considered from a purely local level as California did not include the service in its Five-Year Prevention Plan.

Spending and Sustainability Plan

CFS SBG Spending Overview

CFS will look to invest the State Block Grant (SBG) into several different interventions and strategies. Most of these activities are investing in our community partners, which will in turn increase administrative claiming, making the SBG sustainable.

Gift Cards for Incentivizing Participation in Lived Experience Focus Groups

- With the difficulty of bringing Lived Experience NMDs to the table for input on the CPP, it was requested that a small portion of the FFPS SBG be used for gift cards to incentivize participation. After review, it was decided Target and Amazon gift cards would be used based on a list of approved County gift card vendors.

Expansion of Existing Contracts and Resources

- Leverage the SBG and existing contracts to train CBOs to provide well-supported EBPs to model fidelity.
- Start-Up costs for CBOs to provide well-supported EBPs to model fidelity.
- Contracts would need to have a clause that states the services will need to be provided to keep the money.
- This could lead to increases on the administrative side of claiming since we would not have to apply an eligibility rate to the FFPSA candidate Pin Codes.
- We would need the state to pass legislation that gives CFS a 30% state share of the costs or it could just be break-even.

Motivational Interviewing for CFS Staff

- Motivational Interviewing is one of the ten well-supported EBPs in the CA Five-Year Prevention Services Plan.
- In the plan acceptable uses for MI are for substance abuse counseling and cross-cutting case management.
- Delivering MI to model fidelity would enable children to become FFPSA candidates if they are found to be at imminent or serious risk of foster care absent preventive services outlined in the California Five-Year Prevention Plan.
- Will need to decide which units will receive training.

Build Community Pathways Infrastructure

- Expansion of Alternative Response Team to process candidate determination from community partners.
- Educating CBOs, FBOs, and other community partners/mandated reporters on community pathways to EBPs.

CFTM Contract Maximization

- The CFTM facilitation contract with Victor is not currently used to maximum capacity.
- CFS will look to amend the contract to include Preventive CFTMs to leverage this contract to full capacity before investing additional funds into it.

Probation SBG Spending Overview

Probation will look to invest the State Block Grant (SBG) into funding program administrators for new and enhanced services and building community pathway infrastructure.

Funding New Services through Pilot Programs for Program Administrators

The Probation Department is seeking to expand the ability to provide primary, secondary, and tertiary services with the limited number of available probation officers. Utilizing community partners as a contracted program administrator will provide the ability to deliver quality outcomes. To be fiscally responsible, the use of program administrators to deliver services will be piloted and tracked for positive outcomes.

- Pilot program #1. Services and Events Coordinator
A CBO will be utilized as a services coordinator for multiple facets of service delivery. CBO will coordinate prevention and intervention services, community and resource events, and transportation to and from Probation requested activities. This includes Independent Living Program classes and materials; directing clients to community services; providing approved incentives; providing meals/snacks/refreshments; maintaining attendance records and issuing certifications of completion as required by the Probation Department. For Probation event coordination services, the CBO will coordinate venues, activities, refreshments, and transportation for appropriate youth. Monthly data regarding services provided will be gathered and tracked for desired outcomes.
- Pilot program #2. Services Oriented Geographic Information System Support
The Probation Department has identified that clients have a wide range of needs and the ability to refer them to local resources is paramount in successful attendance and the theory of change. A Geographic Information System that displays service providers nearby a location is being piloted. Funding may be utilized for establishing the database and keeping information current/relevant. A mobile app may be utilized for service provider referrals during fieldwork activities.

Build Community Pathways Infrastructure

The Probation Department has identified the value in increasing awareness of existing resources within San Bernardino County as well as collaborating to identify and fill gaps in service. A Biannual Juvenile Services event will be held in person. It will foster relationship-building for Community-Based Organizations, Faith Based providers, County Service Providers, and educational and vocational partners.

Recognitions

In closing, we recognize the countless hours that have gone into creating this CPP. We thank everyone who contributed to the CPP by participating in a workgroup, focus group, and/or as part of the FFPSA ILT Governing Committee.

Additional Assurances

Family First Prevention Services (FFPS) Program Assurances

County of San Bernardino (SBC)

Instructions: These assurances must be submitted by local child welfare services (CWS) and probation agencies that opt into the FFPS Program and are a required component of the local comprehensive prevention plan (CPP). These assurances will remain in effect unless changed by the submission of updated assurances and an updated CPP. Any changes to the local CPP must include resubmission of these assurances.

Title IV-E Prevention Program Reporting

In accordance with section 471(e)(5)(B)(x) of the federal Social Security Act and California Welfare and Institutions Code (WIC) section 16587(d)(9), SBC Children and Family Services and Probation Department, (Name(s) of participating child welfare services and/or probation agency) is providing this assurance, consistent with the local CPP and the California Title IV-E Prevention Services State Plan, to collect and report to the CDSS information and data required for the FFPS Program, including all information and data necessary for federal financial participation, federal reporting, to determine program outcomes, and to evaluate the services provided. This includes, but is not limited to, child-specific information and expenditure data.

Child Safety Monitoring

In accordance with section 471(e)(5)(B)(ii) of the federal Social Security Act and California WIC sections 16587(d)(7)-(8), the SBC Children and Family Services and Probation Department (Name(s) of participating child welfare services and/or probation agency) assures it will provide oversight and monitoring of the safety of children who receive services under the FFPS Program, including oversight and monitoring of periodic risk assessments throughout the period of service delivery. The agency further assures it will monitor and oversee the safety of children and periodic risk assessments for children who receive FFPS program services through its contracted community-based organizations. If the local child welfare and/or probation agency determines the child's risk of entering foster care remains high despite the provision of the services, the agency assures that it will reexamine the child's prevention plan during the 12-month period. In the case of an Indian child, the agency assures the assessments, and any reexamination of the prevention plan will be conducted in partnership with the Indian child's tribe.

Workforce Development and Training

In accordance with section 471(e)(5)(B)(viii) of the federal Social Security Act, the SBC Children and Family Services and Probation Department (Name(s) of participating child welfare services and/or probation agency) assures it will adhere to the FFPS training plan as outlined in the California Title IV-E Prevention Services State Plan, and ensure caseworkers within both the community and Title IV-E agency pathways under the FFPS program are supported and trained in assessing what children and their families need, connecting to the families they serve, accessing and delivering the needed trauma-informed and evidence-based services, overseeing and evaluating the continuing appropriateness of the services, and all other foundational requirements, including but not limited to, understanding how the requirements of the federal Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) and implementing state laws intersect with prevention services provided through the community based and Title IV-E agency pathways.

Trauma-Informed Service Delivery

The SBC Children and Family Services and Probation Department (Name of participating child welfare services and/or probation agency) assures that in accordance with section 471(e)(4)(B) of the federal Social Security Act and California WIC section 16587(d)(6), each service in the CPP provided to or on behalf of a child will be provided under an organizational structure and treatment framework that involves understanding, recognizing, and responding to the effects of all types of trauma, including historical and multigenerational trauma, and in accordance with recognized principles of a trauma-informed approach and trauma-specific interventions to address trauma's consequences and facilitate healing.

Model Fidelity for Evidence-Based Programs and Continuous Quality Improvement

In accordance with section 471(e)(5)(B)(iii)(II) of the federal Social Security Act and California WIC sections 16587(d)(10) and 16587(d)(11)(A), the SBC Children and Family Services and Probation Department (Name of participating child welfare services and/or probation agency) assures that services provided in the CPP will be continuously monitored to ensure fidelity to the practice model, to determine the outcomes achieved, and to refine and improve practices based upon information learned, using a continuous quality improvement framework, developed in accordance with instructions issued by the CDSS. The agency agrees to participate in state level fidelity oversight, data collection, evaluation, and coordination to determine the effectiveness of a service provided under the FFPS program.

Equitable and Culturally Responsive Services and Supports

In accordance with the Governor’s Executive Order N-16-22, and consistent with California Five Year Prevention Services State Plan, the SBC Children and Family Services and Probation Department (Name of participating child welfare services and/or probation agency) assures that the implementation of interventions, services and supports should be equitable, culturally responsive and targeted to address disproportionality and disparities experienced by black, indigenous, and people of color, as well as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer and plus (LGBTQ+) children and youth.

Coordination with Local Mental Health

In accordance with section 471(e)(10)(C) of the federal Social Security Act and California WIC section 16588(f)(3), the SBC Children and Family Services and Probation Department (Name of participating child welfare services and/or probation agency) assures the agency will establish a joint written protocol, based on the model developed by the CDSS and Department of Health Care Services for use among the child welfare agency, probation department, behavioral health agency, and other appropriate entities to determine which program is responsible for payment, in part or whole, for a prevention service provided on behalf of an eligible child.

Overview

The Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) was signed into federal law as part of the federal Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018 on February 9, 2018. The FFPSA reforms federal child welfare funding under Title IV-E of the Social Security Act (SSA) to authorize the use of federal Title IV-E funding for specified services to:

- Children at imminent risk of entering foster care,
- Pregnant and parenting foster youth, and
- The parents or kin caregivers of these children.

Part I of FFPSA allows states to access federal financial participation (FFP) for certain prevention services. Services that may be funded include evidence-based and trauma-informed mental health services, substance use prevention and treatment services and in-home parent skill-based programs that have been rated as well-supported, supported or promising by the Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse. California passed Assembly Bill (AB) 153 to achieve full compliance with the federal law by October 1, 2021.

The State Block Grant funds provide additional flexibility. A county can use these funds to incorporate primary prevention strategies and/or support culturally responsive programs and other secondary and tertiary Evidence Based Programs (EBPs) that fill service gaps but are not yet included in the State's Five-Year Title IV-E Prevention Plan.

At the state level the California Department of Social Services (CDSS) and Department of Health Care Services (DHCS) will work together to establish guidance and protocols for program planning and implementation

For San Bernardino County the FFPSA - Governing Committee was formed to optimize utilization of the new opportunities offered by FFPSA and coordinate efforts among the interested and affected agencies.

Background

Though foster care entry rates in San Bernardino County (SBC) and California have declined in recent years, SBC rates of entry are consistently higher than the state wide rates.

Furthermore, foster care entry rates and in-care rates are higher for African American and Native American children, reflecting long-standing systemic issues. Disparity and Disproportionality are a persistent and pernicious problem in child welfare.

Definitions

For the purposes of this Charter the following definitions apply:

- Candidate for foster care: A child described in Section 475(13) of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 675(13)), and as further described in the approved State Plan for Title IV-E prevention services and programs.
    - A child may be considered at imminent risk of foster care when prevention services are necessary to mitigate the child’s risk of entry or reentry into foster care, and the child meets the criteria for imminent risk of foster care established in the State Plan.
    - A child shall not be a candidate for foster care while simultaneously residing in foster care. (Welfare and Institutions Code (WIC) 16586).
    - A county may also provide FFPSA Prevention services for: all of the following:
      - ✓ A child or nonminor dependent in foster care who is a pregnant or parenting foster youth.
      - ✓ The parents or kin caregivers of a child candidate.
  - Disparity: The lack of equity between groups and derived either by computing a ratio based on the
    - Rates per 1,000 for two groups or
    - Disproportionality metrics for two groups. (California Child Welfare Indicators Project (CCWIP)).
  - Disproportionality: The degree to which groups of children are present in the child welfare system at rates that are higher or lower than their presence in the general population. (CCWIP).
  - Foster Child/Youth: A minor under 18 years of age, or a nonminor under 21 years of age who is eligible to reenter foster care and is under the jurisdiction of Juvenile Court through
    - WIC 300, et seq, and are placed in out-of-home care, or are at-risk of being placed in out-of-home care, or
    - WIC 602, et seq, for Probation and is placed in out-of-home care.
  - Prevention Services: There are three types of Prevention Services:
    - Primary: Focuses on the social determinants of health and the wider set of forces and systems shaping the conditions of daily life.
    - Secondary: Activities for those with one or more risk factors associated with compromised well-being or child maltreatment, such as poverty, parental substance abuse, young parental age, parental mental health concerns, exposure to violence, and parental or child disabilities.
    - Tertiary: Activities for families where child maltreatment has occurred, seeking to mitigate its trauma and reduce the negative consequences of the maltreatment and to prevent its recurrence. (All-County Letter (ACL) 22-23).

Purpose

San Bernardino County Mission Statement

The mission of the government of the County of San Bernardino is to satisfy its customers by providing service that promotes the health, safety, well being, and quality of life of its residents according to the County Charter, general laws, and the will of the people it serves

Probation Mission

The Probation Department's mission is to build stronger families and safer communities by improving the lives of those we serve through assessment, treatment, rehabilitative services and enforcement.

CFS Mission

The Mission of CFS is to protect endangered children, preserve and strengthen their families and develop alternative family settings. Services mandated by law and regulation are provided in the least intrusive manner with a family-centered focus. This mission is accomplished in collaboration with the family, a wide variety of public and private agencies and members of the community.

Purpose, Continued

Purpose of the Governing Committee

The primary purpose of the FFPSA Governing Committee is to reduce the incidence of child maltreatment and foster care entry in SBC. The purpose also includes:

- Developing a comprehensive and effective Child Abuse Prevention Plan (CPP) in accordance with State and Federal regulations.
- Improving understanding regarding the underlying causes of child maltreatment.
- Engaging partner agencies to leverage resources and support mutually beneficial programs in accordance with the Missions of these agencies.
- Identifying available evidence-based, trauma-informed programs that address the needs of at-risk families, while also supporting new models and promising practices.
- Identifying and addressing the needs of underserved communities likely to benefit from child abuse prevention programs.
- Establishing the means to optimize Federal Financial Participation (FFP), grants, allocations and other available resources.
- Producing a joint, written protocol between the agencies to determine responsibility for prevention service payment, in part or whole, following guidance by CDSS and DHCS.
- Accessing and reviewing program guidance from CDSS and DHCS.
- Building a team of committed professionals as well as those with lived experience to guide planning and decision-making.
- Making sure team members feel valued and respected: that they are heard and their work is contributing and important.
- Establishing standards of success and overseeing implementation of a Comprehensive Child Abuse Prevention program, with systems of accountability and clear expected outcomes.

Scope of Work The Scope of Work for the FFPSA Governing Committee is:

- Period of Focus:
  - At least two years from initial formation of the group, through establishing and implementing the CPP, and following up on program results, or
  - Three years to follow use of the FFPSA Block Grant.
- Team Roster: Cross sector partners include representation from:
  - Children and Family Services (CFS),
  - Probation department,
  - Department of Behavioral Health (DBH),
  - First 5 of SBC,
  - San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools (SBCSS),
  - Department of Public Health (DPH),
  - Inland Regional Center,
  - Community-based service providers,
  - Family resource centers,
  - Child Abuse Prevention Council (CAPC)/Children’s Network (CN),
  - Those with lived experience (parents and youth), and
  - Indian Tribes.
- Start with existing available data and look at it in new ways, asking new questions. Include review of the San Bernardino County Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Needs Assessment 2022 conducted by EvalCorp.
- Complete and submit timely a CPP to CDSS/DHCS.
- Coordinate with other CFS planning efforts such as the System Improvement Plan (SIP).

Current State - Agency Reporting of Child Maltreatment

Children frequently enter the child welfare system based on reporting from schools and health care. The table below shows how many allegations were submitted by partner/agency representatives. Much of the decline in 2020 was due to the Pandemic response of school closures.

Current State - overview

The FFPSA Governing Committee acknowledges the need for improved child abuse and neglect prevention services and strategies based on the current status:

- The number and percentages of children entering the foster care system are higher than the statewide averages.
- In San Bernardino County (SBC), African American children enter child welfare at a much faster rate than other children do and, once in, they stay longer.
- The Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Services (CAPTS) program is the primary vehicle used to provide child abuse prevention services by CFS.
- Currently, receipt of CAPTS services requires a referral from a social worker (SW). There are no preventive services funded by the CFS prior to contact with child welfare.
- Well-established data systems are in place to track program utilization and effectiveness over time, though additional avenues for obtaining and disseminating information may need to be developed.
- Prevention services have proven to be effective in the past in keeping foster care entries down, notably prevention services that allowed at-risk families to access services prior to any contact with CFS.

Purpose, Continued

Current State – Foster care entries compared to the State

The foster care (FC) entry rate is high for San Bernardino County, most notably for African American children:

TABLE B: COMPARISON OF FC ENTRY RATES, SBC AND CALIFORNIA, AFRICAN AMERICAN CHILDREN AND OVERALL, 2014-21 (PER 1000)

	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021

Total Cal	3.5	3.3	3.2	3.1	3.0	3.2	2.7	2.5

Data extract 8/16/22

Table A illustrates some important points:

- The overall FC rate in SBC is consistently higher than statewide.
- The FC entry rates have been declining recently, though SBC's peak was in 2016/17, a few years after the statewide rate began its decline.
- Disproportionality is a statewide problem with African American entry rates substantially higher in SBC and throughout California.

Current State – FC In-Care rates

FC In-Care rates are the portion of children in the child welfare system per their population in the county. The following tables show the changes in the In-Care rates for SBC since 2008:

M for Masked and LNE for Low Number Event replace data for very small numbers to protect identity.

Some notable points from Table B include:

- Approximately 1% (9.9/1000) of all children in SBC are in FC, but that figure is about 3% (28/1000) for African American children. This has roughly been the case since 2017
- Comparing Table A, In-Care rates continued to increase even when FC entries began to decline.

San Bernardino County child population

TABLE D: SBC CHILD POPULATION BY RACE/ETHNICITY, 2021

Ethnic Group	number	%
Black	56,902	8.4%
White	162,682	24.1%

2010-2021 - CA Dept. of Finance: 2010-2060 - Pop. Projections by Race/Ethnicity, Detailed Age, & Sex at Birth.

African American proportion of the overall child population in SBC is relatively unchanged over the past decade at 8.4-8.5%.

Data – Disparity Indices

As the previous tables show, African American children make up 8.4% of the child population in SBC. For all children, 9.9 out of 1000 children are in FC, but 28/1000 African American children are in FC. There is clearly a significant disparity.

The Disparity Index (DI) is used to refer to the lack of equity between groups and derived, in the following case, by computing a ratio based on the rates per 1,000 for two groups.

TABLE E: SBC IN-CARE DISPARITY INDICES BY RACE/ETHNICITY, 2021

Data – DI for FC Entry The following table shows the DI for children entering care in SBC.

TABLE F: SBC FC ENTRY DISPARITY INDICES BY RACE/ETHNICITY, 2021

Nat Amer	0.51	1.53	1.13	3.04	1.00

Data – Interpreting DI

The Disparity Index (DI) can be interpreted in the following ways:

- A DI of 1.00 means that the risk of the event is identical in two groups.
  - If one compares Black children to Black children the DI is 1.00. In Table D, there is essentially no Disparity between White and Latino children regarding In-Care rates.
  - If the policy goal is to eliminate Disparity, then the figures should be at or near 1.00 for each comparison.
- A DI that is less than 1.00 means that the risk is lower in the selected group versus a comparison.
- A DI that is greater than 1.00 means that the risk is greater in the selected group versus a comparison.
  - When the DI is greater than 1.00 but less than 2.00, the index may be interpreted as indicating the greater likelihood as a percentage. For example, the DI of 1.35 on Table E comparing Latino children to White children indicates Latino children are 34% more likely than White children to enter foster care.
  - When the DI is greater than 2.00, the index should be interpreted as indicating how many times more likely the selected group is to experience the outcome. For example, on Table D, the DI of 3.08 for Black children compared to White children means Black children are 3.08 times more likely to be in FC than White children in SBC.

Data – Children in Care

Total	6,892	6,700	6,371	6,176	100.0%

Currently, about 23.5% of all children in care in San Bernardino County are African American, even though African American children represent only 8.4% of the countywide child population.

Disparate use of services

Though African American children represent 23.5% of children in care, African American families/parents receive less than 16% of CAPTS Case Plan therapeutic and parenting services, as indicated in Table G:

Availability of child abuse prevention services

TABLE I: CAPTS PREVENTIVE SERVICE RESULTS SINCE 2016

Year	#Children w/ Family CAPTS Services	Children Remained at Home	Children w/ FC Episode	% Children Remained at Home	% Children with a FC Episode
2016	1271	290	981	22.8%	77.2%
2017	1953	416	1537	21.3%	78.7%
2018	1785	454	1331	25.4%	74.6%
2019	1661	554	1107	33.4%	66.6%
2020	1032	447	585	43.3%	56.7%

The receipt of CAPTS services prior to out of home placement correlates with fewer removals and once removed, with a greater likelihood of eventual reunification. This reinforces the proposition that early intervention can reduce foster care entry and minimize In-Care rates.

Probation first entries

Probation has had a significant decrease (66.7%) in the number of youth with placement orders first entering foster care. In 2017, 45 youths had a first entry into foster care compared to 2021 with 15 youths having a first entry. The majority of youth with a first placement order were male, age 16 to 17 and the majority were Hispanic/Latino (66.7%) and then African American/Black youths. (LNE).

Objectives

The primary objectives of the proposed programs and reforms suggested by the FFPSA Governing Committee will therefore include:

- Reductions in disparity and disproportionality in FC entry and In-care rates and justice involved youth.
- Reductions in maltreatment and the number of children entering the child welfare system.
- Improved workload stabilization for CFS.
- Reduce recidivism and return to Probation out-of-home care.
- Reduce recurrence of maltreatment and foster care re-entry for Probation and CFS.
- Improve interventions with crossover youth.

FFPSA Governing Committee Principles and Processes

Guiding principles – Leadership behaviors

The Guiding Principles underlying Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) Governing Committee activities with respect to leadership behaviors include:

- Be open, honest, clear and respectful in your communications,
- Be accountable,
- Create a learning environment,
- Engage staff in implementation and system improvement,
- Show that you care,
- Recognize staff strengths and successes,
- Seek feedback,
- Promote advocacy,
- Advocate for resources,
- Build partnerships,

Guiding Principles – Interactive format and results

The Guiding Principles underlying FFPSA Governing Committee activities with respect to interactive format and results include having:

- This as a priority: be present, participate and engage,
- Set and documented goals/objectives,
- Clear expectations, timelines, deliverables and a plan,
- Team meetings be a safe space,
- Flexibility and openness to others' ideas,
- Accountability to timelines. Complete assignments and be honest about what cannot get done,
- Ingrain the importance of maintaining cross - system collaboration for the success of children and family safety, and
- Consistency in implementation across Regions - document, measure and monitor with fidelity.

Guiding Principles – Explorative process

The Guiding Principles underlying FFPSA Governing Committee activities with respect to explorative process include:

- Look at the big picture,
- See others' perspectives,
- Have empathy for the impact decisions may have.
- Have compassion and forgiveness - people will make mistakes
- Honor each other's time - everyone here is equally important,
- Think outside the box and be open to new ideas,
- Be prepared to be uncomfortable with new ideas,
- Look at reality straight on, with no blame or judgement, and
- Don't take it personally, and it's all in the spirit of continuous improvement.

Diversity Statement

To leverage the value of diversity, the FFPSA Governing Committee will:

- Listen to all perspectives and acknowledge others have different roles and see things differently,
- Be respectful, particularly of how others learn and process differently,
- Recognize everyone's experiences are different,
- Recognize others may respond differently in a group,
- Be willing to ask questions and clarify what's going on,
- Be willing to have hard conversations,
- Be okay with being uncomfortable hearing other's perspectives,
- Acknowledge different perspectives AND honor those differences,
- Be willing to share different perspectives, and
- Be willing to add someone to the team if a voice is missing.

FFPSA Governing Committee

The FFPSA is a cross-functional process improvement team that includes the current roster. The Governing Committee is:

- Co-chaired and facilitated by the Children and Family Services (CFS) Executive Sponsor and the Probation Department, who will also:
  - Schedule meetings, draft agendas and provide minutes
  - Establish meeting cadence, and
  - Facilitate meetings ensuring opportunities to participate for all members.
- Establish subgroups to engage in identified tasks,
- Provide reports to County Human Services (HS) and Departmental Executive Teams,
- Provide a nexus for communicating to other agencies,
- Establish a vision and direction,
- Identify and determine priorities, goals and timelines,
- Identify training, information and resource needs,
- Review progress, evaluate milestones and support Implementation efforts,
- Provide/leverage resources and coordinate efforts,
- Make/affirm decisions, and
- Identify and address barriers.

Decision- Making

FFPSA Governing Committee principles for making decisions include:

- Consensus building to mutual conclusions for all engaged.
  - Not just agreeing to agree; accountability to the decision-making process,
  - Be clear on what is decided and the intended outcome,
  - Document decisions and the supporting rationale,
  - Recognized gradients of agreement (1-5),
  - Use Jury deliberation – offer our thoughts and our rationale until a consensus can be met,
  - Create what we believe is the best plan for the best outcome, and
  - Escalate alternatives.

Leadership Responsibilities

Leadership principles, general

The principles guiding Leadership for Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) Governing Committee include:

- Encourage each other,
  - Listen to everyone's perspective to make the best decision,
  - Actively recruit those affected, but also be a voice for those who are not at the table,
  - Have confidence in autonomy (bring good judgement and make good decisions in the company of others),
  - Be willing to get your hands dirty (shared sense of the work). Don't ask another to do what you would not,
  - Have faith and confidence in staff and colleagues. People are doing the best job they can within their role,
  - Commitment to the project; putting things aside to engage and participate
  - Step up for what we know,
  - Admit the depth of what's happening-no candy-coating. Be honest and analytical about the problem. Do not leave anything out,
  - Be accountable to the group, and
  - Have integrity and truthfulness.

Stakeholders

Extended Team The identified possible stakeholders and extended team members include those on the roster and may include:

- Justice Benefits Incorporated (JBI), the contracted consultant
  - Human Services (HS) Department support, such as:
    - Research, Outcomes and Quality Support (ROQS)
    - Program Development Division (PDD)
  - Performance, Education and Resource Centers (PERC) and Child Welfare Development Services (CWDS) who conduct Training
  - Human Services (HS) Personnel and Human Resources (HR) Business Partners
  - State collaborators from the California Department of Social Services (CDSS) and/or the Department of Health Care Services (DHCS)
  - Casey Family
  - County Administrative Office (CAO)
  - Unions
  - Children and families
  - Universities
  - Courts and County Counsel
  - Children’s Assessment Center Loma Linda (partnerships)

Communication Clear communication is essential for engaging stakeholders and coordinating efforts. To transmit important information to the various stakeholders, the Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) Governing Committee will:

- Create ways to disseminate vital information to the Governing and Extended team, including:
    - Leveraging the central electronic repository,
    - Creating Closed Social Media Platform for communications,
    - Establishing a SharePoint site, and
    - Leveraging the network of people that would use the site to guide the design.
  - Build a Communications Plan and Schedule to ensure ongoing updates for stakeholders employing,
    - The Huddle,
    - Emails,
    - SharePoint Repository,
    - Director’s Message, and
    - Regular updates.

Work Products and Success Factors

Work products/
Deliverables Work products and deliverables for the Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) Governing Committee project include the:

- FFPSA Governing Committee Charter.
- Official Letters of Intent, appropriately approved.
- Comprehensive Prevention Plan (CPP).
- Supporting Asset mapping, needs and readiness assessments.
- Scopes of Work, Requests for Proposals and other service procurement documents.
- Memoranda of Understanding (MOU), as appropriate, for the project.
- Reports and dashboards capturing program progress and results.
- Required reports and correspondence with partner State agencies.

CPP components

Per All County Letter (ACL) 22-23 and 23-23 the following items are needed for the CPP:

- Result of Asset Mapping and Needs, Capacity or Readiness Assessment.
- Rationale for selection of the candidacy population(s).
- Theory of change and/or logic model.
- The county Governance Structure
- Efforts to invite and engage Indian Tribes
- Assurance and plans for meeting the workforce and training requirements established under the state plan
- Cross sector collaboration assurances and ongoing program monitoring.
- Assurance that EBPs will adhere to model fidelity and participate in state level fidelity oversight and coordination.
- Monitor child safety, including conducting periodic risk assessments.
- Strategies for use of the Integrated Core Practice Model (ICPM).
- Inclusion of the spending plan.
- Coordination with the local Mental Health Plan.
- Plans to ensure the sustainability of services in the CPP.
- Assurances of all the requirements under the state Title IV-E Prevention Program Plan approved by the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF).

Additional details are provided in the ACL. A template for assurances was linked in ACL 23-23.

Work Products and Success Factors, Continued

Success Factors - Outcomes

The Success Factors regarding attaining outcomes reflect the identified purposes and include:

- Reductions in disparity and disproportionality in foster care (FC) entry and In-care rates.
  - Reductions in maltreatment (allegations and substantiations) and the number of children entering the child welfare system.
  - Improved workload stabilization for Children and Family Services (CFS) staff.
  - For tertiary prevention, reductions in recurrence of maltreatment.
  - Reductions in FC entry, In-care rates and Disparity Indices (DIs) for all groups targeted for candidacy.
  - Fiscal accountability and demonstration funds were utilized optimally for the benefit of the targeted populations.

Success Factors – other results

Other Success Factors from CPP implementation may include:

- Improvements in data collection and information processing.
  - Enhanced networks for resolving issues between agencies.
  - Improvements in service delivery and monitoring of program fidelity and results.
  - Establishment of a Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) process.
  - Aligning staff to the project Mission.
  - Improved vetting and training of staff to their roles.
  - Improved job satisfaction with reduced caseloads.

Metrics

Outcomes - primary

The primary anticipated outcomes for the Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) Governing Committee are to improve the following measures under the California Child Welfare indicators Project:

- Foster Care Entry Rates,
- Foster Care In-Care Rates,
- Disparity Indices, and
- Recurrence of Maltreatment.

Timeline

The Team will develop and maintain a Project Schedule. Evaluation of outcomes will occur based on availability of information. Much of the data will be available on a flow basis, but some outcomes will only be available over time.

---

Long-term results

The primary long-term results should include:

- Reductions in child maltreatment in the County and improved safety for children and families,
  - improvements in the ability of CFS to manage caseloads,
  - Reductions in disparity and disproportionality in FC entry and In-care rates and justice involved youth.
  - Reductions in maltreatment and the number of children entering the child welfare system.
  - Reduced recidivism and return to Probation out-of-home care.
  - Reduced recurrence of maltreatment and foster care re-entry for Probation and CFS.
  - Improved interventions with crossover youth.

San Bernardino County Preventive CFTM Data

Preventive CFTM Analysis

Jan 2023

Preventive CFTM: a CFTM held when during a referral investigation when the child does not have an open child welfare case. (Excludes, children with cases opened the on the same day as the CFTM or children in FM cases when the CFTM is held.)

Findings:

- From 2018 to 2021, on average 9.1% of children had a Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of the preventive CFTM and 90.9% of children with a preventive referral did not have a Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of the preventive referral
- Asian/Pacific Islander, African American/Black and white children had the largest percentage of children with an open case within 12 months of the preventive CFTM, respectively, 15.8%, 13.2% and 11.1%
- Preventive CFTMs were most successful with Native American/Alaskan Native children and Unknown ethnicity with preventing a child welfare case from being opened after the CFTM

By ethnicity, children with no Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of preventive CFTM (2018-2021):

- 84.2% of Asian/Pacific Islander Children (32 out of 38 children)
- 86.8% of African American/Black Children (256 out of 295 children)
- 92.6% of Hispanic/Latino Children (855 out of 923 children)
- 100% of Native American/Alaskan Native Children (12 children)
- 88.9% of White Children (343 out of 386 children)
- 98.5% of Unknown Ethnicity Children (67 out of 68 children)

Approximate comparison cohort, for 2021 there were 23,906 children with investigated allegations and of those children 2,891 children with a child welfare case opened for them in 2021: 12.1%/87.9% did not have a case opened for them. Comparison ethnicity of children with no case opened in 2021: Asian 88.2%, Black 87.9%, Hispanic 86.9%, Native 90.1% and White 88.4%. (CCWIP)

What was the SDM Safety and Risk Assessments of the Preventive CFTM referrals?

Overview of Safety and Risk Assessments and Preventive Referrals (2018-2021)

- The majority of children were rated as Safe and Safe with Plan for both groups of children, 96.4% vs. 0.4% rated as unsafe
- 25.7% of the children’s Risk Assessment was to promote to a case (Risk of Very High or High), 453 children of which the majority did not have a case opened for them (82.3%)
- Caveats: the safety and risk decision for the most recent SDM assessment for the referral was used, it is possible that the SDM Assessments were created or updated after the preventive CFTM

Project Background and Purpose

Background

First 5 San Bernardino (F5SB), in collaboration with San Bernardino County Children and Family Services (CFS) and Children's Network, sought to conduct a comprehensive needs assessment on the prevention of child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. The needs assessment documents recent trends in rates of child abuse and neglect, the current needs of families and the community in preventing and addressing child abuse and neglect, and the existing resources to prevent and address child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. To complete this task, F5SB contracted with EVALCORP, a professional applied research firm with expertise in child welfare and needs assessment initiatives, to employ a mixed-methods approach: incorporating input from local stakeholders representing the vast geography and varied sectors that support families in San Bernardino County; a review of extant data and trends; and a literature review of current evidence-based practices in the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

The needs assessment was designed to examine:

- Existing support services for children and families
- Gaps in existing child abuse and neglect prevention services and/or protocols
- Current and emerging needs in an evolving landscape, impacted by COVID-19
- Recommendations to prevent child abuse and neglect

Many factors impact families and their risk for child abuse and neglect. To provide a broad view on the issues affecting families in San Bernardino County, the needs assessment incorporated the following perspectives:

Report Overview

The current report is divided in two sections (listed below). First, we provided an overview of the report including summative information. Second, we included individual volumes providing detailed information and findings on each of the data collection methodologies. It is recommended to read the entire Project Summary section, and then review any of the additional volumes as further questions arise.

Section 1: Project Summary (current section) provides a summary of the needs assessment

- Purpose of Report
- Project Methodology
- Summary of Findings
- Summary of Recommendations

Section 2: Detailed Volumes provide detailed findings from each methodology

- Review of Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Evidence-Based Practices
- Child Abuse and Neglect Data Trends
- San Bernardino County Stakeholder Interviews
- San Bernardino County Provider Survey
- Family Focus Group

Throughout this report, the term "child abuse and neglect" is used. However, some sources use the term "maltreatment" which includes: neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, and emotional abuse.<sup>1</sup>

Project Methodology

To provide a comprehensive view of the current needs in San Bernardino County to prevent child abuse and neglect, EVALCORP utilized three strategies:

Review current child abuse and neglect prevention evidence-based practices (EBPs)

- Review of EBPs included primary, secondary, and tertiary levels of prevention

Engage county stakeholders to share their experiences and expertise through:

- Interviews with upper-level management and Executive Directors in county departments and community based organizations
- Surveys with providers directly serving or working with children and/or families
- Focus group with families who have previous experience with Children and Family Services

Review publicly available data:

- Map of current resources across San Bernardino County
- Recent trends in child welfare allegations, substantiations, reports, and foster care

Evidence-Based Practices Literature Review

The evidence-based practices (EBPs) literature review for child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention summarized 49 EBPs identified from a thorough review of two comprehensive clearinghouses: 1) The California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse for Child Welfare (CEBC) and 2) Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse. EBPs from the two clearinghouses were reviewed for their relevance to child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention. EBPs meeting the following criteria were included:

1. The EBP is one of the ten well-supported EBPs identified in California's Five-Year State Prevention Plan- Implementing the Title IV-E Prevention Program Established by the Family First Prevention Services Act; and/or
2. The EBP's focus and/or goal was on child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention AND is rated as "Well-Supported," "Supported," or "Promising" on the CEBC and/or Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse.

The EBPs were then summarized to include the following information:

- Level of Prevention
- Target Population
- Age Range of Children Served
- Topic Areas
- Brief Program Summary
- Minimum Provider Qualifications
- Evidence Level
- Sources for Additional Information About the Program

County Stakeholders Engagement

EVALCORP engaged with stakeholders from a broad list of sectors to understand their perspectives on San Bernardino County's current support services for families, the current and emerging needs of children and families, and recommendations to prevent child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County.

EVALCORP engaged in three data collection methodologies: 1) interviews, 2) surveys, and 3) focus groups to ensure stakeholder representation across the varied sectors and various regions of San Bernardino County.

Interviews With 44 County Stakeholders

- Executive Directors and Managers from county departments and community based organizations

Surveys With 271 Children and Family Service Providers

- Teachers, physicians, clinicians, law enforcement, and others who work directly with children and families

Family Focus Group

- Parents and caregivers (n=4) in the community who had previous experience with San Bernardino County Children and Family Services

Publicly Available Data Review

The publicly available data review strategy included two methodologies:

- 1) Documentation of recent trends in child welfare data and
- 2) Geographic information system (GIS) mapping of existing data resources.

Trends in child welfare data

Recent trends in child welfare data were based on available data from 2015 – 2021 for children 0-17 years old from the California Child Welfare Indicators Project (CCWIP),<sup>2</sup> which compiles data from the California Department of Social Services and the California Department of Finance. The following indicators were included:

- Maltreatment allegations reported
- Maltreatment allegations investigated
- Maltreatment allegations substantiated
- Maltreatment reporter types
- Maltreatment types
- Children entering foster care
- Children in foster care

GIS Mapping

Resource mapping was conducted by identifying the locations of two sets of resources across San Bernardino County and mapping their locations based on publicly available datasets. Because the maps rely on publicly available data sets, it is possible that some resources were not able to be located and mapped. The mapped resources included:

Education Resource Map

- Head Start Centers
- Preschools
- K-12 Public Schools
- Charter Schools
- Colleges & Universities

Family Resource Map

- Children & Family Services Offices
- Family Resource Centers
- County Behavioral Health Offices
- Public Libraries
- Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) Offices

Map of San Bernardino County Resources

To support stakeholders in identifying assets and resources that can be utilized for building a collaborative and countywide system to better prevent child abuse and neglect, maps were created of existing resources that support children and families in San Bernardino County. The maps visually display both where there is a density of resources (in the south-west portion, corresponding to the county's population centers), but more importantly identify opportunities in regions that have fewer existing services. In the less populated regions, the education-related resources tend to be more evenly distributed than the other family supports.

The two maps on the following pages detail the education-related resources and the family-focused resources across San Bernardino County.

San Bernardino County Family Resources

Below is a list of the family resources and their brief descriptions. Please click on each resource to be directed to a website for more information.

Resource	Description
Children and Family Services (CFS)	The mission of CFS is to protect endangered children, preserve and strengthen their families, and develop alternative family settings. This is accomplished in collaboration with the family, a wide variety of public and private agencies and members of the community.
Family Resource Centers*	Family Resource Centers support parents and families by helping them locate and access services within their communities. Services may include parent groups, sibling support groups, resource libraries, classes, play groups, and referral information for family visitation services and basic necessities.
DBH Outpatient Clinics	Outpatient behavioral services provide support for San Bernardino County residents, including mental health and substance abuse prevention and early intervention services.
Public Libraries	Community members in San Bernardino County can access information, technology, programs, and services through the San Bernardino County Library System (SBCL), a network of 32 branch libraries serving diverse populations across the county.
Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) Offices	WIC is a nutrition program that serves pregnant women, women who have recently been pregnant, infants, and children under 5. The program provides supplemental benefits for foods, nutrition education, support for breastfeeding, and referrals to other services in the community.
Family & Community Inland Empire (FCIE)	FCIE (formerly Family and Community Supports and Partnerships, FCSP) is a collaborative of organizations implementing the Nurturing Families Programs (NFP) curriculum for parenting education classes, combined with individualized case management, to reduce child abuse and improve parenting and family functioning. Research on NFP and FCSP indicate positive outcomes for program clients across San Bernardino County.

*A single website is not available for Family Resource Centers because centers operate independently.

Summary of Findings

The San Bernardino County Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Needs Assessment employed three data collection strategies:

- 1. Review of current child abuse and neglect prevention evidence-based practices,
- 2. Review of publicly available data on child abuse and neglect trends, and
- 3. Engagement with multiple levels of county stakeholders (families, direct service providers, and managers of organizations and county departments) to share their experiences and expertise.

County stakeholders participated in interviews, surveys, and focus groups.

A summary of the findings from the review of publicly available data on child abuse and neglect trends, and engagement with stakeholders is listed on the following page.

- First, we listed strengths or positive findings identified by the stakeholder engagement and data trends.
- Second, we listed areas noted as areas with challenges from stakeholder engagement and data trends.
- Finally, we summarize the current needs of communities and families.

What is Working

- Existing Resources and Services
  - Community education and public service campaigns regarding child safety
  - Community based resources and services, including mental health & therapeutic supports (e.g., speech therapy), and extracurricular activities for children
  - Early prevention efforts through CFS to maintain family unification
- Providers
  - When utilized, multidisciplinary teams and warm handoffs improve system coordination for families
  - Providers felt resources and services available to families meet the families' individual needs
  - Providers generally felt they had sufficient training to recognize families at risk for abuse and neglect
- Data Trends
  - The number of maltreatment allegations has decreased 29% from 2015 to 2021

Gaps and Challenges With Existing Services

- Existing Resources and Services
  - Underinsured populations experience eligibility gaps, resulting in costly services
  - Transportation challenges, inconvenient hours of operation for families, the burden of compiling and completing required paperwork, present access barriers
  - Families may experience challenges navigating service systems due to a lack of awareness of existing resources
- Providers
  - Services may not be meeting family's needs by not providing culturally competent and culturally representative care, limited services in the family's language, and limitations in the quality of care
- Data Trends
  - 30% of all maltreatment allegations are for children under 1 year
  - Black children have the highest maltreatment allegation rates (10% compared to 5% overall)

Current Community and Family Needs

- Supports with Basic Needs
  - Rental and utility assistance, general cost of living
  - Housing affordability, housing availability, and more inclusive housing support programs
- Address Risk Factors
  - Mental health and substance abuse issues with families
  - Caregivers experiencing generational trauma (were abused or neglected as children)
  - Caregivers may benefit from more education on parenting topics and availability of resources
- Childcare
  - Lack of available, affordable, and quality childcare

Summary of Recommendations

Through the three data collection strategies (review of current child abuse and neglect prevention evidence-based practices, review of publicly available data on child abuse and neglect trends and current resources, and engagement with multiple groups of county stakeholders to share their experiences and expertise), the following recommendations were identified based on participant responses (e.g., county stakeholders) or notable findings in data trends.

Address Risk Factors

- Family-Specific Risk Factors
  - Provide and connect families to supports for mental health and substance abuse
  - Assess and address generational trauma (history of abuse or neglect as a child), and provide appropriate supports and education to caregivers
  - Provide appropriate supports for those with the highest rates of maltreatment allegations: children under the age of 1 and black children (of any age)
- Service Access Barriers
  - Provide support to ease accessibility of services for caregivers
  - Provide and connect families to supports for basic needs (housing and utility assistance)

Consider Evidence-Based Practices (EBPs) For Populations With the Highest Rates of Child Maltreatment Allegations

- Consider the following EBPs:
  - Safe Environment for Every Kid (SEEK)
  - Home Visitation: Healthy Families America (HFA) and Nurse Family Partnership (NFP)
  - Effective Black Parenting Program (EBPP)

Partner With Schools

- Partner with schools to encourage and support opportunities for children to engage in open communication with trusted adults,
- Schools are a place where caregivers are already physically present (e.g., school pick up and drop off), easing engagement and access issues
- See County Education Resource Map on Page 11 for examples

Partner With Existing Community Resources

- Bring resources to the families and communities as a way to ease access burdens and engage families
- See County Family Resource Map on Page 12 for examples

Provide Community Education

- Increase community awareness of existing services and resources and how to access them
- Increase community education on recognizing child abuse and neglect, including risks, and what to do or where to refer

Improve System Coordination

- Improve the ease of navigating services and systems for families.
- Specific examples for improvement include
  - The incorporation of warm-handoffs of families to services
  - Engaging multidisciplinary teams to provide broader support and coordination for families

Children's Network

Children and Family Services

Prepared By:

EVALCORP
Measuring What Matters®

The 2022 Evidence Based Practices (EBPs) Literature Review for Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention and Intervention summarizes 49 EBPs identified from a thorough review of two comprehensive and relevant clearinghouses: The California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse for Child Welfare (CEBC) and the Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse.

The EBPs listed in these two clearinghouses were reviewed for their relevance to child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention. EBPs meeting the following criteria were included:

1. The EBP is one of the ten well-supported EBPs identified in California's Five-Year State Prevention Plan- Implementing the Title IV-E Prevention Program Established by the Family First Prevention Services Act; and/or
2. The EBP's focus and/or goal is on child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention AND is rated as "Well-Supported," "Supported," or "Promising" on the CEBC and/or Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse.

The California Department of Social Services (CDSS) selected the Chadwick Center for Children and Families – Rady Children's Hospital-San Diego to create the California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse for Child Welfare (CEBC). The CEBC reviews and disseminates information about EBPs relevant to the child welfare system. The CEBC uses a scientific rating scale from one to five based on the strength of the research evidence supporting the EBP. A rating of one, or "Well-Supported", represents a practice with the strongest research evidence while a rating of five, or "Concerning", represents practices that may pose substantial risk to the target population. The specific criteria for each rating classification can be found on the CEBC website.<sup>1</sup> The CEBC staff updates program contact information and supporting program research annually. Each EBP listed on the CEBC is reviewed every two years. The most recent review date is included on the CEBC website at the bottom of each program description.

The Title IV- E Prevention Services Clearinghouse was established by the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to provide an objective review of research on programs and services that provide support to children and families and prevent placement in the child welfare system. The Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse uses a scientific rating scale of four ratings based on the extent of evidence supporting the EBP, "well-supported", "supported", "promising", and "does not currently meet criteria." To receive a rating of "well-supported", "the favorable evidence for a program or service must have been obtained from research conduct in a usual care or practice setting."

A program cannot receive a rating of “well-supported”, “supported”, or “promising” if data suggests severe or frequent risk of harm that was most likely caused by the treatment. More details on the specific criteria for each rating can be found in the Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse Handbook.<sup>2</sup>

The EBPs summarized in this report are organized in alphabetical order by program name and include the following information:

- Level of Prevention
- Target Population
- Age Range of Children Served
- Topic Areas
- Brief Program Summary
- Minimum Provider Qualifications
- Evidence Level
- Sources for additional information about the program

The level of prevention is determined by the definitions for primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention services as they are defined by the Child Welfare Information Gateway.<sup>3</sup>

- Primary Prevention: Services aimed at the general population (e.g., public awareness campaigns, parenting classes, efforts to educate children about safety, family supports, family-strengthening programs)
- Secondary Prevention: Services for populations at high-risk for child abuse or neglect that have one or more risk factors for child maltreatment (e.g., single or teenage parents, families living in poverty, parental substance abuse, parental or child disabilities, or parental or child mental health concerns).
- Tertiary Prevention: Services for families who have already been affected by child abuse or neglect (e.g., family preservation services, mental health services, parent mentoring and support groups)

- Evidence Level: Well-Supported, Supported, or Promising
- Prevention Level: Primary, Secondary, or Tertiary
- Target Age of Children: The age range of children that the program serves

The ten EBPs identified in the California’s Five-Year State Prevention Plan- Implementing the Title IV-E Prevention Program Established by the Family First Prevention Services Act are denoted in blue. For the purpose of consistency, the evidence levels indicated on the table reflect the ratings identified by the CEBC, the most comprehensive clearinghouse. Please note that some EBPs may vary in their ratings across clearinghouses, and additional detail can be found in their summary pages.

ACT RAISING SAFE KIDS

Level of Prevention Primary Age Range of Children Served 0-10

Target Population

Parents and caregivers of children birth to 10 years old, as well as pregnant mothers and their spouses or partners.

Topic Areas

Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect (Primary) Programs

Program Summary

ACT Raising Safe Kids is a universal parenting program designed to promote positive parenting and prevent child maltreatment. The program addresses effective parenting practices that include the use of effective, nonviolent discipline and nurturing behaviors. It also addresses parental knowledge of child development; parental anger management; and social problem-solving skills. In addition, the program provides a support network of parents who help each other during and after the program.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Facilitator must have at least an associate degree, but a bachelor's degree is preferred. Facilitator should have professional experience working with families and young children and/or conducting/teaching groups of adults.

Evidence Level

ALTERNATIVES FOR FAMILIES: A COGNITIVE-BEHAVIORAL THERAPY (AF-CBT)

Level of Prevention Tertiary Age Range of Children Served 5-17

Target Population

Families with children 5-17 years old whose family struggles with conflict or coercion due to family member, or overall family behavior.

Topic Areas

Mental Health Programs and Services; In-home Parent Skill-based Programs and Services; Interventions for Abusive Behavior; Trauma Treatment

Program Summary

AF-CBT teaches parents and children intrapersonal and interpersonal skills to reduce or prevent the effects of child or family anger, aggression, and physical abuse. These skills include anger and anxiety management, flexible thinking, child social skills, discipline strategies, and effective communication and problem solving. Individual and joint treatment sessions for children and their family covers 17 topics over three consecutive phases. Families are expected to receive between 20 and 24 hours of direct service, spanning at least 6-9 months.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Master's degree or higher; clinicians must be licensed to practice or work with a licensed supervisor.

Topic Areas

Home Visiting Programs for Child Well-Being, Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Programs, Mental Health Programs and Services, In-home Parent Skill-based Programs and Services

Program Summary

ABC is made up of three interventions. The first is to teach caregivers to provide nurturance even when not invoked. The second intervention is to help caregivers provide a responsive, predictable, and warm environment, and the third is to decrease behaviors that are potentially overwhelming or frightening to a young child. It is recommended that the interventions be taught during 10, one-hour sessions in the home.

BODY SAFETY TRAINING WORKBOOK (BST)

Target Population

Children and/or students ages 3-8 years old and their parents and/or teachers.

Topic Areas

Program Summary

The BST Workbook is a curriculum that parents and teachers can use to teach young children about personal safety. The workbook contains 10 lessons that address both general safety (e.g., fire, gun, pedestrian, poison) and body safety (e.g., recognizing, resisting, and reporting inappropriate touching). There are two versions of the BST workbook, one for parents to use at home and one for teachers to use in a classroom setting, which can be used separately or in combination. The goals of the BST Workbook are to teach children to recognize potentially abusive situation or abusers, how to refuse sexual requests, escape from a perpetrator, and encouraging children to report previous or ongoing abuse to someone they trust while reassuring the children that abuse is never the responsibility of the child. A goal of the BST Workbook are to also improve teacher/parent knowledge about child sexual abuse.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

No minimum education required, but the provider should be able to read the script in the workbook. Training in early childhood education would be beneficial when teaching small groups of children.

BRIEF STRATEGIC FAMILY THERAPY (BSFT)

Level of Prevention Secondary & Tertiary    Age Range of Children Served 6-18

Target Population

Families with at least one child who display or are at risk of developing externalizing (e.g., substance abuse, delinquency, truancy, bullying) and/or internalizing (e.g., depression, anxiety) symptomatology.

Topic Areas

Substance Abuse Treatment (adolescent); Disruptive Behavior Treatment (child & adolescent); In-home Parent Skill-based Programs and Services

Program Summary

BSFT utilizes a structured family systems approach to treat externalizing (substance abuse, acting-out, truancy, bullying) and internalizing (depression, anxiety) symptomatology while restructuring problematic family interactions. There are three primary components of this intervention: 1) Joining; 2) Diagnosis, 3) Restructuring. BSFT is typically conducted in an average of 12-17 weekly sessions that lasts 60 to 90 minutes. The program is conducted in hospitals, outpatient clinics, community-based agencies and organizations, school setting, virtually, or in the home.

CHILD-PARENT PSYCHOTHERAPY (CPP)

Level of Prevention Tertiary Age Range of Children Served 0-5

Target Population

Children age 0-5, who have experienced a trauma, and their caregivers.

Topic Areas

Domestic/Intimate Partner Violence: Services for Victims and their Children; Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Programs (Birth to 5); Trauma Treatment – Client-Level Interventions (Child & Adolescent)

Program Summary

Child-Parent Psychotherapy is an intensive therapy treatment for children aged 0-5 who have been exposed to trauma. The focus of the treatment is to strengthen the relationship between the caregiver and the child to restore and protect the child’s mental health. The treatment can be divided into three stages. During the first stage, questionnaires are administered with the family and a treatment plan is developed. During the second stage, children express their feelings through play while parents gain a better understanding of the child’s experiences and behaviors. During the last stage, the families celebrate progress, and providers discuss what other supports families need.

Target Population

African American families at risk for child maltreatment.

Topic Areas

Parent Training Programs that Address Behavior Problems in Children and Adolescents; Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect (Secondary) Programs

Program Summary

CCIC's Effective Black Parenting Program (EBPP) is the country's first culturally-adapted parenting skill-building program for parents of African American children. The program includes culturally specific parenting strategies as well as basic parenting skills taught in a culturally sensitive manner, using African American language expressions as well as African proverbs. The program can be delivered through 15 sessions for small groups of parents or as a one-day seminar for a large group of parents.

Some of the goals of EBPP include: preventing and treating child abuse; reducing parental stress; preventing and treating child and parent substance abuse; coping better with racism and prejudice; preventing and treating child behavior disorders.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

It is recommended that providers have prior training in behavior modification or behavior analysis and education and training in child development and group dynamics. Past providers have had a minimum of a bachelor's degree, and most have been of African descent.

FAMILY CENTERED TREATMENT (FCT)

Level of Prevention Secondary    Age Range of Children Served 0-17

Target Population

Families with children at risk of being placed into, or who need services to return from, treatment centers, foster care, psychiatric hospitals, or juvenile justice facilities.

Topic Areas

In-home parent skill-based programs and services, family stabilization programs

Program Summary

FCT is a systemic trauma treatment model, home-based intervention with individualized goals customized to each family's strengths. The model is committed to family preservation and reunification when in the child's best interest. There are four phases of intervention: joining and assessment; restructuring; valuing change; and generalization. The joining and assessment phase involves the practitioner establishing trust with the family to identify the family's needs and therapeutic objectives. The restructuring phase involves the practitioner and family identifying and practicing new patterns of interaction and daily life that are in alignment with their goals. During the valuing changes phase, the practitioner helps the family internalize their new patterns of interactions and advance the family through value integration. In the Generalization phase, the family evaluates their changes and makes future plans. The average length of treatment is 6 months but is determined by the individual family's needs and progress.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Target Population

Caregivers of children 2-17 years old in the middle or lower socioeconomic class level.

Topic Areas

Mental health programs and services; in-home parent skill-based programs and services; parent training program that address behavior problems in children and adolescents

Program Summary

FCU is a family-centered, strengths-based model that promotes positive family management and aims to improve parenting skills and family management practices to addresses child and adolescent behavior and adjustment problems. There are two main components of the Family Check Up model: An initial assessment that reveals parental strengths and challenges related to the family context; Parental management training with a focus on positive behavior support, healthy limit setting, and relationship building. Intervention through FCU is customized to meet the needs of each child and family as a whole. FCU can take place anywhere from 3 to 15 hours, over 1 to 4 months depending on the individual family's needs. Phase 2 follow-up includes support services which may be in the form of family counseling or individualized services for parents and children. The program is typically conducted in the home (i.e. adoptive home, birth family home, foster/kinship care), in a hospital, outpatient clinic, community-based agency, or school setting.

Level of Prevention Tertiary Age Range of Children Served 9-11

Target Population

Preadolescent children (ages 9-11) who have current or previous child welfare involvement due to experiencing one or more adverse childhood experiences (ACEs).

Topic Areas

Parent training program to Mentoring Programs (Child & Adolescent); Mental Health Prevention and/or Early Intervention (Child & Adolescent) Programs; Placement Stabilization Programs; Trauma Treatment - Client-Level Interventions (Child & Adolescent) address child abuse and neglect

Program Summary

FHF is a mentoring and skills building program for children 9 to 11 who have current or previous child welfare involvement due to experiencing one or more adverse childhood experiences (ACEs). Children attend skills groups once a week for 1.5 hours for 30 weeks. The groups help them process experiences of out-of-home care and cover a variety of topics including emotion recognition, problem solving, and anger management. Children also receive 30 weeks of 1:1 mentoring from graduate student mentors who advocate for their needs and set positive examples for future relationships.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Group supervisors must have either a master's or doctorate degree in relevant field and be licensed with prior supervisory experience. # FUNCTIONAL FAMILY THERAPY (FFT)

Level of Prevention Tertiary Age Range of Children Served 11-18

Target Population

Preadolescent children (ages 9-11) who have current or previous child welfare involvement due to experiencing one or more adverse childhood experiences (ACEs).

Topic Areas

Mental health, substance abuse treatment, behavioral management programs

Program Summary

FFT is a short-term intervention program to address the disruptive, externalizing behaviors of youth. It is a strength-based model with five major components: engagement, motivation, relational assessment, behavior change, and generalization. The engagement component focuses on engaging with the family and maximizing their expectation of positive change. The assessment focuses on the superficial qualities deduced from the referral source and initial screening. The motivation phase is to create a motivational context for long-term change. Family negativity and blame, hopelessness, and levels of motivation are addressed. Relational assets involve a complete functional assessment of family relationships to provide a foundation for behavior change. Behavior change focuses on individual and interactive change with individual skills, quality of relational skills, relational problem sequence, and compliance with behavior change plans as the focal point. The last phase, generalization, is intended to maintain individual and family change and facilitate change in multiple systems by accessing and utilizing community resources, work on interpersonal and structuring skills, and anticipating a plan for future extra-familial stressors. FFT is implemented with weekly meetings over an average of three to six months.

HEALTHY FAMILIES AMERICA (HFA)

Level of Prevention Secondary    Age Range of Children Served 0-5

Target Population

New and expectant families who are at-risk for child abuse and neglect, maltreatment, and other adverse childhood experiences. Home visiting services start prenatally or within three months after the baby has been born.

Topic Areas

In-home Parent Skill-Based Programs and Services, home visiting programs for child well-being

Program Summary

Healthy Families American (HFA) is a long term, home visiting program, voluntary for families with histories of trauma, intimate partner violence, mental health issues, or substance abuse. HFA’s vision is for all children to receive nurturing care from their family essential to leading a healthy and productive life. They help achieve this with HFA’s 12 critical elements which are operationalized through a set of standards with flexibility in design services to meet the unique needs of the families and communities being served. Tools utilized to help cultivate healthy parent-child relationships include child development resources, family goal planning, prenatal support, maternal and child healthcare, service planning, trusted support, relationship building, parent support groups, and referrals to community resources. Services are offered for 3 to 5 years after the birth of the baby.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Direct service staff are required to have a high school diploma or equivalent and experience working with or providing services to children and families, knowledge of infant and child development, as well as interpersonal skills. Supervisors should have a master’s degree in human services or a bachelor’s degree with 3 years of relevant experience. # MAKE PARENTING A PLEASURE (MPAP), SECOND EDITION

Target Population

Highly stressed families with children ages 0 to 8 years at risk for abuse or neglect.

Topic Areas

Parent Training Programs that Address Child Abuse and Neglect; Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect (Secondary) Programs

Program Summary

Make Parenting A Pleasure is a parenting program with a comprehensive curriculum that strengthens parenting skills and provides support to highly stressed parents with children from 0 to 8. The program gives parents tools to manage life challenges and helps them to develop skills to promote healthy development of their children. MPAP also provides a support system by bringing together parents to share their experiences with each other while learning about early childhood development and parenting strategies. A professional parent educator facilitates a two-hour discussion session with parents for 12 weeks to address various topics including self-care, child development, and dealing with challenging behaviors. A culturally adapted, Spanish-language version of MPAP, titled Haga de la Paternidad un Placer, is available for Spanish speaking families.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Provider should have experience as a parent educator or a bachelor's or master's degree in early childhood education, social work, public health, psychology, or a related field.

MULTISYSTEMIC THERAPY (MST)

Target Population

Adolescents 12-17 years old at risk of out-of-home placement due to antisocial or delinquent behaviors. Also for youth involved in the juvenile justice system and those with possible substance abuse issues.

Topic Areas

Mental health programs and services; alternatives to long-term residential care; behavioral management programs for adolescents in child welfare; disruptive behavior treatment; substance abuse treatment

Program Summary

Multisystemic Therapy (MST) is an intensive family and community-based treatment to promote pro-social behavior and reduce criminal activity and out-of-home placement. It uses the integration of empirically based treatment approaches to address risk factors across family, peer, school, and community contexts; the promotion of behavioral changes in the youth's environment; and quality assurance mechanisms that focus on achieving outcomes by maintaining treatment integrity. Intervention strategies are customized to the individual and family and is typically delivered for an average of three to five months in the home or school setting.

MULTISYSTEMIC THERAPY FOR CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT (MST-CAN)

Target Population

Families identified by Child Protective Services within the past 180 days due to the physical abuse or neglect of a child between the ages of 6 and 17; where the child is living in the family home or is currently in a foster home with the intent of reunification.

Topic Areas

Mental health programs and services, interventions for abusive behavior

Program Summary

Multisystemic Therapy for Child Abuse and Neglect (MST-CAN) is an adaptation of Multisystemic Therapy for families who are involved with child protective services. MST-CAN's goal is to prevent child abuse and neglect, ensure child safety, and prevent out-of-home placements. It also aims to increase social support to reduce emotional and behavioral health problems. Empirically based treatments, Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy, and Reinforcement-Based Therapy are utilized as needed by the family's team. MST-CAN clinicians work on a team of 3 therapists, a crisis caseworker, a part-time psychiatrist, and a full-time supervisor. Services are delivered for six to nine months, usually in the family's home.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Supervisors must have a master's degree in counseling, social work, or a related field, be independently licensed, have an understanding of the child welfare system and state and national mandated abuse reporting laws, as well as have experience in managing severe family rises that involve the safety of the children or family. Therapists are required to have a master's degree in counseling social work, or a related field. Caseworkers are required to have a bachelor's degree and psychiatrists must be available to their team at least 8 hour per week, be trained in the MST treatment model and the MST-CAN adaptations and have a thorough understanding or state and national mandated abuse reporting laws.

PARENTS ANONYMOUS

Level of Prevention Primary & Secondary    Age Range of Children Served 0-18

Target Population

Anyone serving in a parenting or caregiver role and children 0-18 with behavioral health, substance use disorders, or wellness concerns.

Topic Areas

Interventions for abusive behavior, parent partner programs for families involved in the child welfare system, parent training programs that address child abuse and neglect, prevention of child abuse and neglect programs, mental health programs and services, substance abuse programs and services, and in-home parent skill-based programs and services

Program Summary

Parents Anonymous is a family strengthening program that serves as both a prevention and a treatment program for families at risk of, or who are already, involved in the child welfare system or face family issues. The program has six strength-based goals: increasing protective factors and reducing risk factors, improving family functioning, mitigating the impact of and preventing Adverse Childhood Experiences, preventing and intervening in substance use disorders, preventing and intervening in domestic violence, and enhancing the physical and mental health of parents and caregivers.

Parents Anonymous serves anyone in a parenting role and their children to address any concerns that are related to personal, psychological, peer, mental health, or substance abuse. The program has four core principles: mutual support, parent leadership, shared leadership, and personal growth and change. Parent Group Leaders co-lead group meetings with the group facilitator through structured activities based on 12 monthly themes. Participants are encouraged to make use of supportive services and parents and caregivers are encouraged to utilize the National Parent Helpline and California Parent & Youth Helpline.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

All program staff and parents must develop research-based competencies. Adult and Children & Youth Group Facilitators are required to have a bachelor's and/or a master's degree in social work, psychology, early childhood education, or other behavioral science or credentials as a teacher, clergy, or nurse. They must also have experience and expertise in providing primary prevention and family strengthening programs to diverse populations.

SAFE ENVIRONMENT FOR EVERY KID (SEEK)

Level of Prevention Primary & Secondary Age Range of Children Served 0-5

Target Population

For Primary Prevention use: Families with children aged 0-5.

For Secondary Prevention use: Families with children ages 0-5 who have risk factors for child maltreatment.

Topic Areas

Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, Mental Health Programs and Services

Program Summary

The goal of SEEK is to help strengthen families, support parenting, and promote children's health, development, and safety. SEEK works with pediatric primary care providers to address social determinants of health and prevent child maltreatment. The SEEK Parent Questionnaire-R is completed prior to a regular checkup and is used to identify parental depression, substance abuse, major stress, intimate partner violence, food insecurity, and harsh punishment. The Questionnaire PQ-R is available in English and Spanish. The SEEK PQ is available in Chinese, Swedish, and Vietnamese. Primary care providers and parents who have completed the questionnaire develop a plan together utilizing the families' strengths to address the identified risk factors. Parents then receive handouts for each of the identified risk factor at the end of the checkup which contain basic information and resources for these families.

Target Population

Children in Kindergarten through 3rd grade.

Topic Areas

Program Summary

Safe Touches is a child sexual abuse prevention program for children in Kindergarten through 3rd grade. Trained facilitators utilize puppets to teach about body safety and key safety skills. The program is taught as a workshop in a classroom for about 40 to 50 minutes with a question-and-answer session at the end. After the workshop, each child receives an age-appropriate activity book on body safety to complete at home with a parent or caregiver. The activity book reinforces key concepts learned in the workshop and encourages continued conversations about sexual abuse prevention.

STRONG COMMUNITIES FOR CHILDREN

Level of Prevention Primary Age Range of Children Served N/A

Target Population

Entire communities to support families with young children.

Topic Areas

Program Summary

Strong Communities for Children is a communitywide initiative that promotes community well-being and prevention of child abuse and neglect. The goal of the initiative is to build support systems for families with young children and keep kids safe. Entire communities are encouraged to get involved through voluntary assistance to support one another, especially families with young children. The initiative cultivates a sense of responsibility from the community in order to provide parent support and child safety. The volunteers deliver support for families with young children (e.g., child care, food banks, financial counseling, respite care) in community settings where family support services are typically not delivered (e.g., fire stations, faith communities, libraries).

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Trained providers (paraprofessionals, educators, mental health professionals, prevention specialists, and college students) can administer this program through the guide of detailed manuals. The providers should have good people skills and be culturally sensitive. It is recommended to have support from a Site Coordinator with at least a bachelor's degree in social sciences.

Target Population

Survivors of domestic abuse who have utilized shelters, but can be expanded to non-shelter users.

Topic Areas

Domestic/Intimate Partner Violence: Services for Victims and their Children

Program Summary

The Community Advocacy Project is a 10-week intensive intervention that provides home-based and community-based advocacy services for survivors of intimate partner violence. Advocates help survivors access community resources and support they want. The intervention focuses on empowerment to: increase children's self-competence; decrease women's depression; increase women's quality of life; increase women's access to resources; increase women's social support; and increase women's and children's safety.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Advocates must be trained in strengths-based philosophy, domestic abuse dynamics, safety planning, and obtaining resources. Advocates need intensive supervision to ensure that the fidelity of the model is maintained. Supervisors should have a minimum of two years of experience providing domestic abuse services, ideally in community settings. Supervisors should be also trained in empathy, active listening, strengths-based services, and safety planning.

Reunification Programs

Program Summary

Safe Babies Court Team is a community engagement and systems change initiative that connects necessary services in a timely manner for young children under court supervision. Judges who oversee child maltreatment cases can convene a Safe Babies Court Team which will include other judges, child welfare staff, attorneys, service providers, and community leaders. Once established through a formal process, the SBCT works with individual families to connect them with needed supports and services. The two goals of the SBCT are: 1) Increase knowledge about the negative impact of abuse and neglect on very young children; and 2) Change local systems to improve outcomes and prevent future court involvement in the lives of very young children.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Providers are required to have a minimum of an undergraduate degree in child development, social work, or related field. A detailed list of desirable skills and experience can be found on the program page of the California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse for Child Welfare website.

THE SAFE CHILD PROGRAM

Target Population

Students in Preschool through 3rd grade.

Topic Areas

Program Summary

The Safe Child Program is a comprehensive curriculum that teaches children about the prevention of sexual, emotional, and physical abuse by people who are close to them. The curriculum also addresses prevention of abuse and abduction by strangers as well as safety in self-care. In addition, the curriculum teaches broad base of life skills for children through lessons that are presented in series from preschool through 3rd grade.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

No minimum education is required, but providers should review training materials before presenting the program.

TRIPLE P- POSITIVE PARENTING PROGRAM SYSTEM (SYSTEM TRIPLE P)

Level of Prevention Primary Age Range of Children Served 0-16

Target Population

Parents and caregivers of children 0-16.

Topic Areas

Mental Health Programs and Services, Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect

Program Summary

The overall Triple P program is a multi-tiered system of 5 levels of education and support for parents and caregivers of children and adolescents. Although Triple P can be used in parts, this summary focuses on System Triple P as a whole. System Triple P helps to equip parents to handle everyday child rearing stressors and teaches them how to promote social competence and self-regulation in children. As an early intervention, System Triple P assists families experiencing distress by working with the parents of children who are having moderate to severe behavior problems. Parents develop a parenting plan throughout the program that makes use of the strategies and tools of System Triple P. System Triple P practitioners work with parents' strengths and provide a supportive, non-judgmental environment where a parent can continually improve their parenting skills.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Provider training courses are offered to those with a post-high school degree in health, education, childcare, or social services.

TRUST-BASED RELATIONSHIP INTERVENTION (TBRI 101)

Level of Prevention Tertiary Age Range of Children Served 0-17

Target Population

Parents and caregivers of children who have experienced abuse, neglect, and/or trauma.

Topic Areas

Mental health programs and services, Parent training programs that address behavior problems in children and adolescents

Program Summary

Trust-Based Relationship Intervention (TBRI 101) is an online, attachment-based and trauma-informed intervention for parents and caregivers of children who have experienced abuse, neglect, and/or trauma. It is a self-guided virtual training with 7 hours and 19 minutes of video content that covers five subjects: Understanding Trauma, Empowering Principles, Connecting Principles, Correcting Principles, and TBRI Portraits. The training emphasizes three core principles: engaging children and building caregiver mindfulness to strengthen relationships; strategies to help children learn skills associated with self-regulation and meeting the children's needs; and building children's social competencies. The training is only available in English at this time.

WHO DO YOU TELL?™

Target Population

Children from Kindergarten to 6th grade.

Topic Areas

Program Summary

Who Do You Tell?™ is a developmentally appropriate education program that teaches children about child sexual abuse. The age-tailored program is taught in a classroom setting with varying lengths and number of sessions depending on the age group. The program can also be adapted to be taught in other child-oriented settings. Prior to starting the program, an informational session is held with teachers and parents separately. During the session, the teachers learn about the topics that will be covered in the program as well as skills in recognizing sexual abuse in children and responding to disclosures. Similarly, the parents learn about child sexual abuse and responding to disclosures.

WRAPAROUND

Target Population

Children and youth with severe emotional, behavioral, or mental health difficulties and their families where the child/youth is in, or at risk for, out-of-home, institutional, or restrictive placements, and involved in multiple child and family-serving systems (e.g., child welfare, mental health, juvenile justice, special education, etc.).

Topic Areas

Behavioral Management Programs for Adolescents in Child Welfare; Placement Stabilization Programs

Program Summary

Wraparound provides coordinated care for children who are involved with child and family-serving systems (e.g., mental health, child welfare, juvenile justice, special education), at risk of placement in institutional settings, and experience emotional, mental health, or behavioral difficulties. Families, providers, and the families' social support network work as a team to build a plan that meets the specific needs of the child and family. The team continuously monitors progress and adjusts the care plan as necessary. The services and supports provided are intensive, individualized, family driven, culturally competent, and community based.

Minimum Provider Qualifications

Care coordinators and supervisors should have at least a Bachelor's degree. Family partners should have expertise in multiagency collaboration and the program itself.

Child Abuse and Neglect Trends in San Bernardino County Data Summary

Children and Family Services

Prepared By:

EVALCORP
Measuring What Matters®

Introduction

This Data Summary presents key findings from a review of extant countywide data relating to child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. This report includes key comparison metrics for the last 5 years by child (0 – 17 years old) age and race/ethnicity categories, specifically for the following indicators:

- Maltreatment allegations reported
- Maltreatment allegations investigated
- Maltreatment allegation substantiated
- Maltreatment reporter types
- Maltreatment types
- Children entering foster care
- Children in foster care

These data were sourced from the California Child Welfare Indicators Project (CCWIP), which compiles data from the California Department of Social Services and the California Department of Finance.

As shown in Table 1, findings indicate a DECREASE in maltreatment allegations, investigations, and substantiations at both the County and State levels from 2015 to 2021. However, there was a 12% increase of children in foster care in San Bernardino County.

Table 1. San Bernardino County and California State Child Population and Welfare Indicator Counts from 2015 to 2021

	San Bernardino County			California

What does the countywide child population look like?

In 2021, there were approximately 570,238 children between the ages of 0 and 17 in San Bernardino County. Of these 570,238 children:

- 5% (n=28,564) were children under 1 year old
- 10% (n=57,403) were children between the ages of 1 and 2
- 16% (n=89,304) were children between the ages of 3 and 5

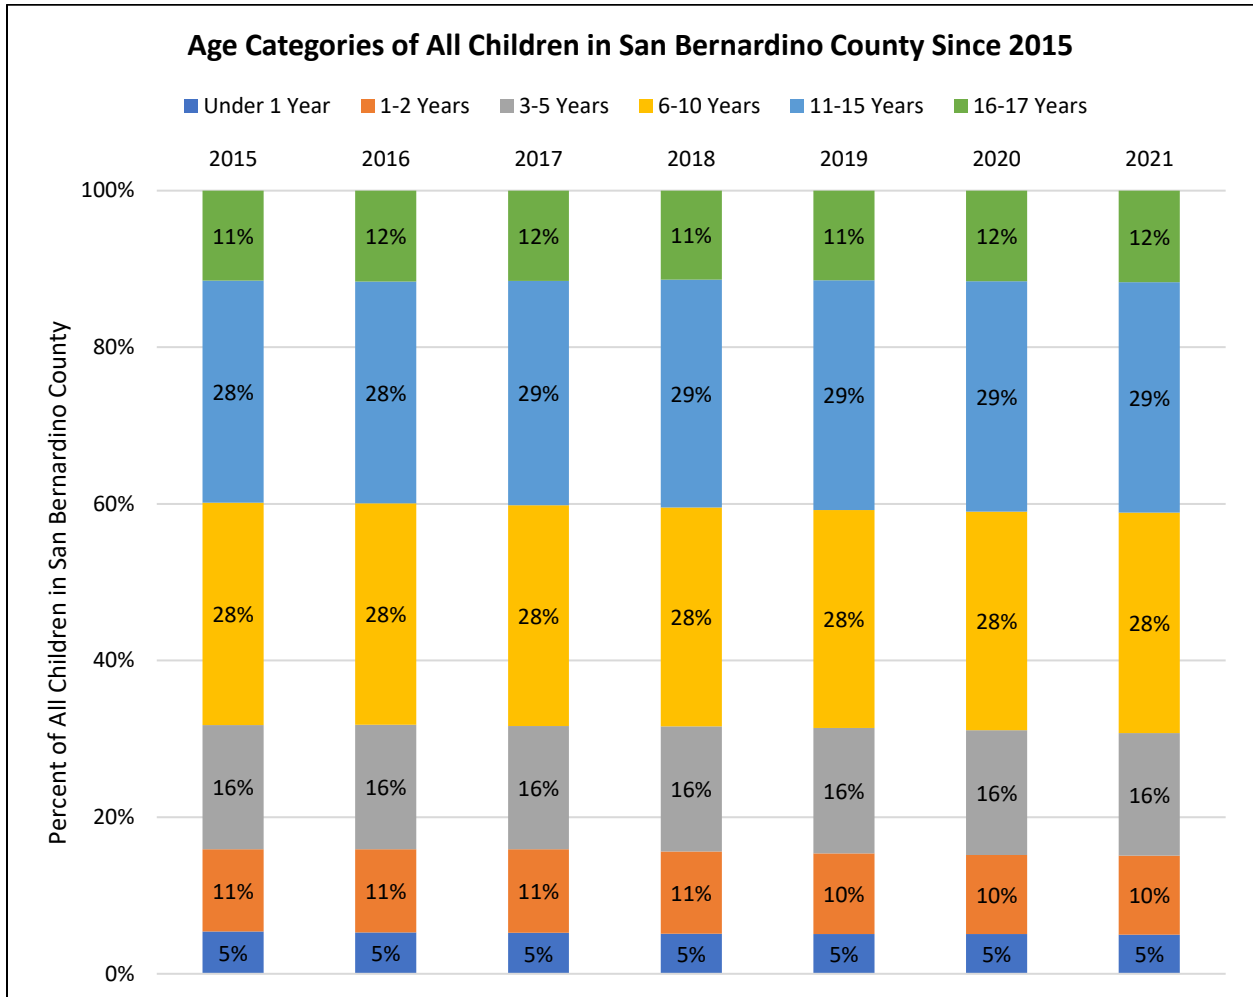

The proportion of San Bernardino County children in each of the age categories has remained similar to the proportion of California children in each of the age categories since 2015 (Table 2).

Table 2. Proportion of Children in San Bernardino County (SBC) and California (CA) by Age Category

As shown in Figure 1, the proportion of San Bernardino County children in each of the age categories has remained similar since 2015.

There are differences between the proportion of San Bernardino County children in each of the race/ethnicity categories and the proportion of California children in each of the race/ethnicity categories (Table 3). Most notably since 2015:

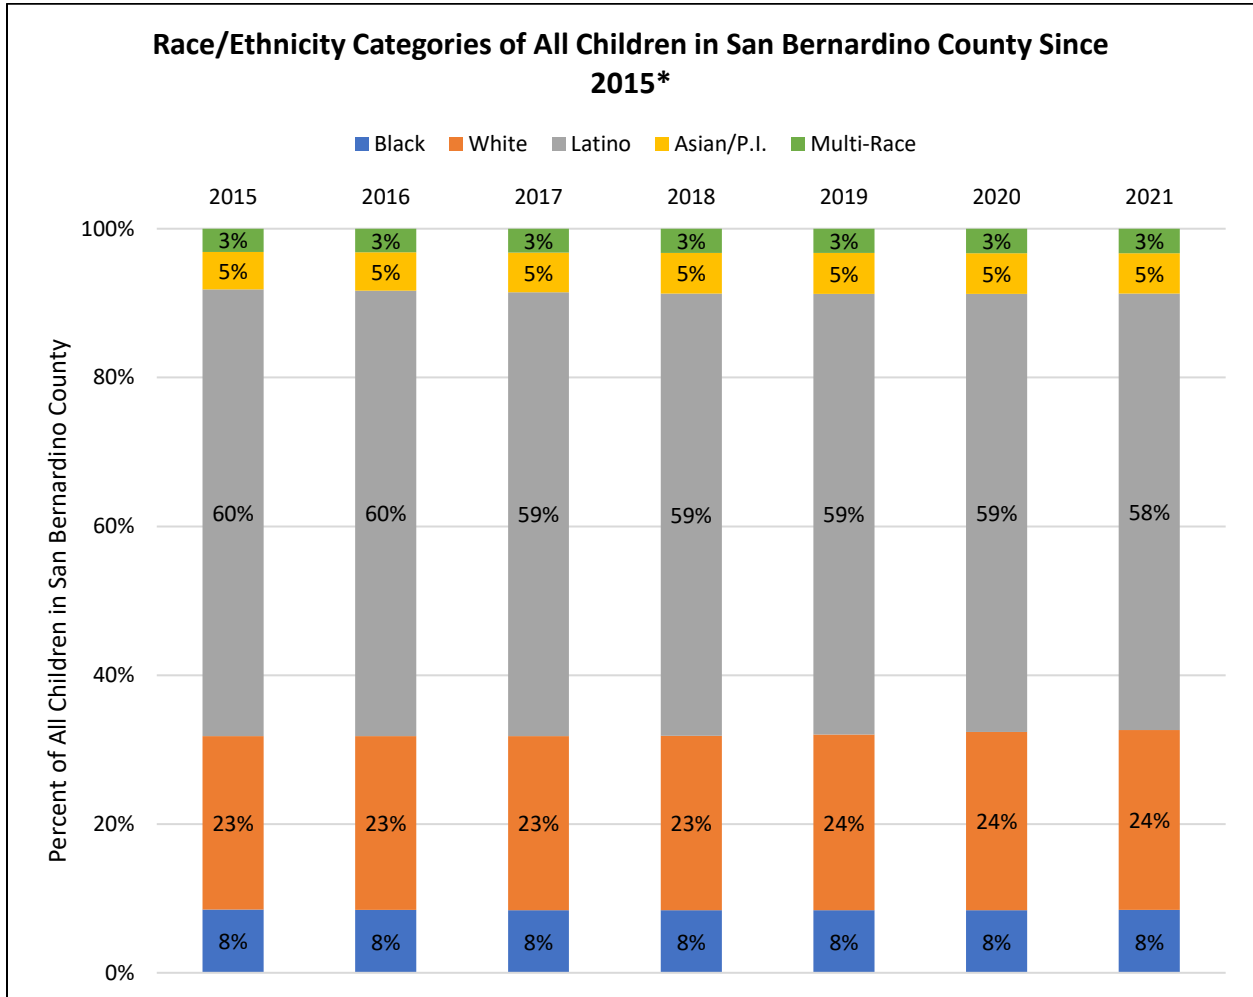

- San Bernardino County has had consistently higher proportions of Black and Latino children than California
- San Bernardino County has had consistently lower proportions of White, Asian/P.I., and Multi-Racial children than California

Table 3. Proportion of Children in San Bernardino County (SBC) and California (CA) by Race/Ethnicity Category

How many allegations of maltreatment have been reported?

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies received an estimated 28,728 allegations of child maltreatment, in a county of approximately 570,238 children. This equates to a countywide child maltreatment allegation rate of 50.4 per 1,000 children in the San Bernardino County population. The statewide child maltreatment allegation rate is 46.5 per 1,000 children. Of these 28,728 child maltreatment allegations in San Bernardino County:

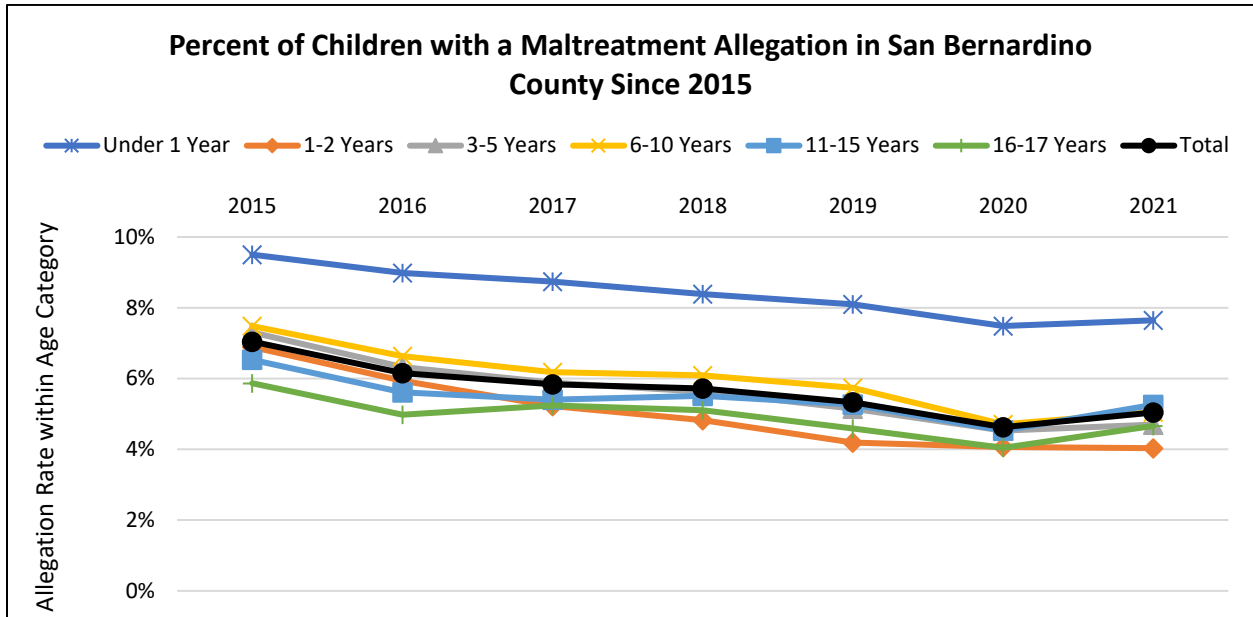

- 8% (n=2,185) were for children under 1 year old (compared to the under 1 year old population of 5%)
- 8% (n=2,315) were for children between the ages of 1 and 2 (compared to the 1-2 years old population of 10%)
- 15% (n=4,196) were for children between the ages of 3 and 5 (compared to the 3-5 years old population of 16%)

In 2021, 30% of the child maltreatment allegations in San Bernardino County were for children 0 – 5 years old.

Since 2015, the overall percent of children with a maltreatment allegation has decreased from 7% to 5% in 2021. As shown in Figure 3, many of the age categories have had similar maltreatment allegation rates and have followed a decreasing trend. Notably, the percent of children under 1 year with a maltreatment allegation has decreased from 10% in 2015 to 8% in 2021.

The “Under 1 Year” age category has had consistently higher maltreatment allegation rates.

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies received an estimated 28,728 allegations of child maltreatment, in a county of approximately 571,075 children. Of these 28,728 allegations:

- 17% (n=4,834) were for Black children (compared to the Black children population of 8%)
- 20% (n=5,704) were for White children (compared to the White children population of 24%)
- 56% (n=15,974) were for Latino children (compared to the Latino children population of 58%)

Since 2015, the overall percent of children with a maltreatment allegation has decreased from 7% to 5% in 2021. As shown in Figure 4, many of the race/ethnicity categories have had similar maltreatment allegation percentages and have followed a decreasing trend. Notably the percent of Black children with a maltreatment allegation has decreased from 16% in 2015 to 10% in 2021.

Black children have had consistently higher maltreatment allegation rates than all other race/ethnicity categories.

*Multi-Racial is not included in visualization as the values are <1%.

How many allegations of maltreatment have been investigated?

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies conducted 23,829 child maltreatment investigations, in a county of approximately 570,238 children. This equates to a countywide child maltreatment investigation rate of 41.8 per 1,000 children in the San Bernardino County population. The statewide child maltreatment investigation rate is 33.3 per 1,000 children. Of these 23,829 child maltreatment investigations in San Bernardino County:

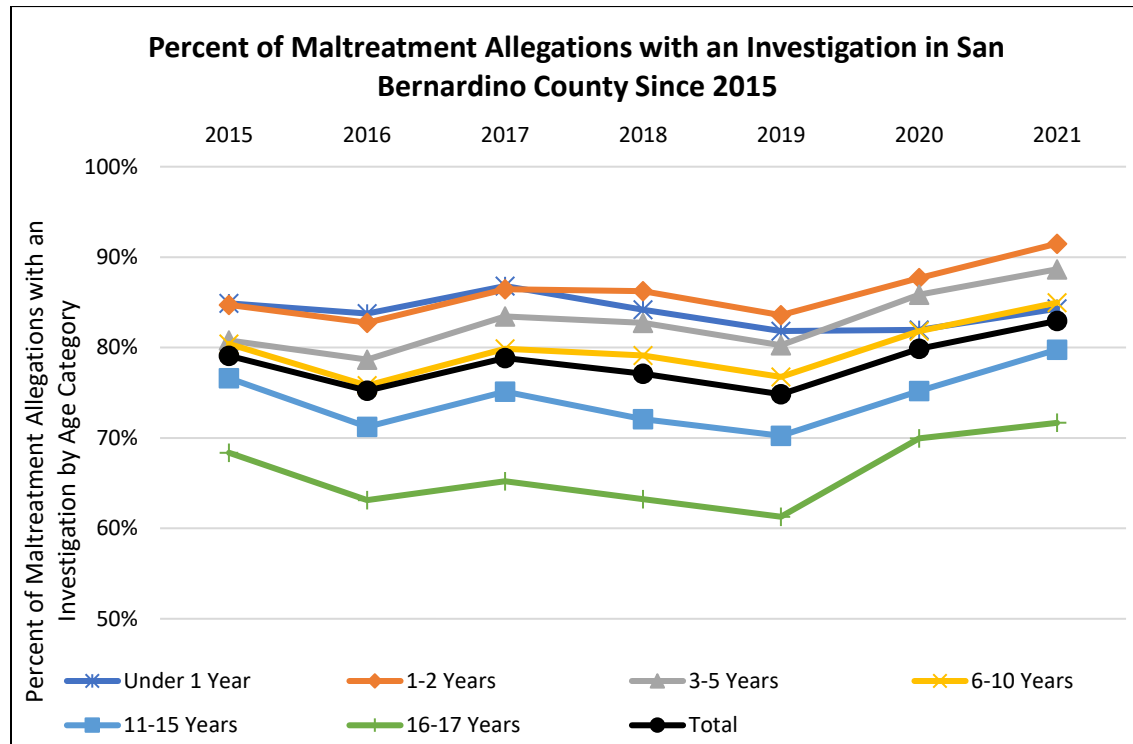

- 8% (n=1,842) were for children under 1 year old
- 9% (n=2,118) were for children between the ages of 1 and 2
- 16% (n=3,720) were for children between the ages of 3 and 5

In 2021, 32% of the child maltreatment investigations in San Bernardino County were for children 0 – 5 years old.

Since 2015, the overall percent of child maltreatment investigations has increased from 79% to 83% in 2021. As shown in Figure 5, many of the age categories have had similar maltreatment investigation percentages and have generally followed an increasing trend. Notably the percent of children 16 to 17 years old with a maltreatment investigation has increased from 68% in 2015 to 72% in 2021,

The "16-17 Years" age category has had consistently lower maltreatment investigation rates.

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies conducted 23,829 child maltreatment investigations, in a county of approximately 570,238 children. Of these 23,829 child maltreatment investigations in San Bernardino County:

- 17% (n=4,080) were for Black children
- 20% (n=4,659) were for White children
- 56% (n=13,355) were for Latino children

Since 2015, the overall percent of child maltreatment investigations has increased from 79% to 83% in 2021. As shown in Figure 6, many of the race/ethnicity categories have had similar maltreatment investigation and have generally followed an increasing trend. The maltreatment investigation rates for Native American children have decreased from 83% in 2015 to 75% in 2021.

Native American children have experienced a decline in maltreatment investigation rates since 2015.

*Multi-Racial is not included in visualization as the values are <1%.

How many investigated maltreatment allegations were substantiated?

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies substantiated 5,112 child maltreatment investigations, in a county of approximately 570,238 children. This equates to a countywide child maltreatment substantiation rate of 9.0 per 1,000 children in the San Bernardino County population. The statewide child maltreatment substantiation rate is 6.3 per 1,000 children. Of these 5,112 child maltreatment substantiations in San Bernardino County:

- 15% (n=750) were for children under 1 year old
- 11% (n=566) were for children between the ages of 1 and 2
- 16% (n=810) were for children between the ages of 3 and 5

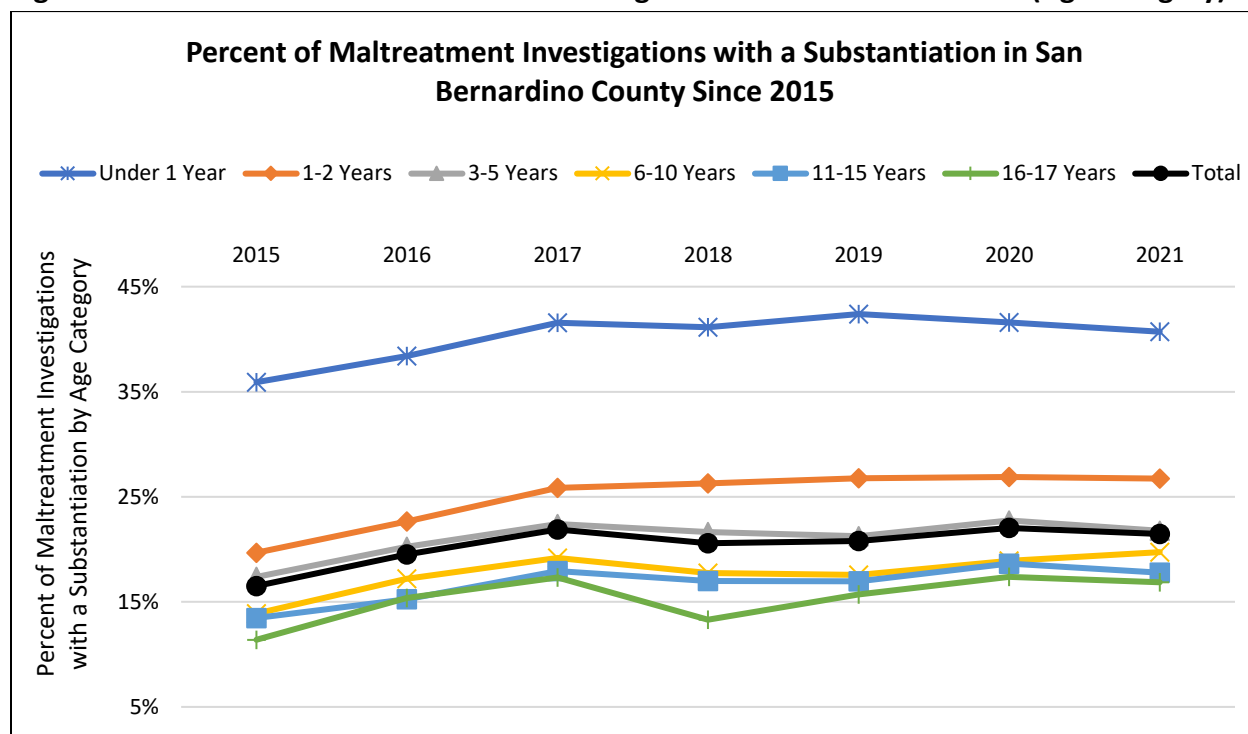

In 2021, 42% of the child maltreatment substantiations in San Bernardino County were for children

Since 2015, the overall percent of child maltreatment substantiations has increased from 17% to 21% in 2021. As shown in Figure 7, many of the age categories have had similar maltreatment substantiation rates and have generally followed an increasing trend. Notably the percent of children under 1 year old with a maltreatment substantiation has increased from 36% in 2015 to 41% in 2021.

The “Under 1 Year” age category has had consistently higher maltreatment substantiation rates.

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies substantiated 5,112 child maltreatment investigations, in a county of approximately 570,238 children. Of these 5,112 child maltreatment substantiations in San Bernardino County:

- 17% (n=845) were for Black children
- 20% (n=1,015) were for White children
- 59% (n=3,023) were for Latino children

Since 2015, the overall percent of child maltreatment substantiations has increased from 17% to 21% in 2021. As shown in Figure 8, many of the race/ethnicity categories have had similar maltreatment substantiations and have generally followed an increasing trend. The maltreatment substantiation rates for Latino children have increased from 16% in 2015 to 23% in 2021.

Native American children have experienced an increase in their maltreatment substantiation rates since 2015.

**Data for Asian/P.I. and Native American were not available in 2020.

Who reported the child maltreatment?

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies received an estimated 28,728 allegations of child maltreatment, in a county of approximately 570,238 children. Of these 28,728 child maltreatment allegations, the most common reporter types were (excluding “Missing/Unknown”):

- 20% (n=5,666) Other Professional
- 16% (n=4,571) Law Enforcement/Legal
- 14% (n=3,883) Counselor/Therapist
- 13% (n=3,877) Education

Since 2015, the percent of child maltreatment allegations for many of the reporter types has remained consistent, as shown in Figure 9. However, the percent of child maltreatment allegations made by “Education” and “Counselor/Therapist” reporter types decreased in 2020 (-7% and -1% respectively). These decreases may have been influenced by the COVID-19 pandemic.

The percent of child maltreatment allegations made by “Law Enforcement/Legal” reporter type has increased since 2015.

What were the most common types of maltreatment?

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, San Bernardino County Department of Social Services agencies received an estimated 28,728 allegations of child maltreatment, in a county of approximately 570,238 children. Of these 28,728 child maltreatment allegations, the most common allegation types were:

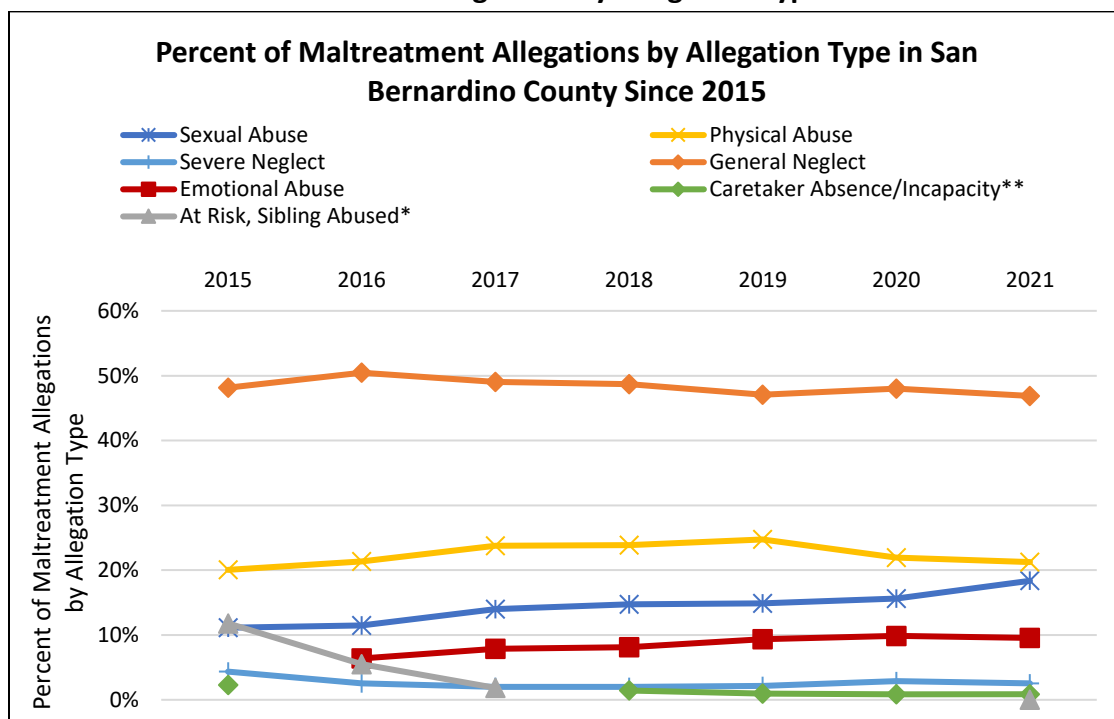

- 47% (n=13,466) General Neglect
- 21% (n=6,109) Physical Abuse
- 18% (n=5,274) Sexual Abuse

“General Neglect” accounted for nearly half (47%) of the child maltreatment allegations in 2021.

Since 2015, the percent of child maltreatment allegations for many of the allegation types has remained consistent, as shown in Figure 10. However, the percent of “Sexual Abuse” and “Emotional Abuse” child maltreatment allegations has increased since 2015 and 2016 (+7% and +4% respectively).

“General Neglect” has consistently accounted for a higher percentage of child maltreatment allegations than all other allegation types.

*Data for At Risk, Sibling Abused allegation type were not available in 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021.

**Data for Caretake Absence/Incapacity were not available in 2016 and 2017.

How many children entered foster care?

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, approximately 2,315 children between the ages of 0 and 17 entered foster care in San Bernardino County, which has approximately 570,238 children. This equates to a countywide child foster care entry rate of 4.1 per 1,000 children in the San Bernardino County population. The statewide child foster care entry rate is 2.5 per 1,000 children. Of these 2,315 foster care entries in San Bernardino County:

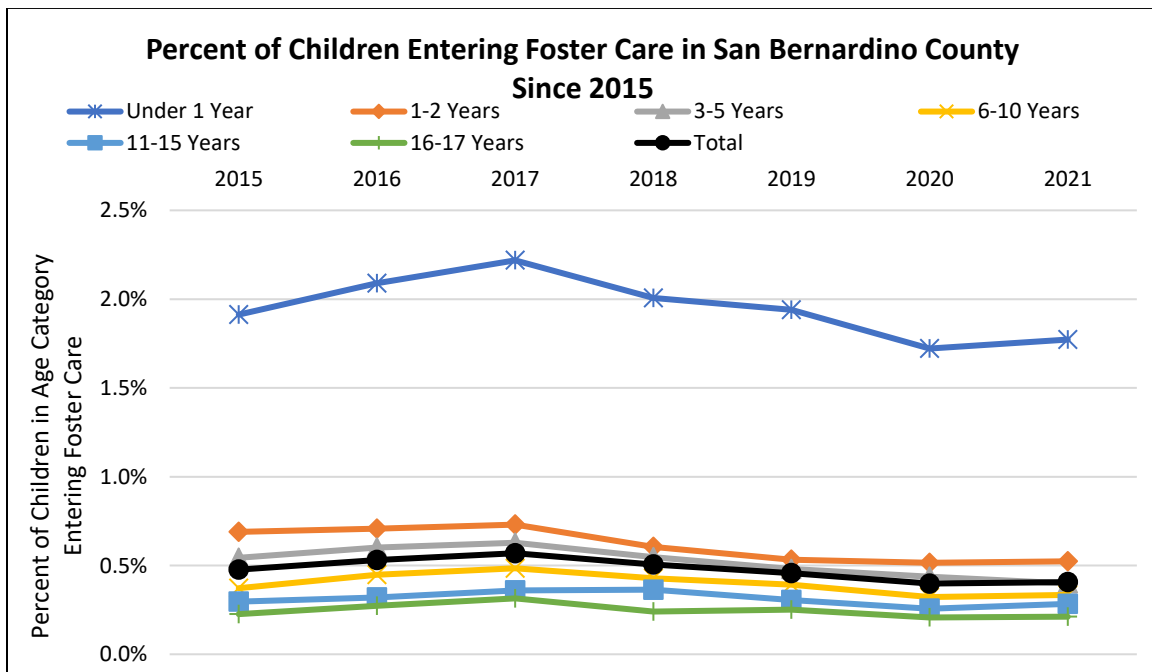

- 22% (n=506) were for children under 1 year old
- 13% (n=300) were for children between the ages of 1 and 2
- 15% (n=356) were for children between the ages of 3 and 5

In 2021, 50% of the foster care entries in San Bernardino County were children 0 – 5 years old.

Since 2015, the overall percent of child foster care entries has stayed consistent at 0.5% of all children in San Bernardino County. As shown in Figure 11, the “Under 1 Year” age category has had consistently higher foster care entry rates; however, the rates for this age category have decreased slightly from 1.9% in 2015 to 1.8% in 2021.

The “Under 1 Year” age category has had consistently higher foster care entry rates than all other age categories.

Between January 1st and December 31st, 2021, approximately 2,315 children between the ages of 0 and 17 entered foster care in San Bernardino County, which has approximately 570,238 children. Of these 2,315 foster care entries in San Bernardino County:

- 19% (n=446) were for Black children
- 18% (n=431) were for White children
- 60% (n=1,397) were for Latino children

Since 2015, the overall percent of child foster care entries has stayed consistent at 0.5% of all children in San Bernardino County. As shown in Figure 12, many of the race/ethnicity categories have had similar foster care entry rates and have generally maintained a stable trend. While Black children have had consistently higher foster care entry rates, the rates for this race/ethnicity category have decreased slightly from 1.3% in 2015 to 0.9% in 2021.

Black children have experienced consistently higher foster care entry rates than all other race/ethnicity categories.

*Native American and Multi-Racial are not included in visualization as the data are not available.

How many children are in foster care?

The number of children in foster care is a point-in-time calculation that is gathered on July 1st of each year. On July 1st, 2021, there were 5,664 children in foster care in San Bernardino County, which has approximately 570,238 children. This equates to a countywide in-foster-care prevalence rate of 9.9 per 1,000 children in the San Bernardino County population. The statewide in-foster-care prevalence rate is 5.5 per 1,000 children. Of these 5,664 children in foster care in San Bernardino County:

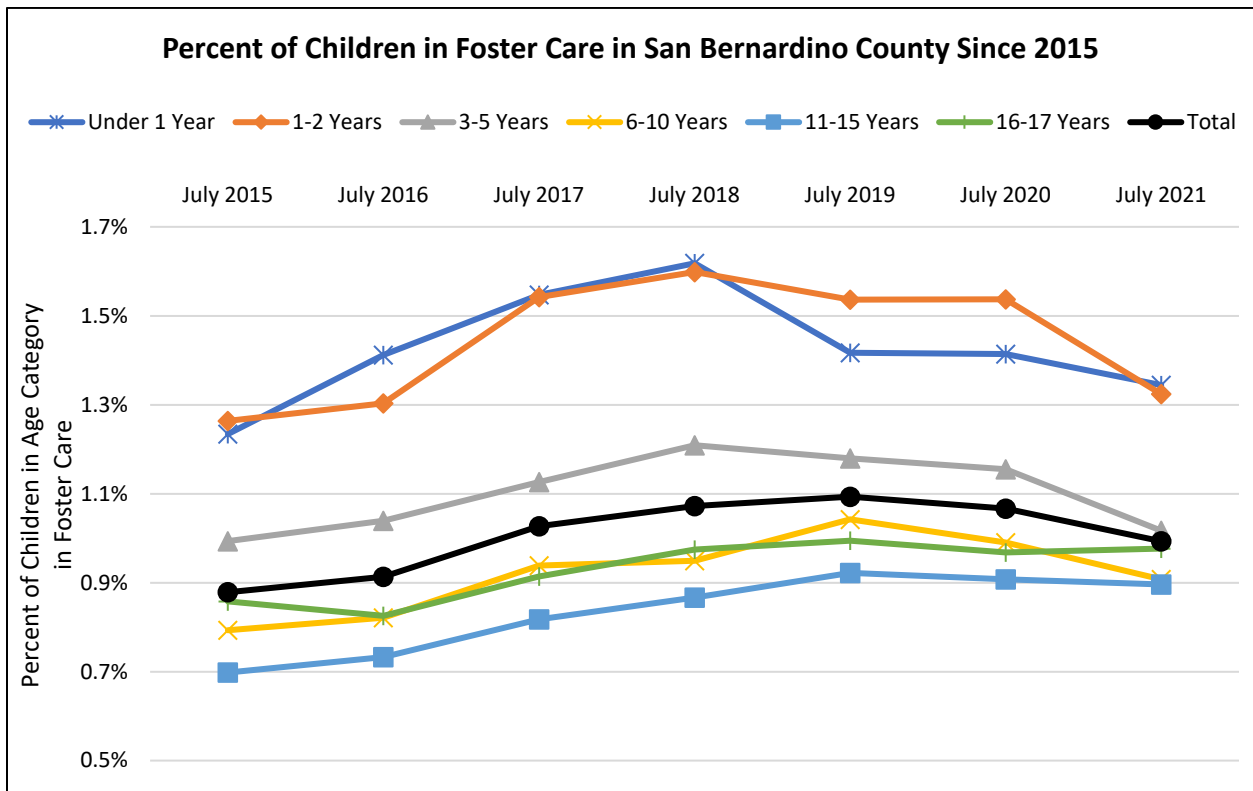

- 7% (n=384) were for children under 1 year old
- 13% (n=760) were for children between the ages of 1 and 2
- 16% (n=908) were for children between the ages of 3 and 5

On July 1st, 2021, 36% of the children in foster care in San Bernardino County were children 0 – 5 years old.

Since 2015, the overall percent of child foster care entries has increased slightly from 0.9% in 2015 to 1.0% in 2020. As shown in Figure 13, the “Under 1 Year” age category has increased slightly from 1.2% in 2015 to 1.3% in 2021.

The “Under 1 Year” and “1-2 Years” age categories have had consistently higher in-foster-care rates.

The number of children in foster care is a point-in-time calculation that is gathered on July 1st of each year. On July 1st, 2020, there were 5,664 children in foster care in San Bernardino County, which has approximately 570,238 children. Of these 5,664 children in foster care in San Bernardino County:

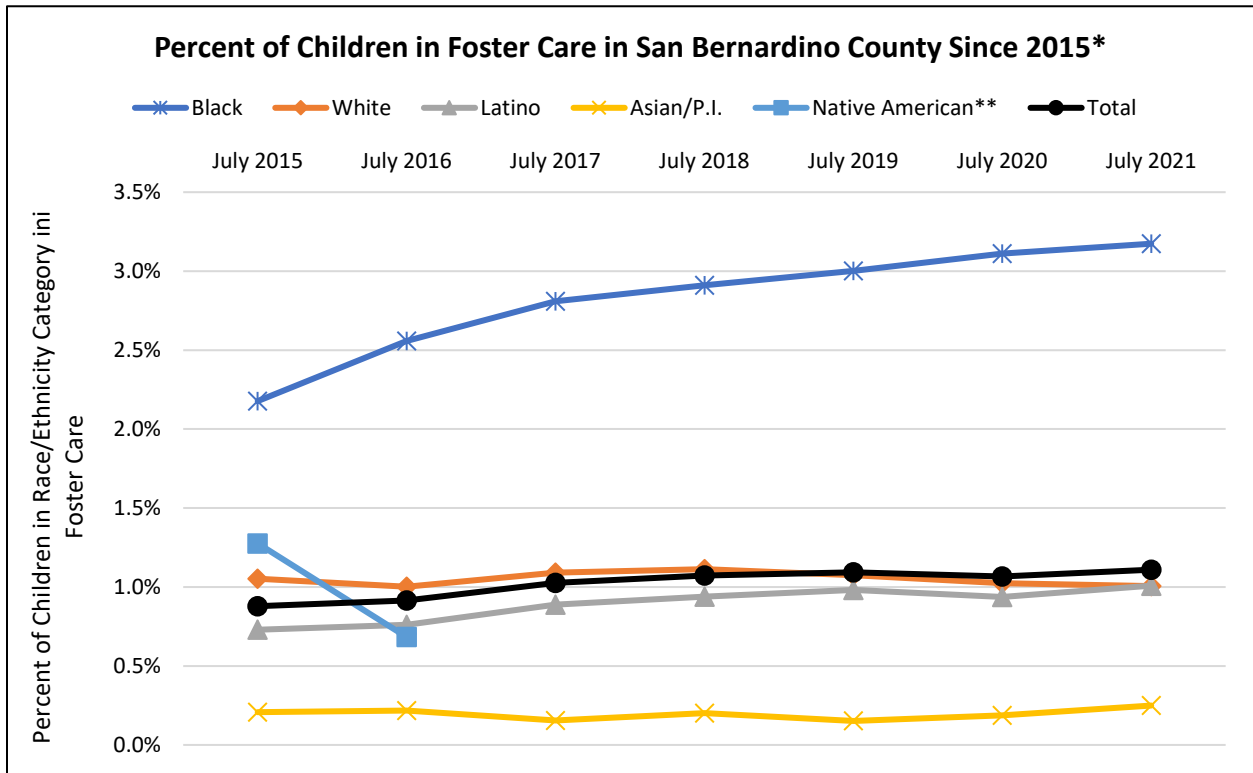

- 24% (n=1,511) were for Black children
- 22% (n=1,393) were for White children
- 53% (n=3,345) were for Latino children

Since 2015, the overall percent of child foster care entries has increased slightly from 0.9% in 2015 to 1.0% in 2021. As shown in Figure 14, many of the race/ethnicity categories have had similar in-foster-care rates and have generally maintained a stable trend. However, Black children have had consistently higher in-foster-care rates, with their rates increasing from 2.2% in 2015 to 3.2% in 2021.

Black children have experienced consistently higher in-care-foster rates than all other race/ethnicity categories.

Conclusions

- Since 2015, the overall percent of children with a maltreatment allegation in San Bernardino County has decreased from 7% to 5% in 2021.
  - During this time, the State level rate of 5% remained steady, while San Bernardino County had a consistently higher maltreatment allegation rate than California.
- San Bernardino County incidence rates are higher than California incidence rates for the following child welfare indicators:
  - Maltreatment allegations reported
  - Maltreatment allegation investigations
  - Maltreatment allegation substantiations
  - Foster care entries
  - In-foster-care (prevalence rate)
- Children under the age of 1 in San Bernardino County have consistently higher rates among the following child welfare indicators:
  - Maltreatment allegations reported
  - Maltreatment allegation substantiations
  - Foster care entries
  - In-foster-care (prevalence rate)
- Black children in San Bernardino County have consistently higher rates for the following child welfare indicators:
  - Maltreatment allegations reported
  - Foster care entries
  - In-foster-care (prevalence rate)
- Since 2015, the percent of child maltreatment allegations for many of the reporter types has remained consistent. However, the percent of child maltreatment allegations made by “Education” and “Counselor/Therapist” reporter types decreased in 2020 (-7% and -1% respectively). These decreases may have been influenced by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Measuring What Matters®

Purpose

First 5 San Bernardino (F5SB), in collaboration with San Bernardino County Children and Family Services (CFS) and the Children's Network, conducted a comprehensive needs assessment regarding the prevention of child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. To complete the needs assessment, F5SB contracted with EVALCORP, a professional applied research firm.

One aspect of the needs assessment included documenting the current needs of the families and communities in preventing and addressing child abuse and neglect, as well as assessing perceptions about existing resources to prevent and address child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. This document summarizes the findings from interviews with county-level stakeholders.

Methods

The interviews were conducted virtually, via Zoom, by EVALCORP staff, who were trained and experienced in interviewing stakeholders. Interviews were conducted between December 2021 and March 2022. The interviews asked for input on the following topics:

- ❖ Brief description of their organization's work regarding child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention
- ❖ Community needs, including variation across San Bernardino County and shifts due to COVID-19
- ❖ Family risk factors for child abuse and neglect
- ❖ Successes and opportunities in preventing child abuse and neglect
- ❖ The current equity, inclusiveness, and cultural competence of current services across the county

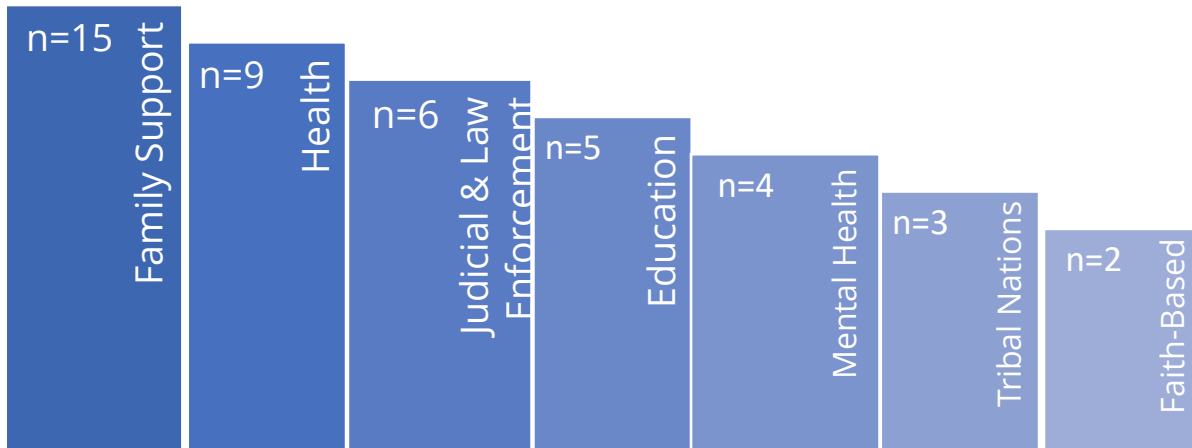

Each interview was approximately 45 minutes long. EVALCORP staff took notes during the interviews, and recorded interviews (with the interviewee's permission) to verify the notes. Participation was voluntary, and interviewees could decline to answer any question. All responses were coded for themes. For many of the questions, multiple themes could be coded for each response.

Results

Participants

EVALCORP staff interviewed 44 stakeholders from a variety of sectors who are involved in child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention, and the lives of families and children. Figure 1 lists the number of interviewees across the various sectors.

The participants represented upper-level management through Executive Director level positions within their organizations, which included county-level departments as well as community-based organizations. All regions of the county were represented (see Figure 2). It should be noted that respondents could identify more than one region served.

Regions Served (N=48)
Entire County n= 35	East Valley n= 3	West Valley n= 4	Mountain Region n= 1	Desert Region n= 5

All interviewees were asked to describe the work their agency does to prevent or address child abuse and neglect. Given the wide range of sectors, the responses were varied and many organizations had more than one type of serviced they provide to prevent or address child abuse and neglect. Examples of the work included:

- ❖ Prevention and Intervention Services (n=26): providing support services including mental health services, injury prevention services, and connecting children and families to necessary services
- ❖ Mandated Reporting (n=16): reporting abuse and neglect cases
- ❖ Community Education (n=12): mental health outreach, parent education, education on access to care
- ❖ Workforce Development (n=3): training of providers
- ❖ Research (n=3): better understanding child abuse prevention and identification

The responses were also coded for their level of prevention, from primary to tertiary prevention.

Levels of Prevention

Framework for Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, Child Welfare Information Gateway, <https://www.childwelfare.gov/topics/preventing/overview/framework/>

Primary Prevention: Services aimed at the general population (e.g., public awareness campaigns, parenting classes, efforts to educate children about safety, family supports, family strengthening programs).

Secondary Prevention: Services for populations at high-risk for child abuse or neglect that have one or more risk factors for child maltreatment (e.g., single or teenage parents, families living in poverty, parental substance abuse, parental or child disabilities, or parental or child mental health concerns).

Tertiary Prevention: Services for families who have already been affected by child abuse or neglect (e.g., family preservation services, mental health services, parent mentoring and support groups).

Across the interviews, the services provided fell into the following prevention levels (see Figure 4):

Family Needs

In addition to the needs of communities, interviewees were also asked to reflect on the top three family risk factors for child abuse and neglect. Overall, the responses were caregiver stress, adverse health conditions, and access to essential services. While these three distinct themes were stated in the interviews, respondents also highlighted the relationship between these issues.

Caregiver stress (n=36). Respondents indicated the need for economic stability as the primary factor to combat caregiver stress. When struggling with chronic stressors, ancillary impacts are experienced, such as caregiver neglect. Respondents also described homes with a single caregiver as needing support to manage the burden of household demands.

Mental health and substance abuse (n=32). Families experiencing mental health issues and substance abuse were cited as being particularly at-risk for child abuse and neglect. The relationship between mental health issues and substance abuse was mentioned, noting that they are distinct, yet highly related issues. In some cases, historical trauma (e.g., ACES), was also cited as being a component of mental health and substance abuse.

Access to essential services (n=24). Respondents cited affordability of services for those who are underinsured, technological barriers, and geographic isolation as primary factors limiting access to essential services for families. With the shifting demands of the pandemic, challenges with technology presented barriers to services for many families. Further, certain populations experience limitations posed by their geographic location. Respondents cited that families, particularly those from tribal communities, and those who reside in the High Desert, (specifically Barstow and Needles), regularly struggle to access basic needs.

Community Needs

All interviewees were asked their experience and opinions on community needs in San Bernardino County related to child abuse and neglect. The top answers were 1) improved access to services, 2) higher quality services, and 3) addressing family risk factors. The responses, with examples are detailed in Figure 6.

Interview respondents were asked how these community needs may vary across San Bernardino County, whether by subpopulation or region. Responses highlighted regional differences, particularly within tribal communities, that are impacted by geographic isolation, varying levels of poverty, less law enforcement, fewer providers, and poorer internet connectivity. As stated by one respondent, “The communities that are more rural need more services than are available to them. Some families travel a great distance to get county services, but the services may not be available every day or as needed.”

Impact of COVID-19 Pandemic

Given the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and its impact on families and communities, EVALCORP also asked the degree to which these needs may have shifted due to the pandemic.

Impact of COVID-19 (N=83)

Negative impact on child development (n=20)

- Social emotional health of children was often cited by respondents as being most impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. With an increase in online schooling and reduced social interaction with peers, respondents cited concern for child social emotional development.
- Potential gaps in educational achievement were also cited, though these were cautionary concerns as these impacts have yet to be fully realized.

Decreased access to services (n=18)

- In-person services were limited during the pandemic.
- Respondents also cited the challenges faced by home visitation programs that struggled to establish meaningful connections with families when services were made virtual.

Increased exposure to risk factors (n=17)

- Respondents indicated that children were at greater risk of exposure to family risk factors, such as caregiver substance abuse.
- Respondents mentioned an increase in the frequency of exposure, severity of incidences, and reduced presence of responsible adults (such as teachers, counselors) as contributing factors.

Successes and Opportunities

Each interviewee was asked a series of questions about successful efforts to prevent and address child abuse and neglect, gaps or barriers to provide prevention services, and suggestions to address these barriers in San Bernardino County.

Successes

Interview respondents identified several areas of success in reducing or preventing child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County.

Community-Based Resources and Services (n=32). Availability of resources in the community, specifically parenting/caregiver programs, therapeutic services, and home visiting programs were cited as successful efforts in the prevention of child abuse and neglect. Family Resource Centers were also a regularly cited success given their strong relationships with families that allow them to facilitate resource connection other entities may not be able to.

Community Education (n=27). Outreach and awareness campaigns that included billboards, ads on TV, specifically safe sleep, shaken baby, and pool safety campaigns were considered successes. Also, dissemination of health and child development resources such as family tax credits was regarded as successful efforts. As stated by one respondent, “We’ve done a great job for intervention. Once it occurs and CFS is involved, there are resources. I think we can do better about letting families know what is available before it happens—before the child enters the system.”

Service Coordination (n=19). Multidisciplinary teams that support system navigation and help streamline care without duplication were cited as successful efforts to prevent child abuse and neglect. Other successes included collaborative stakeholders that ensured a continuity of care and warm handoffs.

Gaps, Barriers, and Opportunities

Respondents also provided insight into gaps, barriers, and suggestions for improving resource allocation and service provision for the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

Primary themes have considerable overlap with the findings posed in the Equity, Inclusion, and Cultural Competence section, which begins on the next page. These themes are explored in further detail there.

Equity, Inclusion, and Cultural Competence

Interviewees were asked a series of questions about the equity, inclusiveness, and cultural competence of services in San Bernardino County for prevention and addressing child abuse and neglect. First, respondents were asked who was underserved and what barriers those populations faced.

Who is underserved? (N=87)

People of color (n=23)

- Differences of lived experiences and outcomes among ethnic minority communities (i.e., Black, Latino, Native American, and Asian) were cited. For example, respondents acknowledge that efforts are seemingly made to engage and understand need among Tribal populations, but can not recognize any significant increase in service provision.

Culturally marginalized groups (n=21)

- Families with language barriers, immigrant families, trafficked individuals, and LGBTQ+ individuals were cited among the most underserved in San Bernardino County.
- A lack of service providers, including translators, was cited for Spanish speaking populations who struggle to find services in-person comparable to those received virtually.
- Concerns for the safety of LGBTQ+ youth at home, in school, and in the community were shared, which included the highlight of these youth having disproportionately high representation in runaway and homeless youth populations.

Geographically underserved (n=13)

- Communities that are geographically isolated, whether due to limited ability to commute to services, or a lack of service provision locally, are among the most underserved. The Desert Region, including Needles and Barstow, was cited as having particular high need for housing assistance and overall service provision.

What barriers are they facing? (N=55)

Difficulty accessing services (n=17)

- Cost of services for underinsured populations, geographic isolation, and cultural competence were cited as primary barriers to for underserved populations.
- A lack of trust among underserved populations of service providers was cited as a potential factor for preventing service engagement. Cultural competence messaging and outreach campaigns were cited as potential strategies to bridging this gap.

Lack of culturally competent workforce (n=14)

- Representation in the workforce is lacking and contributing to disengagement among underserved populations. Specifically, engagement with large, systemic entities with government affiliations dissuade some ethnic minority communities from engaging in needed services.

Services not tailored to needs (n=10)

- Respondents cited a need for services that meet the underlying needs of the target populations. Specifically, helping facilitate access to an emerging basic need like internet connection, services that accommodate transportation barriers, and support services that bring a patient, sensitive approach to client engagement and reflect the considerable stress faced by these communities.

Next, respondents were asked about suggestions to address the barriers and ways in which services could be more equitable and inclusive.

Suggestions to address barriers
(n=57)

- Assess community's needs (n=17)
  - Continued outreach to engage the community.
  - Increased development of culturally competent services and the increase of minority representation and diversity in decision-making positions.
- Address language barriers (n=12)
  - Language services were cited as an emerging barrier for in-person services.
- Community education (n=8)
  - Outreach and education with a culturally responsive approach: facilitators that come from the same or similar communities; speak the same language; and are committed to empowering the community in positive, strength-based ways.

Ways services could be more equitable and inclusive
(n=62)

- Capture community voice (n=25)
  - Incorporating representative community voice in strategic planning and programming decisions.
- Cultural competence and representation (n=21)
  - Community-level representation in decision-making positions within government and nonprofit settings.
- Financial support to families (n=8)
  - Subsidizing family access to services

Summary

EVALCORP interviewed 44 stakeholders to understand the current strengths and gaps in child abuse and neglect prevention in San Bernardino County. A summary of key findings is presented below.

Family risk factors for child abuse and neglect. Respondents discussed three interrelated risk factors for child abuse and neglect:

- ❖ Caregiver stress
- ❖ Mental health and substance abuse
- ❖ Access to essential services

Community needs to better prevent child abuse and neglect.

- ❖ Improved access to services
- ❖ Higher quality services
- ❖ Addressing family risk factors

Interviewees also identified efforts that had been successful in the county at addressing child abuse and neglect. These efforts included:

- ❖ Community-based resources and services
- ❖ Community education, including public awareness campaigns
- ❖ Service coordination, including multidisciplinary teams and warm handoffs to services

Barriers to care in the county were also identified. Interview participants noted that the High Desert region is underserved, as are people of color, immigrant families, trafficked individuals, and LGBTQ+ individuals.

Currently, the main barriers in preventing child abuse and neglect are:

- ❖ Ability to access services due to cost of services for underinsured populations and transportation challenges to get to the services
- ❖ Ensuring the services provided are meeting the family's needs: available in the family's language, addressing the family's and community's needs, is culturally responsive and competent to facilitate trust between the family and service provider.

PREPARED BY

EVALCORP
Measuring What Matters®

Purpose

First 5 San Bernardino (F5SB), in collaboration with San Bernardino County Children and Family Services (CFS) and the Children’s Network, conducted a comprehensive needs assessment regarding the prevention of child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. F5SB contracted with EVALCORP, a professional applied research firm, to complete the needs assessment. The current document summarizes the findings from surveys conducted with county-level providers.

Methods

Data Collection

To assess the current community resources and needs across San Bernardino County to support children and families and prevent child abuse and neglect, a survey was issued to local providers who work directly with children and families. To reach this target population, a list of potential survey participants was established in collaboration with First 5 San Bernardino, Children and Family Services, and Children’s Network. Invitation emails with the online survey link were sent out to potential participants, which were followed by periodic reminder emails and a flyer advertisement for survey participation. Additionally, survey participants were encouraged to share the survey link with other providers in their network who would be able to provide insight into the needs of children and families to prevent child abuse and neglect. Furthermore, each survey participant gained entry to a raffle for one of five $75 gift cards as an incentive for completing the survey. The survey was administered online from March 22, 2022 to May 15, 2022.

Provider Survey

The Provider Survey was designed to gather respondents’ perspectives on:

- Issues affecting families;
- Current resources and services available to families; and
- Providers’ knowledge and experience to address child abuse and neglect.

A total of 271 survey responses were analyzed. Responses were included if the respondent identified that they directly work with or support children and/or families in San Bernardino County and completed the majority of survey questions. Findings from the analysis are reported in detail below. In addition to overall analysis, the responses were analyzed by sector and by region for descriptive differences. No significant statistical testing was performed due to small sample sizes.

Results

Participant Profile

The survey respondents represented a variety of sectors involved in child abuse and neglect prevention and intervention across the county. The sector and regional representations are displayed in Figure 1 and Table 1, respectively. The respondents who selected “Other Family Supports” were asked to specify their type of work. Their answers included family resources (n=10), foster (n=9), parenting (n=6), and health (n=5). Similarly, respondents who selected “Other” region were asked to specify, and only the responses that identified a region within San Bernardino County were included in the analysis.

Table 1: Regions Represented by Survey Respondents

Region	Count	Percent
Entire Region	122	39%
Desert Region	52	17%
Mountain Region	46	15%
East Region	40	13%
West Region	34	11%
Other*	15	5%
Total	309	100%

*Other regions listed: Inland Empire; San Bernardino City; Central San Bernardino; Baldwin Lane; Southwest; Trona; Rural; Rialto; All except West End; South; and Fontana

Issues Affecting Families

To assess the greatest issues that families face regarding child abuse and neglect prevention, providers were asked to indicate how often the issues listed in Figure 2 affect the families they support. The providers rated whether the issues affect the families “Never,” “Sometimes,” or “Often.” The providers were also given the option to select “Don’t Know” for items as applicable. A majority (≥81%) of providers indicated that all the issues listed affected the families they support sometimes or often. Moreover, 95% of the providers said that they sometimes or often saw caregivers who may benefit from education on parenting topics (e.g., child development or handling challenging behaviors). Meanwhile, 13% of providers selected “Don’t Know” when asked how often they saw “caregivers who were abused or neglected as children” affecting the families that they support. Table 2 in Appendix A further details these results.

Resources & Services for Families

Providers were also asked whether they agree or disagree with statements regarding the resources and services available to the families that they support. Specifically, providers indicated whether the resources and services: understand individual needs; value family input; are trusted by the families; are available in languages spoken by families; and are available to the families who need them. Most ( $\geq 81\%$ ) providers responded that they “Strongly Agree” or “Agree” to all statements. However, 15% of the providers said they disagreed or strongly disagreed that the resources and services are trusted by families while 14% said they disagreed or strongly disagreed that the resources and services are available to the families who need them. Table 3 in Appendix A further details these results. Results did not vary across regions.

Although the overall results were when looking at responses across sectors, it is important to note that 28% of respondents from the Law Enforcement sector indicated that they disagreed or strongly disagreed with the statement “The resources and services available to the families I work with understand individual needs.”

Provider Knowledge & Experience

Lastly, providers were asked whether they agree or disagree with statements about their own needs to better prevent and address child abuse and neglect. Providers responded to statements about their training to recognize a family at risk or experiencing child abuse and neglect, knowledge of what to do when they see a family at risk or experiencing child abuse or neglect, and knowledge about resources and services available to families at risk for child abuse and neglect. The majority ( $\geq 84\%$ ) of providers indicated that they “Strongly Agree” or “Agree” to all statements. The providers especially felt that they had enough training to recognize the risk for child abuse and neglect (92%) and what to do if they see a family who is experiencing child abuse or neglect (93%). Meanwhile, 16% of the providers responded that they “Disagree” or “Strongly Disagree” with the statement that they are “knowledgeable about resources and services available to families who are at risk for child abuse and neglect.” Table 4 in Appendix A further details these results. Results did not vary across regions.

Although the overall results were similar when looking at responses across sectors, a slightly higher percentage of providers from Law Enforcement felt that they did not have enough training to recognize the risk for child abuse and neglect (17%), did not know what to do if they see a family who is at risk for child abuse or neglect (17%), and are not knowledgeable about resources and services available to families who are at risk for child abuse and neglect (24%). Moreover, a slightly higher percentage of providers from the medical sector responded that they did not know what to do if they see a family who is experiencing child abuse or neglect (22%) and that they are not knowledgeable about resources and services available to families who are at risk for child abuse and neglect (23%).

Summary

EVALCORP collected and analyzed a total of 271 survey responses from providers across different sectors throughout San Bernardino County. The goal of the survey was to assess the current community resources and needs across the County to support children and families and prevent child abuse and neglect.

Providers represented the following sectors:

- ❖ Children and Family Services
- ❖ Education (examples: early care and education, elementary through high school teachers)
- ❖ Family Resource Center
- ❖ Law Enforcement (examples: police, sheriff, probation, school security or safety officers)
- ❖ Medical (examples: nurse, pediatrician, general practitioner)
- ❖ Mental and Behavioral Health (examples: clinicians, therapists)
- ❖ Other Family Supports (examples: family resources, foster, parenting, and health)

Providers represented the following regions:

- ❖ Entire Region
- ❖ East Region
- ❖ West Region
- ❖ Mountain Region
- ❖ Desert Region
- ❖ Other (examples: Inland Empire, Fontana, and South)

Key findings are presented below.

Issues Affecting Families:

- ❖ 95% of providers responded that they sometimes or often saw caregivers who may benefit from education on parenting topics.
- ❖ 13% of providers responded that they “Don’t Know” if the caregivers they work with were abused or neglected as children.

Resources & Services for Families

- ❖ Most (≥81%) of providers strongly agreed or agreed that the resources and services available to the families they work with: understand individual needs; value family input; are trusted by the families; are available in the language spoken by the family; and are available to the families who need them.

- ❖ 15% of the providers said they disagreed or strongly disagreed that the resources and services are trusted by families.
- ❖ 14% said they disagreed or strongly disagreed that the resources and services are available to the families who need them.
- ❖ 28% of providers from the Law Enforcement sector strongly disagreed or disagreed that the resources and services available understand individual needs.

Provider Knowledge & Experience

- ❖ Most ( $\geq 84\%$ ) of respondents strongly agreed or agreed that: they have enough training to recognize the risk for child abuse and neglect and those experiencing child abuse and neglect; know what to do if they see a family who is at risk for child abuse or neglect and if they see a family who is experiencing child abuse or neglect; and are knowledgeable about resources and services available to families who are at risk for child abuse and neglect.
- ❖ 16% of the providers strongly disagreed or disagreed that they are knowledgeable about resources and services available to families who are at risk for child abuse and neglect.
- ❖ Providers from Law Enforcement responded that
  - they did not have enough training to recognize the risk for child abuse and neglect (17%),
  - did not know what to do if they see a family who is at risk for child abuse or neglect (17%), and
  - are not knowledgeable about resources and services available to families who are at risk for child abuse and neglect (24%).
- ❖ Providers from the Medical sector responded that
  - they did not know what to do if they see a family who is experiencing child abuse or neglect (22%) and
  - they are not knowledgeable about resources and services available to families who are at risk for child abuse and neglect (23%).

San Bernardino County Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Needs Assessment Summary of Family Focus Group 2022

Children and Family Services

EVALCORP
Measuring What Matters®

Purpose

First 5 San Bernardino (F5SB), in collaboration with San Bernardino County Children and Family Services (CFS) and the Children’s Network, conducted a comprehensive needs assessment regarding the prevention of child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. F5SB contracted with EVALCORP, a professional applied research firm, to complete the needs assessment.

A family focus group was conducted to document the current needs of the families and communities in preventing and addressing child abuse and neglect, as well as assessing perceptions about existing resources to prevent and address child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County.

Methods

The family focus group was conducted virtually in February 2022, via Zoom, by EVALCORP staff members, who were trained and experienced in facilitating focus groups. The focus group asked for input from parents on the following topics:

- Strengths of their community, including the services and resources that are most helpful to their families
- Current needs of their community, including the needs of their families and barriers to meeting those needs
- Successful efforts that are working to prevent child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County
- Recommendations and ideas to help prevent child abuse and neglect and to ensure that the needs of all children are met in San Bernardino County

The family focus group was approximately 75 minutes long. An EVALCORP staff member conducted the focus group session, while a second EVALCORP staff member took notes during the focus group. With permission from each of the focus group participants, the focus group session was recorded to verify the notes. Participation was voluntary, and focus group participants were given the option to decline to answer any question. The responses were coded for themes; for many questions, multiple themes were coded for each response.

Results

The focus group included four parents from three different cities in San Bernardino County:

- Victorville (n=2)
- Colton (n=1)
- Fontana (n=1)

Community Strengths

Focus groups participants were asked to describe the strengths of their community, including what they liked about living in their region and what services and resources were most helpful to their families. All focus group participants said that their community had excellent extracurricular activities, such as sports and afterschool programs for children. Participants (n=4) also mentioned that their community had many health and social service offerings, including domestic violence and sexual abuse resources, behavioral/mental health counseling, and speech therapy. Table 1 illustrates the top three responses with detailed examples.

“Having afterschool programs are really helpful.”

Table 1. Top 3 Community Strengths

Response	Examples
Extracurricular Activities (n=4)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Sports</li><li>• Afterschool programs</li></ul>
Health & Social Services (n=4)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Domestic violence and sexual abuse resources</li><li>• Behavioral/mental health counseling</li><li>• Speech therapy</li></ul>
Positive Neighborhood Characteristics (n=2)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Central location</li><li>• Calm, peaceful, quiet environment</li></ul>

“Speech therapy services are good and available.”

Community Needs & Barriers

Focus group participants were also asked to discuss potential opportunities for improvement in their community, including the needs of their families. All focus group participants said that the most prevalent need in their community was receiving help to afford basic needs, such as housing, utilities (including gas for vehicles), and food. Table 2 lists the top three community and family needs, with detailed examples, identified by the participants.

Table 2. Top 3 Community and Family Needs

Response	Examples
Affordability of Basic Needs (n=4)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• More affordable housing, utilities, and food</li><li>• More housing for specific populations (e.g., domestic violence victims including those with children, single fathers, and re-entry for former offenders)</li></ul>
Childcare (n=2)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• More affordable childcare</li><li>• More childcare availability</li><li>• More quality-rated childcare</li></ul>
Cost of Living/Employment (n=2)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• More assistance to help keep up with the rising costs of living</li><li>• More incentives for employers to hire parents with criminal backgrounds</li></ul>

When asked to describe what barriers exist to meeting their communities' and families' needs, all focus group participants said it was very difficult to access health and social services. Participants mentioned transportation issues, times of service offerings, and retrieving the vital records often needed to access health and social services as particularly large barriers in their communities. Table 3 lists the top three barriers to meeting community and family needs, with detailed examples.

"Parents don't know who to call when. They don't really know what is available or how to actually access it."

Table 3. Top 3 Barriers to Meeting Needs of Communities & Families

Response	Examples
Accessing Services (n=4)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• High cost of private transportation; lack of public transportation</li> <li>• Inconvenient times of service offerings</li> <li>• Retrieving vital records is challenging</li> </ul>
Knowledge & Navigation of Resources (n=2)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Lack of knowledge that a service or resource exists</li> <li>• Service or resource navigation is confusing or overwhelming</li> </ul>
System Coordination (n=1)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Lack of flexibility among the service systems' partners and contributors</li> </ul>

Successful Efforts to Prevent Child Abuse & Neglect

Focus group participants were asked to discuss the successful efforts that are working to prevent child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. The two initiatives described were Inland SoCal 2-1-1 and the early prevention efforts of San Bernardino County Children and Family Services (CFS). Participants described how Inland SoCal 2-1-1 was responsive and helpful in connecting parents to assistance with meeting basic needs. Focus group participants also described how CFS's voluntary assessment tries to keep the family unified by not removing the child. Table 4 lists the top two successful efforts, with additional detail, that are working to prevent child abuse and neglect.

Table 4. Top 2 Successful Efforts in Preventing Child Abuse and Neglect

Response	Examples
Inland SoCal 2-1-1 (n=1)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Very responsive to parents</li> <li>• Helps connect parents to assistance with rent, utility bills, and food insecurity</li> </ul>
CFS Early Prevention Efforts (n=1)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Voluntary assessment</li> <li>• Tries to keep the family unified by not removing the child</li> </ul>

Recommendations & Ideas to Prevent Child Abuse & Neglect

To wrap up the focus group discussion, participants were invited to describe any recommendations and ideas they may have to help prevent child abuse and neglect and to ensure that the needs of all children are met in San Bernardino County. All participants discussed how school-based efforts had the potential to positively impact many children countywide. Specifically, they said that having adults at school that create a safe environment for and are trusted by children is paramount. Many participants also said that increasing the communities' awareness of child abuse and neglect would help prevent it. Table 5 includes the top three recommendations and ideas for helping prevent child abuse and neglect, along with detailed examples.

“The community needs to look out for the children of the county by being more aware of their surroundings, paying attention, and being more involved when it comes to child safety.”

“Parents need to be more educated about the resources that are available to them. Get information to the parents on all of the resources, like who to call when you're feeling overwhelmed or stressed.”

Table 5. Top 3 Recommendations & Ideas to Prevent Child Abuse & Neglect

Response	Examples
Facilitating School-Based Efforts (n=4)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Create a school environment in which children feel safe</li> <li>• Have adults that are trusted by children</li> <li>• Encourage open communication between the school and families</li> </ul>
Increasing Community Awareness (n=3)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Urge community members to be aware and observant of child abuse and neglect signs</li> <li>• Encourage community to be more involved in children's safety</li> </ul>
Improving Knowledge & Navigation of Resources (n=1)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Improve parent education on available resources</li> </ul>

Summary of Key Findings

In support of the comprehensive needs assessment regarding the prevention of child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County, EVALCORP conducted a family focus group to better understand the current needs to support families and prevent child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County. A summary of key findings is presented below.

Community Strengths

Focus group participants described the strengths of their community, including what they liked about living there and what services and resources were most helpful to their families. The top three strengths described included:

- Extracurricular Activities (n=4)
- Health & Social Services (n=4)
- Positive Neighborhood Characteristics (n=2)

Community Needs & Barriers

Focus group participants detailed the opportunities for improvement in their community, including the needs of their families. The top three opportunities and needs detailed included:

- Affordability of Basic Needs (n=4)
- Childcare (n=2)
- Cost of Living/Employment (n=2)

Next, the participants described the existing barriers to meeting their communities' and families' needs. The top three barriers described included:

- Accessing Services (n=4)
- Knowledge & Navigation of Resources (n=2)
- System Coordination (n=1)

Successful Efforts to Prevent Child Abuse & Neglect

Successful efforts in preventing child abuse and neglect in San Bernardino County were also identified. These efforts included:

- Inland SoCal 2-1-1 (n=1)
- CFS Early Prevention Efforts (n=1)

Recommendations & Ideas to Prevent Child Abuse & Neglect

To wrap up the family focus group discussion, participants provided recommendations and ideas to help prevent child abuse and neglect and to ensure that the needs of all children are met in San Bernardino County. The top three recommendations and ideas included:

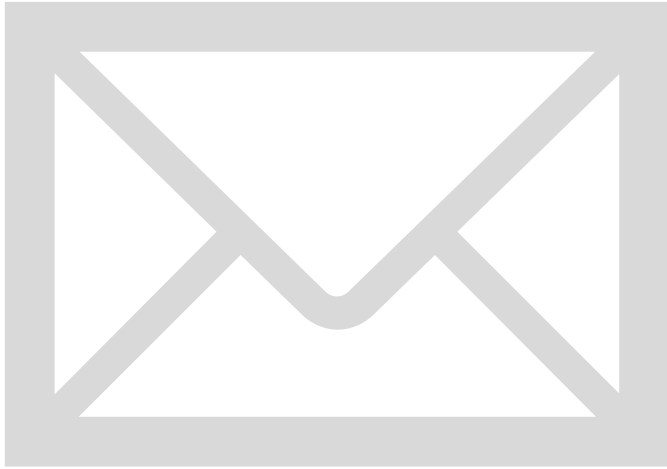

- Facilitating School-Based Efforts (n=4)
- Increasing Community Awareness (n=3)
- Improving Knowledge & Navigation of Resources (n=1)

Pervasive Problems for CBO's

- Geography
- Transportation
- Funding
- Lack of Resources
- Training and Education
- Workforce Stability
- Language Barriers

Common Barriers Among Services

Primary Services

- » Immigration status of families causing reluctance
- » Limited availability for services – Not enough resources
- » Some resources are not individualized to needs (e.g. food pantries not providing culturally appropriate food)
- » Lack of available shelters

- » Secondary Services not out in the mountain or desert regions
- » Limited availability from providers – Hours of operations providing limitations
- » Technology barriers
- » Waitlists

Tertiary Services

- » Waitlists
- » Families falling through the cracks
- » Delays in referral processes
- » Qualifications (ex. Aging out)
- » Paperwork – No standardized forms

Secondary Services

What is Clearly Missing from the Services

Primary Services

---

- More options for Community Housing
- Immigration services – Spanish-speaking services
- More resources and support for parents
- Family support groups for the LGBTQIA+ communities, Hispanic communities, etc,
- Communication in other languages – including ASL to include the deaf community
- Interagency collaboration
- Collective sharing

Secondary Services

---

- More field-based services
- Limited confidentiality locations – Offer Mobile Services
- Emergency shelters for youth
- Substance abuse services for youth
- Disability/Mental Health services
- Interim Crisis Locations for youth
- Clinically Informed wraparound

Tertiary Services

---

- More foster homes
- Trauma-focused services
- Specialized services – LGBTQIA+, Trans and Non-Binary, etc.
- Specific Trauma informed training – ex. EMDR (Eye movement desensitization and reprocessing therapy)

Strengths for CBO's

- Strong Connection and Collaboration
- Passionate and Dedicated Staff
- Being able to keep up with the changes
- Partnerships made with agencies that work with the LGBTQIA+ community
- Warm Hand-offs

Weaknesses for CBO's

- Tracking – Hard to track if a connection was made.
  - Lack of sharing information between county and providers
- Limited resources for the LGBTQIA+ community
- High turnover due to burnout
- Hard to accept Medi-Cal to bill providers

Ideas Received from the Focus Groups for Improvement

- Build trust within the community
- Improve on marketing – Use social media
- Database with County resources
- Expand on wraparound
- Education to be better informed on the LGBTQIA+ community and services
- Old hotels turned into rooms for the unhoused – more shelters and safe spaces
- Expand on specialized Homeless Shelters – ex. For single-mothers, couples, and the elderly

More Ideas for Improvement

- Cross-County collaboration
- Hold a summit or form an Alliance to stay updated and informed on programs and services in the community
  - A conference per year with workshops, educational programs, and access to primary services.
  - Community Fairs – Education for providers and community
- Opportunities to look at broader childcare and development programs to provide further help
- Catching signs at an earlier stage of life
- Earlier support with mental health issues
- Specialized services for adults who are suicidal or at-risk

No Wrong Door Approach

There is no wrong approach for families to come to our attention

CWS Community Pathway

If a Hotline Worker evaluates out a referral to a CBO with no Child Welfare involvement, the worker can still determine that the family is in need of EBPs outlined in the State Plan to safely remain in the home.

Benefits of Preventive CFTM's

Data for Secondary Preventive CFTM's

(Data excludes children with cases opened on the same day as the CFTM or children in FM cases when the CFTM is held)

Preliminary data currently reflects that families receiving a preventive CFTM may be less likely to have a case open.

From 2018 to 2021, on average, 9.1% of children had a Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of the preventive CFTM and 90.9% of children with a preventive referral did not have a Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of the preventive referral.

Children with no Child Welfare case opened for them within 12 months of preventive CFTM (2018-2021) listed by ethnicity:

- 84.2% of Asian/Pacific Islander Children (32 out of 38 children)
- 83.8% of African American/Black Children (256 out of 295 children)
- 92.6% of Hispanic/Latino Children (855 out of 923 children)
- 100% of Native American/Alaskan Native Children (12 children)
- 88.9% of Caucasian/White Children (343 out of 386 children)
- 98.5% of Unknown Ethnicity Children (67 out of 68 children)

Common Issues/Repeated Themes

Primary Services

- » Lack of funding
- » Staffing Issues – Short Staffed
- » Cost of services are too high
- » Social workers are overwhelmed

Secondary Services

- » Not enough services – Especially youth services.
- » Mandated reporters – Kids don't feel safe talking
- » Not enough funding
- » Wait times
- » No revolving class start time
- » No resources
- » To receive the services, families need to jump through a lot of hoops

Tertiary Services

- » Shortage on housing and beds.
- » Waitlists are long.
- » Nothing is being done for kids that are not in the system.

What is missing and needed?

Primary Services

- More resources for youth, i.e. outside activities, gathering spaces, etc.
- Community isn't being built with kids in mind. There needs to be more outlets provided to them to help keep them out of trouble.
- Not enough beds, treatment programs, or human trafficking resources.
- Parents don't have resources to find housing.
- The waiting period for program entry is too long.
- Therapy accessibility – Open to more of the community. Currently in order to get therapy, you must be financially stable.
- Less restrictions to receive services. Ex. to get the client help, they either need to have an open case or mental health diagnosis.
- Family strengthening programs.
- Mental health therapy – There are no classes.
- Resources for sex trafficking.

Secondary Services

---

- More youth services are needed in the Mountain/Desert Region.
- More groups and services are needed for the 16-25 age group.
- Substance abuse services for youth.
- Harm reduction approach.
- Suicide prevention services.
- Classes for kids that match some that adults take.
- 24-hour hotline.

Tertiary Services

---

- More beds are needed.
- More group homes.
- Substance Abuse services for youth.

Strengths/ Weaknesses of Primary Services

Strengths:

- Services are great when able to provide hotline calls to youth and parents.
- Housing for multi-age people.
- Multiple programs within one agency.
- Networking between agencies.
- Using the marijuana money to do presentation services.
- Being able to provide these services and networking.

Weaknesses:

- Slow to get referrals.
- When we work with people in the system, there are long waits.
- Youth age out without a plan for them and the kids give up.
- Not enough community awareness since it's not being talked about in the community enough.
- The waitlist can feel like a waiting game.
- Lack of resources.

Strengths/ Weaknesses of Secondary Services

Strengths:

- There are a lot of services with variances to them.
- A wide array of services to cater to specific needs. ex. if they want Faith-Based or drug groups specific to certain substances.

Weaknesses:

- It is required to go to court to get parenting classes.
- People must go through the court system, the reporting side of it prevents kids from getting help. There is no transparency between the legal sides.
- Waiting times.
- There is no space or beds.
- If they do not have IEHP, they cannot afford services.
- CBO's do not want to report every detail to social workers or probation officers. They will withhold information or lie if they feel the child might be sent to juvenile hall.
- Contracts from the county aren't relevant to what the client needs, there is no after care, no true wrap around services, and there are limits to services that are provided.

Strengths/ Weaknesses of Tertiary Services

Strengths:

- Wraparound Services have a high-risk 24-hour support group.

Weaknesses:

- People sometimes do not have the services and resources needed.
- There is no aftercare or long-term programs.
- There is a lack of time although kids need more time with people helping them.
- People being served don't want to be in the system, so they will sometimes lie in order to not be accepted, or to get out.

Ideas Received from the Focus Groups for Improvement

- Covenant House in Oakland has a facility that was initially an office building. The first floor is filled with offices, but floors 2-6 are for housing transitional youth. The amenities include:
  - Food
  - In-house classes
  - Life skills classes
  - Libraries
  - Job placement services
  - “Office closet” for job interviews
- Social workers don’t have the curriculum.
- CBT classes.
- Domestic Violence Support Groups.
- Life skills classes could be offered more.
- Social Workers need better education to offer programs.

Primary
Services

Ideas Received from the Focus Groups for Improvement

- Provide more services and resources.
- Suicide prevention services.
- In Los Angeles, the LGBTQ+ center has great mental health services and people can stay there for as long as they need depending on their needs. Services include:
  - Immediate crisis intervention
  - Long term residential treatment
  - Follow up care
- Funding and wraparound programs.
- Increasing financial support.

Secondary
Services

Ideas Received from the Focus Groups for Improvement

- Building aftercare services.
- Think more about outcomes rather than outputs.
- Have a program for all levels of risk regardless of risk level, everyone needs it.
- Have food nutritional programs for those not in the system.
- Provide mental health services for those not in the system.

Tertiary

Lived Experience Focus Group Feedback

VFM – Parents

- DH
- RC

Experiences:

- RC – Moved from Kern County to San Diego to finally San Bernardino County. Was looking for a place to stay for DV victims with children. Ended up at Option House – stayed until October, and had an amazing experience there – found through 211. Currently in Transitional housing – Family Assistance.
  - Was also pregnant and using substances, ended up testing positive after giving birth, and 3 children were removed. Took a few months to get clean. No one helped provide resources or the necessary classes to take before court. Felt like she was viewed “like anyone else” and felt like she was not heard or seen.
  - All the classes that she took, she sought out on her own. Any resources provided to her; she had already enrolled. There was about a 2–3-month gap from when she enrolled, and the worker provided her with resources.
  - Feels that due to the removal, she lost her bond with the youngest, sees the pain in the oldest and that pain she sees is what drives her to stay clean, and out of Kern.
  - At Parent Partner, felt that the foster parent was close friends (almost like family) to her case worker, and she did not feel comfortable expressing concerns about the foster parent even though she had them. Conflict of interest.
  - Provided family names for placement of children, but the worker did not even consider the family until the children got hurt while in foster care.
- DH – Had no prior problems, no drugs or drinking. Lived in Florida, and caught her husband cheating. Divorced, packed the kids up, and moved back to San Bernardino. Ended up getting back into touch with old friends, started drinking heavily, and ended up doing meth. Life spiraled in less than one year. Always made sure the kids were fed, clothed, and educated with a roof over their heads. The Father of the children called for a welfare check, and due to her paranoia, did not answer the door for the 2nd visit. Cops came back with a warrant and an arrest for child abandonment – since they saw the children but no signs of the mother. The kids were then taken, put in foster care for a few months, and then sent to Florida to live with the father.
  - Mother felt like she was given no chance, it did not have to go down the way it did. She was not provided with any resources, or help – was not given a chance to fight for the kids. Wishes they provided her rehabilitation services instead of taking the children. Even after getting clean – in one year – she was not given the chance to see her kids.
  - Would have seen that this is a first-time problem – would have accepted help.
  - Moved to CA in the summer of 2004, started drinking in 2005, and everything happened between 2005-2006.

Areas for Improvement:

- Lack of communicating and providing resources / Lack of transparency – gap in between communications.
- No help, or support. – Being treated like a monster instead of a human. Did not even look at them as a person or the situation. No support, guidance, or motivation from the social workers.

Lived Experience Focus Group Feedback

- Better support from the case workers. Being treated like a human and be given help and motivation to be better.
- Better communication – felt out of the loop and was not provided support resources in a timely manner. Better relationships between social workers and the community.
- Work more with parents – support and motivate them to get their children back / or to keep children in their care.
- Presented a better understanding of what resources were available to them.

Strengths:

- Option House – provided the support needed to seek help. Provided classes for substance abuse, parenting, anger management, relapse, stress groups, and DV to name a few.

Additional Feedback:

- More support groups for parents
  - Look at the circumstances for the person. (Repeat offender, one-time mistake)

NMD – Children

- XV
- JD1
- JD2

Experiences:

- JD1 / JD2 – In foster care for about 3-4 months. Children were separated from each other, which ended up causing long-lasting mental health trauma. Wishes CPS/CFS worked with their mom instead of pulling them away and sending them to Florida.
  - Foster parent lacked empathy for them although they were only 5-6 years old.
- XV – Was in the system for as long as she can remember. Juvenile Hall exposed her to bad influences – which made things worse.

Areas for Improvement:

- Was not aware of the resources or education opportunities that were available.
- The stigma of foster kids being bad – it's most likely unhealed trauma.
- Not enough resources for homelessness – not enough support.
- Hard to connect with social workers. Workers would change often.
- Hard for parents to get their children back.
- Disconnect between police and foster care + parents.
- Biases based on charts – social workers can sometimes avoid a child based on their charts (ex. Violent child will be ignored because the social worker is afraid of the child)
- Early support and care.

Lived Experience Focus Group Feedback

- More transparency and communication
- Presented a better understanding of what resources were available to them.
- More resources at their homes – provide the necessary tools to help children obtain their GEDs.
- Access to hobbies, sports, trade schools, or special programs.
- Addiction Services for the youth
- Program for the current youth in foster care (or EFC) to inform current social workers about their experiences to improve on the social worker side.
- Foster Care Coach / Mentor – not associated with CFS, not paid per child, but to support, motivate and help the children. The kids in the system do not trust those who have never been in the system – open the door to trust.
- Change the discussion regarding mental health and medications that go with treatment.
- Improve group homes for youth – they do not know how to work with the youth. Ex. Placing juvenile sex offenders next to the young girl's unit.

Strengths:

- When one of the NMDs finally was assigned a social worker who cared, listened, and provided actual help.
- Children and families can tell when a social worker is truly invested and when they are going through the motions. Social workers that were truly invested made a positive difference in the lives of children and families.

Additional Feedback:

- An allowance for clothes, food, and supplies instead of a check to the foster parent – to avoid the foster parent taking the money for themselves.
- Implement a day for the mayor and/or government officials to listen to the foster kids.
- Increase community outreach.
- Schools to do more regarding drug prevention. They will talk about how bad they are but do nothing to prevent or stop kids from using them.
- More help for life after foster care – resources and services
- Personality Tests for both foster children and foster parents. – Help place the child in a suitable and possibly familiar setting. – Help provide the best support and care, especially for long term foster cases.

Prevention Feedback

- Genuine excitement and optimism for the introduction of Community Pathways
- Loved the proposed shift from mandatory reporting to mandatory supporting
- One of the NMDs, JD2, is part of the San Bernardino County Foster Youth Advisory Board and would like to get another focus group scheduled with them
- The NMDs are interested in participating in implementation through serving on a community pathways advisory board and potentially participating in implementation workgroups
- Excitement for being able to receive services without formal involvement with CFS or Probation
- Parent Partners and Youth Mentors for Prevention would be beneficial
